'Rambling In Clay'

By: Mrs. Neal R. Kitchens

Heard Gilbert Eller of the Scrugetown section say "If you don't want to sell your land now, you better offer it, or talk trading."

Seems that he had a nice spot of woodland with a stream and a spring he mentioned selling and before he had time to back out of the trade, a man took him up on the deal.

As a result, Mr. Eller is having to change his heating system. He put his wood circulator in the "For Sale" ad column this week. Said he would now have to buy a coal heater for he had no wood after selling his property.

Seems that we have all become so tax conscious these days, that we expect to be taxed on every hand. Recently, Ed Davenport came by to pay his tax and with all sincerity in the world, asked if there was a sales tax on his property tax. Had another taxpayer to ask if there was any excise tax to pay on his.

By the end of January, when I finished getting out tax reports and annual jail reports to the State and Federal Government, I took a look at my husband's tax numbers and realized he had been assigned the following: 56-0479314, 24-22-008, 32-022-85, 22-000009-08, 56-0479314 A (Agriculture), 603-1-002-003 79. By the time I finished the reports on all the whole business, I was in such a daze that I wondered how I ever kept them separate.

Seems to me that for the future generation if the State and Federal numbers could be applied for in advance there would be no need to name the youngens at birth, just give them a number, it would save a lot of brain racking when reporting time comes.

Miss Sophronia Bramblett stopped in Monday. Her hearing isn't too good now, she limps badly as she walks and has some speech defect, but has a wonderful outlook on life. As she stood by the desk her clear blue eyes brightened up as she said, "But the Lord has been so good to me. He has blessed me in so many ways. We are not appreciative enough for all the good things he has given us. We have had no bad storms, no floods nor any of the terrible things the people have endured in other places." It is refreshing to hear an older lady like her who lives alone, express her lovely thoughts.

Many people in the County are confused by the tax procedure. Each year when the new tax books are made up and come to Neal R. Kitchens Tax Collectors Office in October, the old tax books are audited and the tax settlement is made in full for all collected tax.

These tax books then go to Gray and Carter, the Delinquent Tax Collectors.

With Gray and Carter sending out the delinquent notices and notice of foreclosure, a good number of taxpayers have come to the Sheriff's Office to pay delinquent tax of mailed checks to Neal R. Kitchens Tax Collector. For all delinquent tax, the settlement has to be made at Gray and Carter's office.

Neal R. Kitchens, Sheriff and Tax Collector, only holds the tax books for the current year. Even though it is

Sgt. and Mrs. James C. Moss and son, Michael, are visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wade Moss in the Shooting Creek section. Sgt. Moss has been stationed in Berlin, Germany, with the U. S. Army for the past four years. He married the former Miss Brigitte Jeschke of Berlin. After spending sometime with his parents, the Moss family, will leave for Seattle, Washington where Sgt. Moss will be stationed.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hedden of Chattanooga, Tenn., spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Norman Alexander and Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Rogers and also visited other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Martin of Marietta, Ga., visited Mr. and Mrs. Henry Martin at Qualla during the weekend.

Miss Sandra Cooke and Miss Norma Wadsworth of Atlanta, spent the weekend with Sandra's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Cooke.

Mr. and Mrs. George Martin and Linda visited MR. AND Mrs. Harold Norton Sunday.

county tax, there are two departments, one for the current collector and one for the delinquent collector.

Noticed the Jimmy Johnsons, Tom Swanson's, the Wimpey's and Willis Moore are among the many people in Clay who have been pruning their trees around their homes. Really makes their homes look nice.

I haven't attempted any of that; but armed with a pair of pruning shears about a foot and a half long, I lit in on our shrubbery.

Having let it go for about six years, it looked like a bunch of undisciplined children - just plain wild.

I started with the Arborvitae which had reached the mammoth stage. I whacked on one side and then on the other trying to round them up. Some how I seemed to keep getting them lop-sided and just kept whacking. When I completed them, they had undergone a drastic change. From mammoth, they went to miniature.

After a little rest, I then started on the Pfitzer Junipers. Had I been very smart I would have at least put on some gloves, since these shrubs have so many jaggers, and were much harder to trim. As I whacked up and down, across the front and the back somehow more limbs kept cropping out to make them uneven. After about an hour on these, I stopped to pick the jaggers out of my hands, use some lotion and hunt up a pair of gloves.

After three or four evenings of pruning, I stood back to survey my work. Do you know what these shrubs reminded me of? A little boy who had just had his first haircut, shaggy, but well shorn. I decided that shrubs are like children, if let go too long with out attention they're hard to bring in line.

Feb. 7-14 Makes 55 Years Of Scouting In United States

By Sam Austin

This week we are honoring the birthday of Scouting in the United States. Scouting was first visioned by Robert Baden - Powell at the close of the 19th century. The movement actually began in 1908 in Great Britain, following the printing of his popular book, "Scouting for Boys."

Scouting spread first to Chile in 1909, and then to the United States in 1910, being organized on February 8. It was introduced in this country by a publisher in Chicago, William D. Boyce. The movement was granted a federal charter by congress in 1916. Even at its beginning, communities and their leaders saw the needs for such a movement among their youth, and envisioned the part Scouting could play in producing fine young men of good character, patriots of their country, with a sense of the true brotherhood of men.

This was to be accomplished by the high ideas of Scouting, by which a boy must strive to live - the Scout Oath and Scout Law: "On my honor I will do my best to do my duty to God and my country and to obey the Scout Law; to help other people at all times; to keep myself physically strong, mentally awake, and morally straight." "A Scout is trustworthy, loyal, helpful, friendly, courteous, kind, obedient, cheerful, thrifty, brave, clean, and reverent." To these were added the Scout motto, "Be prepared", and the Scout slogan, "Do a good turn daily."

Scouting has made tremendous progress since those early years. This has been made possible by interested communities and civic minded citizens willing to give of their time and effort for the good of their youth and their country. The total world membership in 1958 was about 8 1/2 million. In 1959 membership in the Boy Scouts of America numbered over 5 million, with about 1/5 of the membership adult leaders in 129,097 units.

Progress has also been made in the Nantahala District, made up of the counties of Cherokee, Clay, and Graham. This was particularly true in the advancement program during the year 1964. There were four courts of honor held with approximately 550 people attending (Scouts, family, and friends). Approximately 150 awards of rank and merit badges were awarded at that time.

Why was this progress possible? The answer lies in the interest and backing Scouting received from communities and community leaders. A good example of this is pictured above. Troop 407 of Hayesville was in need of a U. S. flag and unable to buy one. The troop approached 'Buck' Martin, commander of the VFW Post to see if they could consider this request as a project. Mr. Martin presented the project to the VFW who voted to adopt the project. They purchased a beautiful flag with stand and presented it to Troop 407 at a meeting of the VFW Post.

This is one of the many reasons behind the progress Scouting has made and will make in our district. Scouting urges the communities of the district to come and learn more about us, and help Scouting to help you. The next district court of honor will be held February 18, at 7:30 p. m. in the First Methodist Church in Murphy.
