JACK R. WATTS HAMMOND FIELD, VIETNAM (AHTNC)— Jack R. Watts, 20, son of Mrs Doris L. Earwood of Marble was promoted to Army specialist four while serving with the 517th Engineer Company at Hammond Field, Vietnam. Spec. Watts, a construction machine operator in the company, entered the Army in 1964.

JERRY F. COLBERT FT. BENNING, GA. (AHTNC)—Jerry F. Colbert, 20, son of Mrs. Louise Colbert, Route 5, Murphy, was promoted to Army private pay grade E-2 upon completion of basic combat training at Ft. Benning, Ga.

The promotion was awarded two months earlier than is customary under an Army policy providing incentive for outstanding trainees.

As many as half the trainees in each training cycle are eligible for the early promotion, based on scores attained during range firing, high score on the physical combat proficiency test, military bearing and leadership potential.

His wife, Judy, lives on Route 5, Murphy, also.

CLIFF BLUE ... People & Issues

STICKLEY... Jack Stickley's announcement for the GOP gubernatorial nomination had just about as much of a surprise element in it as a similar announcement by Bob Scott for the Democratic nomination would have.

Our thought is that Stickley will prove to be quite a formidable opponent, whether that opponent be Jim Gardner, Bob Scott, Bob Lassiter, Mel Broughton, Hector McLean or someone whose name you have not heard in connection with the governor's office.

WARMING UP... It now appears that Gardner may take Stickley on for governor rather than seek to return to congress, although no firm decision on the matter has been made.

And the events in recent days indicate that Scott will likely have formidable opposition in Bob Lassiter or Mel Broughton, or maybe Hector McLean.

If Lassiter becomes the candidate of the Moore Administration for Governor he should have very little trouble in raising necessary funds to carry on a first class campaign. Lassiter can call both Charlotte where he practiced law before moving to Winston-Salem some four years ago and also the Twin City "home" base. When running for public office it is always mighty nice to be able to "go back home" as the people back home generally take pride in seeing a son move up the ladder of prominence.

In Winston-Salem and Charlotte Bob Lassiter should be able to shake some righteously money trees and watch the greenback in big denominations come floating in, it used to be in the days before the Kennedy and the Rockefeller made such big success in politics that people talked whispers about money and its necessity to carry on a political campaign. Now, like sex, it has become a subject for top of the table discussion.

It used to be some of the "fat cats" would give to both sides in the primaries. Now, with the two-party system having arrived and been admitted to by the Democrats as well as the Republicans, people will probably be giving to both sides in the fall campaign.

1928 SPENDING, . Back

William H. Scarborough as editor. For quite sometime we have been feeling that there was a place in Tarheel journalism for a little "Wall Street Journal". Such a publication should receive a good reception in North Carolina.

Starting a newspaper is not an impossible task, but to keep them swimming once they have started the voyage is where the real work comes in. Etheridge and Scarborough have our best wishes as they set sail with "The Carolina Financial Times."

SENATE RACE... Should Terry Sanford enter the race for U. S. Senate against Senator Ervin a hot campaign would certainly follow. It would probably equal in interest and fury the gubernatorial race.

FLEET WILLIAMS... We lost a good friend in the recent passing of Robert E. (Fleet) Williams, retired editorial writer for the Raleigh News and Observer. In his nonchalant way Fleet could get to the bottom of the story and dispel the fog from around it. He was in addition to being a superb newspaperman a confidant and advisor to many office holders and statesmen, including men like the late Speaker Sam Rayburn.

CAROLINA FINANCIAL TIMES... A new weekly newspaper will make its debut in North Carolina on November 13--"The Carolina Financial Times" with W. David Ethridge, son of the well-known Mark and Snow Ethridge, as publisher, and
