EARTHLING "SPACE" RACE — Today's logger and general woodcutter now finds his sawing projects reduced to hip-pocket size.

Nestled with this timberman's bandanna is a power chain saw, claimed by McCulloch Corporation, the manufacturer, to be the lightest weight and smallest sized, high-powered chain saw in the world.

Weighing only 10 1/2 lbs. without bar and chain, the extremely portable power tool will reduce a weekend of wearying woodchopping to no more than a few hours of satisfying outdoors activity.

Good-bye, pocket knives!
