Cherokee County Extension News

Cherokee County livestock producers have the finest bulls in the Southeast available to them. They are as near as their telephone. Mr. Rodney Higdon of Andrews has recently completed the American Breeder Service course for artificial inseminators and has semen available from the finest bulls the services has. Mr. Higdon has semen available for all breeds of dairy and beef cattle. Anyone desiring to breed their cattle artificially may call Mr. Higdon at 321-4903. If unable to reach Mr. Higdon, messages may be left at the County Agents office, 837-2210. Owners of small beef herds and dairy herds should find this service particularly attractive because of: (1) Ease of up-grading herd and (2) no bull cost or up keep.

Jack Frauson, Executive Director, Four Square Community Action, was the guest speaker at the Tomotla Community Club pot luck supper meeting Thursday night, April 13. Mr. Frauson told the 75 men, women and children present that their chance for a grant to improve their community building, build a tennis court and for other recreation facilities was very good. Mr. Frauson said they had a chance to get this money through the Department of Housing and Urban Development or Land and Water Conservation Fund act. Mr. S.J. Gernert, has agreed to work with the Tomotla recreation committee on this project, and has already made several contacts concerning this. One has been with Mr. James E. Stone, Associate Coordinator with the State of North Carolina and another with Mr. Charles S. Edwards, EDA North Carolina Coordinator, Raleigh, N.C. After Mr. Frauson finished with his part of the program, Mr. Robert Rogers showed slides of the Christmas Parade portraying Tomotla's float "Wheel of Progress" which everyone enjoyed.

HEALTH AND BEAUTY
We have been told that it is fight a battle each night after the light is turned out, thinking what they should have said but didn't. This is not constructive thinking. We are told that everyone suffers from this mental pattern to some extent. Perhaps you can console yourself with the fact that many of the world's outstanding people have this problem in common with you.
Many skin troubles have their basis in the emotions. The push, hurry and rush of modern life all add to our mental problems. Tension robs your complexion of valuable material oils that help retard the aging process of the skin.
All things considered, one of the most valuable gifts you can give your family is a healthy mental outlook. Without this, it is impossible to enjoy life.

ABOUT YOUR HOME
If you live in a section of the country where the humidity is high you are, no doubt, troubled with mold. This can be a very serious problem. However, there are a number of tricks whereby you can beat this.
The first and easiest, also the most expensive, is to air-condition your home. This adds to personal comfort, and if there is a hay fever sufferer in the family it adds to health. The cost is prohibitive for most of us.
There are several anti-mold chemicals on the market. Some are spray-type, some you apply with a brush or cloth, and others you open and leave sitting about your home.
A thorough sunning several times during spring and summer will benefit your shoes, bags, luggage and clothes. It is trouble to do this, but it is very effective. Sunning will cut down on molding and on the musty odor that accompanies it.
Leave an electric light on in your closets during the height of the mold season. Light—either electric light or sunlight—is detrimental to the formation of mold.
Louvered doors on closets are a big help. The louvers allow ventilation at all times. This will also help to keep down the formation of mold.
