'Rambling In Clay'

By Mrs. Neal R. Kitchens

The Sheriff and I were delighted to hear that a former Clay Patrolman and a good friend, Bud Ensley, has been chosen as chieftain for Governor-elect Dan K. Moore. We feel that Governor Moore could not have found a better man for the job. Bud is a conscientious, friendly, courteous and will be a fine man to have around the Capitol building in Raleigh.

Congratulations, and best wishes, Bud!

Silvey Penland says it pays to use the classified ads in the Clay Progress and Cherokee Scout. He uses it quite often and says every time he has put an ad in it he has sold a stove or appliance of some type. I hear a lot of our people say they wait for the paper to come out on Thursday to check the B & T ad before buying groceries. They wait to check the bargains. Advertising pays in any business.

Heard Mrs. Alma Swain, Morris Spivey and Frank Swanson say they were well pleased with their tobacco sales this year. Tobacco is one of the best cash crops in Clay. It means a lot of hard work, but it is always good to know the crops were profitable.

Hadn't seen Ron Scroggs of the Shooting Creek section for several months. He stopped in one day last week. He leaned up against one of the desks. He says the modern generation is killing themselves with the food they eat. Mostly sand-wiches and rich foods. . . just too many knick-nacks. About that time Fred Green came in.

Ron reached in his pocket, pulled out a twist of homemade tobacco and cut off enough for about a half-dozen chews.

Ron said: "Fred, I set out 140 plants, three different times this spring and never got but three to live. Shuford Scroggs gave me this twist.

They both had a good chuckle over the way they learned to mix the sweet tobacco with the strong twist when they were little boys together.

Ron got back to the subject of food again. He said he liked ham, pickled beans, kraut and stuff that would stick to a man's ribs. He trundled out of the office.

I believed him for he surely didn't look like a man that is undernourished.

The Clay County employees at the court house decided not to draw names this year and exchange gifts, but to combine the amount they would spend and add some extra to give to home was recently burned. This little gift is given with the true Christmas spirit.

It is a real joy to see the way the little faces light up now at the mention of Santa Claus. It is a magic word and never fails to bring a smile. Till this day one of my cherished childhood memories is waking up on Christmas morning and seeing a beautiful china doll peeking from the top of my stocking. There was a bit fire roaring up the chimney and I tip-toed in to see what Santa had brought us.

The dolls at that time were china and if they were dropped it meant they were smashed. They came fastened to the box and many little girls cherished them so much, they never untied them from the box. They just raised the lid and looked at them. I played with mine but was careful.

Engagement Announced

HAYESVILLE - The engagement of Miss Patti Diane Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Davis of Winlock, Wash., to Cecil E. Williams, also of Winlock, was announced at a party in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Davis' wedding anniversary recently. Miss Davis is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Parker and Mrs. Lena Patterson, all of Hayesville.

The regular meeting of the WSCS was held at the parsonage for the Ledford's Chapel Church last night.

A Christmas program and a Christmas treat will be held at this church Wednesday, Dec. 23, at 7:30 p.m.

A team of Pioneers For Christ, a personal witnessing team from Lee College, will be visiting the Hayesville Church of God this week. They will be conducting a revival by door to door personal witnessing and holding services at the church each night.

The first service will be held at the Tusquitee Church of God, Friday, Dec. 12, for Hayesville District Fellowship meeting. All other services will be at the Hayesville Church of God beginning nightly at 7:30 p.m. Every one is invited to attend.

The Willing Workers of the Tusquitee Church of God gave a shower for Mr. and Mrs. Paul Parker Saturday from 1:00 to 4:00 p.m. at the parsonage. The Parker home was recently burned. They received many nice, useful gifts.

Mrs. Chub Wilhite and Mrs. C. L. Smith visited Mrs. Maggie Moore and Mrs. Cress Moss Sunday.

Rev. Burline Thomason and family were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ledford. They visited Mr. and Mrs. Arvil Ledford and Mrs. Albert Derochie Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Derochie was seriously injured in an accident some time ago. She is still unable to walk.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Moore and daughters spent Sunday p.m. with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Moore at Tusquitee.

McGlamery Attends Dinner Meeting

HAYESVILLE - Wiley A. McGlamery, elected to the State House of Representatives November 3, recently attended a meeting at Western Carolina College, Cullowhee, where Governor elect Dan K. Moore, the Board of Trustees of Western Carolina College and other members of the House of Representatives and Senate were entertained at a dinner meeting.

President Paul Reid cited the needs of an extended building program at the college in order to take care of the increase of college applicants.

After the dinner, the representatives held a meeting to discuss the most important needs of the coming legislature. The group listed roads, education and finance in the top category.

McGlamery attended another meeting at Lake Logan Saturday night. Western North Carolina will not be forgotten in key committee assignments of the 1965 General Assembly, Lt. Governor - elect Robert Scott and Anson County Representative Pat Taylor promised. Scott and Taylor are the next presiding officers of the State House and Senate.

Scott, who as Lt. Governor will preside over the Senate, told the group that the western part of the state would receive fair representation in the assignments.

Scott expressed appreciation for the big majority given him in the western counties in the November 3 election. He credited Cherokee County with giving him the largest percentage majority of any county in the state. He received an 82% vote in Cherokee County.

Others from this area who attended included Senator Frank Forsyth, Mrs. Mary Faye Brumby of Cherokee County, and W. V. Cooper of Graham County.
