Go, Granny, Go!

The woman patient was 70 years old, according to the hospital report, and the dia-gnosis read: "Injury to rib cage. Injured right hand and elbow. On motorcycle hit by car."

The hospital clerk wondered if the idea of a motorcycling grandmother might not raise some eyebrows at the Medicare Department of Wisconsin Blue Cross.

So at the bottom of the billing form she wrote: "I kid you

The Asheville Contracting Company of Asheville submitted the low bid of $162,616.34. Only two other bids were received by the Board. These came from The A sheville Paving Company and Phillips and Jordan who submitted bids of $168,930,00 and $167,614,00 respectively.

W.T. Moore, Chairman of the Board of Commissioners stated that the contract will be formally awarded to the A sheville firm at the board's next regular meeting to be held in January.

Engineers will study the low bid specifications and determine whether they meet stipulated requirements. Federal Aviation Agency approval must then be obtained.

This represents another step toward the goal of im-proved airport facilities in sothwestern North Carolina. In earlier statements by the commisssioners they said that the airport here "offers the best potential for development of any airport in southwestern North Carolina, Acquisition of the airport is a progressive step for county betterment and healthier industrial climate."

The present expansion plans call for improvements that will make it possible for planes as large as the DC-9 to land in Cherokee County.

Industry today is turning more and more to the air. With plants scattered around the country, it must depend on planes to rush supplies

A New Look

There will be a new look to the 2.7 million motor vehicles registration cards which will go in the mail on December 27th, These two-section cards replace the old five-section cards which have form in use for a number of years. The 1967 license plates go on sale at the Motor Vehicles Building in Raliegh and the 93 branch offices across the state January 2. The plates will be red on white and will be reflectorized again this year. All plates must be displated on or after February 15. A 1968 plate can be purchased at any local branch or by mail, Just send renewal card along with check or money-order to the Department of Motor Vehicles, Raleigh, North Carolina, Surrounding area residents can procure their 1968 Carolina, Surrounding area residents can procure their 1968 plates at Western Auto Store in Murphy, on January 2. The office hours are from 9:00 a.m., until 5:00 p.m. Monday through Saturday 9:00 a.m. to noon on Wednesdaya during the license renewal period. The local license agent, Mrs. Mescal Johnson and Miss Ingram urgs that you "open your application cards and complete them in accordance with instructions before presenting for a new plate." They say this will greatly expedite the issuance and keep long lines from forming.

little response as representatives of the Western Carolina and Westco Telephone Companies reported considerable progress in meeting the stipulations laid down by the State Utilities Commissior last August concerning better service to their customers.

It was reported that only two men attended the hearing Cherokee, Clay, from Graham, Macon and Swain Counties where most of the complaints of poor service by the telephone companies has been heard in the past.

Those attending from the five county area were Mr.

Forsyth To Manage Scott Campaign

Western North Carolina banker W. Frank Forsyth of Murphy will be a conanager of Lt. Gov. BobScott's developing campaign for governor, it was announced this This would team Murphy with Jimmy Johnson of Char-lotte and Gilliam Horton of Wilmington in the top managerial slots in the Scott organization. Forsyth, a member of the State Senate from 1959 through 1965, handled 10 Far Western counties for Governor Moore in Moore's 1964 campaign.

Horton, supporter of I. Beverly Lake in *64. Would anchor the Eastern organization for Scott.

Johnson, a former Piedmont senator, has been iden-Party faction which includes former Gov. Terry Sanford and the third Democratic candidate for governor in *64 Richardson Preyer.

A Johnson-Horton-Forsyth team is thus being viewed as significant from the standpoints of both geography and politics.

Officers Report Quiet Weekend

A check with local law enforcement officers revealed that there were no major accidents reported during the Christmas holiday weekend in Cherokee County.

Dented fenders and some minor vandalism told the story for the weekend.

This is in sharp contrast to the national picture where over 660 dead were counted on the nation's highways alone.

Officers expressed hope that the county's drivers and all its citizenry would continue to exercise great care in their driving, hunting, and all other holiday pursuits for the coming New Year's holiday weekend.

The company's report was marizing the companies efforts, Hyde said that new con-

Promotions Announced By American Thread

American Thread Company has promoted J. B. Love to the post of Executive Vice President, effective January 1, 1968, it was announced by E. B. Shaw, President of the firm.

Love, former manufacturing vice president, now assumes over-all direction of the day to day operations of the Company.
Also promoted is W. H. Burton, Jr. to Director of Operations with responsibility for the firm's manufacturing op-erations and operations department as well as its production planning and general engineering functions.

These were the key appointments in a major re-alignment of responsibilities and reporting relationships within th Company's top management group. Announcement of Love's promotion comes as he completes his 20th year of service with the Company that he joined in 1947 following graduation from HarvardBusiness School. Beginning as a management trainee at the Williamantic, Connecticut Plant, Love's steady advancement within the Willimantic manufacturing organization cul-minated in 1961 when he was named General Manager of the Willimantic Plant. Two years later he was transferred to the firm's New York office as director of general executive services. His promotion to manufacturing vice president and his election to the Borado Directors followed in 1966.

Burton has been serving as assistant to the manufacturing vice president for the past year. He is a textile graduate from the N. C. State University and he holds a law degree from the University of North Carolina. Burton began his tex-tile career in 1948 as a management trainee with J. P. Stevens. He advanced to successively greater responsi-bilities within the Stevens organization, serving as Plant Superintendent in 1952, Plant Manager in 1954 and Division Manager in 1955. In 1959 he became General Manager of that firm's six-plant Utica-Mohawk Division. More recently he has served as vice president and general man-ager of Abney Mills, Greenwood, S. C.

since the commission issued its August order, calling for extensive improvement in the system, was given at $1, 008,000.

Company employees have increase from 190 a year ago to 243 at present.

Progress has been made in several exchanges in conver-ting service to a five-party system as ordered by the commission. R. R. Williams, who represents the interests of several Asheville subscribers, brought forth some interesting expense items, however. Under sharp questioning by Williams, revealing salary figures for R. E. McKelvy and Tom Sawyer were brought

Academy Of Medicine Becomes A Reality

EDITOR'S NOTE: The State of Franklin is a name which recently has become familiar to many people in North Carolina, and in medical circles throughout the nation. Some people think that the name is odd, others joke that the mountain men of Western North Carolina plan to secede from their parent state and establish for themselves a new and sovereign nation. Ohters vaguely remember the history of John Sevier and his abortive attempt in 1780 to create a new and independent state within the western lands of North Carolina. The modern ranklin is a health council rather than a political body, and its name increasingly is being used to designate the region which consists of the seven far western North Carolina counties of Cherokee, Clay, Graham, Haywood, Jackson, Macon

Lake Pollution Action Taken; Boaters Must Comply By July

Further action by the Tennessee Valley Authority to stop pollution of TVA lakes by toilet waste discharges from boats and floating structures was announced today.

TVA is extending to all other TVA lakes in North Carolina, Tennessee, and Georgia the same program of requir ing approved waste treatment devices which was successfully applied earlier this year on Norris Lake. On these lakes, the owner of each boat or floating struc-

of any kind must have it equipped by July 1, 1968 with a waste treatment device meeting the standards already set by state pollution control agencies.

The growth of boating has made this kind of pollution an increasing problem, TVA said. Twenty years ago there were fewer than 10,000 boats on TVA lakes; now there are more than 50,000 plus over 9,000 houseboats and boat-

As was done on Norris Lake, dock operators will be asked to notify their customers of the TVA requirement, and to provide information on approved treatment devices and where they may be purchased. Before July 1 each boat or floating structure owner must complete a certified statement showing that his boat or structure either (a) has no toilet facility of any kind, or (b) is equipped with a state-approved type of treatment device properly installed, own-ers of small open boats which obviously could not be equip-ped with a toilet unit will not be required to furnish the certified statement.

The owner of a craft using mooring service of a boat dock operator, must turn in the completed form to him. For owners of craft moored outside established harbors,
