Republicans Take 4 Constable Races

Final returns show that four Republicans and two Democrats were elected constables in Cherokee County in last week's election. The closest race occured in Mur-Township where Republican Ralph J. Rayfield edged Democrat Will Rogers by 32 votes. Rayfield received 1,400 votes and Rogers tallied 1,368.

Posey Garrett polled 251 votes to defeat Democrat Jess W. Hamby in Shoal Creek Township. Hamby had 184

Two Republicans were elected unopposed. Lessard Radford received 145 votes in Beaverdam Township and Virgil Hogsed got 257 votes in Hot House Township.

Democrat Gary P. Kilpatrick defeated Republican Raymond Tanner in Notla Township. 338-228.

Harold Parker won in Valley town Township with 1,019 votes to 768 for his Republican challenger, N.L. Adams.

Democrats Assured Of Commissioner Control

By Dave Bruce

While the voters of Cherokee County selected three Republicans and three Democrats for County Commissioner in last week's elections, in effect, a 4-3 Democratic majority was elected.

This seems to be the almost certain result because of S.B. 513, a law that gained final passage in the General Assembly on June 10, 1965 and a bill that applies only to Cherokee

S.B. 513 is the bill that provides for expanding the Board of Commissioners to six members and lists the three districts in the county which shall elect two members apiece. After last week's results were known, people began wondering how a chairman would be determined with three seats going to each party. Section four of the bill states that the Commissioners shall elect a chairman at their first meeting after the election and 'in the event of a tie vote for chairman, then each commissioner shall cast for chairman a number of votes equal in number to the total votes cast for all candidates for commissioner in his district in the general election."

This means that in the event of a tie, W.T. Moore and Carlyle Matheson will each cast 3,658 votes, Andrew Barton and Ray Sims will each cast 5,963 votes and Luther Dockery and Jack Simonds will each cast 3,211 according to the unofficial returns. Democrats Moore, Barton and Sims will cast a total of 15,584 votes and Republicans

Matheson, Dockery and Simonds will cast a total of 10,080 votes. Thus, if party lines are followed, a Democrat is certain to be elected chairman.

Section five assured control by the party of the chairman by giving him two votes in case of a tie.

It says that in the event of a tie vote on any matter before the Commissioners, "the chairman shall cast an extra vote to resolve the deadlock."

Another section of the bill states that any laws in conflict-with it are not applicable to Cherokee County. This means that this county is removed from the one-man, one-vote ruling of the U.S. Supreme Court. Other North Carolina counties either had to elect their commissioners at large or in districts of equal population.

The three districts are not equal here. District Two contains almost twice as many voters as District One or District three.
