The town of Hayesville has one less bond issue to worry about. According to W. E. Carter, clerk to the town board, the last of a 1945 issue of town bonds was paid during last year. These bonds had been issued to re-fund a series of bonds issued back in the '20s and on which payment had been defaulted.

However, this does not lift the more recent bond issue of 1964 for a total of $30,000. Total still outstanding on these bonds is $26,000. This $30,000 was used as matching funds to obtain grant of federal monies to put in a new sewer system.

Over and above the amount expended on this sewer system and prior to the annual audit of June 30, 1969, the town drilled two deep wells at a cost of $1,300 plus $2,040 for pumps and $1,077 for water meters.

The use of the spring south of Hayesville has been discontinued quite some time ago and now the well on Town Mountain has been cut off from the town water supply. The two deep wells is the total source of water supply at present. Samples of this water are tested each month by the state health department and it has proven to be so near-pure that the use of chlorine is not required.

Beside making regular payments on bonded indebtedness and putting in the new water system, a year's expense of town government operation costs about $9,800; Administrative such as salaries of officials, legal and audit work, insurance, etc., $2,700; Street Department: repairs, electricity for street lights, etc. $3,200; Sanitation Department: Salary, garbage collector and dozer work at garbage dump $2,660; Police Department, $474 and Fire Department, $775.

Warning Given On Bad Tires

RALEIGH--The Attorney General's Office and the Department of Motor Vehicles, in a joint release this week, warned North Carolina tire dealers and motorists against the sale or purchase of inferior quality tires for use on passenger cars and other vehicles traveling the highways of the state.

According to the statement, issued by Attorney General Robert Morgan and Motor Vehicles Commissioner Joe W. Garrett, an investigation by the License and Safety Inspection Division of the Motor Vehicles Department has definitely established the fact that "factory reject" tires have been sold in North Carolina for general highway use.

Details of the investigation have been turned over to the Consumer Protection Division of the Attorney General's Office and a report made to the Federal Department of Transportation.

Garrett said that federal authorities have already warned all domestic and foreign tire manufacturers against the sale of these generally inferior tires for highway use. The agency pointed out that while the tires normally carry the legend, there have been instances in which dealers and distributors purchasers have not been informed that the tires are inferior for highway use.

The National Highway Safety Bureau, which according to Garrett, sets specific performance standards for tires, has urged all manufacturers to advise their dealers and distributors that the sale of farm tires for highway use constitutes a violation of the National Traffic and Motor Vehicles Act of 1966 and carries penalties of up to $1,000 for each violation.
