

Our Purpose

ANDREWS - Mrs. John Whisenunt wrote the following poem to be sent to the 59th annual Session of the Grand Temple of Wyoming, Pythian Sisters of which she is past grandchief of State of Wyoming.

OUR PURPOSE
To be a little kinder,
With the passing of each day,
To leave by happy memories,
As we go along our way.

To use possessions that are ours,
In service full and free,
To sacrifice the trivial things,
For larger good to be;

To give of love in lavish ways,
That our friendship ture may live,
To be less quick to criticize,
More ready to forgive;

To use such talents as we have,
That happiness may grow;
To take the bitter with the sweet,
Assured 'tis better so;

To be quite free from self interest,
Whatever the tasks we do;
To help the worlds faith stronger grow,
In all that's good and true

God grand to us the strength of heart,
Of motive and of will
To do our part and falter not,
Our purpose to fulfill.

Cherokee County Recorder's Court

State vs James Clifford Rogers, The defendant pleads guilty to operating a motor vehicle upon the public highways while under the influence of intoxicating liquors. After hearing the evidence the jury finds the defendant not guilty. Let the defendant be discharged.

State vs- Ronnie McInturff The defendant pleads not guilty to reckless driving and speeding, but guilty to leaving the scene of an accident without making a proper report to the police officer. After hearing the evidence the court finds it insufficient to convict the defendant on the charges of reckless driving and speeding. On the charge of leaving the scene of an accident it is the judgment of the court that the defendant be confined in the common jail of Cherokee County for a period of three months and assigned to do work under the supervision of the State Prison Department, and pay the cost of this action. The prison sentence is suspended with the consent of the defendant given in open court for a period of one year on the following conditions: (1) That the defendant pay the cost at this time. (2) That the defendant not drive a motor vehicle upon the public highways of the state for a period of four months. (3) That the defendant not violate any of the laws of the state or federal government. The defendant will turn his drivers license over to the clerk of this court and may receive them back at the end of the four months period.

State vs- Benjamin Franklin Crisp. The defendant pleads not guilty to failure to yield right of way to oncoming traffic. After hearing the evidence the court finds the defendant guilty as charged. It is the judgment of the court that the defendant pay the cost.

State vs- Juna Leroy Cooke The defendant pleads guilty to operating a motor vehicle upon the public highways while under the influence of intoxicating liquors. It is the judgment of the court that the defendant pay a fine of $100.00 and the cost of the action. The defendant will turn his drivers license into the Clerk of the Court to be forwarded to the department of motor vehicles as required by law.

State vs- James Roberson Continued until the next session of jury trials.

State vs- Henry Lee Need, Continued until the next session of jury trials, on February 14.

State vs- J. D. Trout, Jr. Continued for the defendant until his federal probation expires on the representation of the court that the defendant will at that time plead guilty to the charge through his counsel Herman Edwards.

Rev. Pearce Named Co. Representative To Service Program

ANDREWS--Reverend Arthur J. Pearce, pastor of First Methodist Church, has been named Cherokee County representative for the Blue Ridge Methodist Service Program. This week, this program is providing 100 pairs of new shoes free, to the needy school children of the county. Distribution has been implemented through Mrs. James Bryson, the county attendance counselor, working with the principals and teachers.

Reverend Arthur B. Pearce Sr. father of the Andrews pastor, is the founder of this program and is serving as executive secretary and also serving as advisor to an executive committee in an executive capacity. The Rev. Pearce is pastor of Pisgah Methodist Church in the Statesville District. This program represents the chief source of clothing and shoes for 1,200 families in the North Wilkesboro District.

The Board of Lay Activities of the Western N. C. Methodist Conference has officially taken charge of the Blue Ridge Methodist Service, and will support the non-profit organization through 16,000 members of 440 Methodist Men clubs and will expand its assistance to families locked in poverty across the 44 western counties of North Carolina.

The Blue Ridge Service Program operates in cooperation with welfare departments. Presently the program operates four clothing stores in the North Wilkesboro District. Clothing contributions to the program are hauled free by two dozen trucking companies to collection headquarters in Statesville, at 639 Margaret Drive.

The clothing is placed in the store where it is given away or sold at below rummage sale prices, depending on whether the people can pay. Persons are referred to the stores by welfare department, clergymen or other civic officials. A clothing form indicates needs in the family. This program serves people regardless of race or creed.

Families are limited to five dollars worth of clothing plus an additional dollar's worth for each child-whether the clothing is given away or sold, on the average, 16 pieces of clothing are given away or sold for each dollar of income recorded.

Mrs. S. J. Gernert presented a program, "Automation and Leisure" to members of Circle 1 of W.S.C.S. of First Methodist Church at the home of Mrs. John Christy on Wednesday afternoon at 3 p.m. In giving the program, Mrs. Gernert explored some of the present occupational, psychological and social members of Woman's Societies and Wesleyan Service Guilds to be aware of the situations that face them, and to help them plan and work with agencies in areas where they can serve best. She discussed the spiritual implications of living in the age of automation.

Mrs. Paul Jordan, president, presided. A devotional, using scripture taken from Luke, 24th chapter, was given by Mrs. Ray Matheson.

Mrs. Roy Williams, treasurer, reported a total of $88.50 and read a letter concerning memorial gifts to Missions.

Mrs. Edwin Barlowe, student at Pfeiffer College, Meisenheimer, will return to school Friday following a visit with parents, Mr. and Mrs. Grady Barlowe. Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Barlowe and son, Roger of Nabasset, Mass. who have spent two weeks with parents, also, have returned home.
