

RALEIGH'S NEW DAILY.

Mr. Greek O. Andrews is Organizing the Enterprise.

Some time ago the Times published the fact that a new morning daily would be established here in the near future. In speaking of the new paper, the Raleigh correspondent of the Charlotte Observer says:

"For several weeks past there have been rumors that a new morning daily newspaper would be established here. It is understood that a strong stock company is being organized, and that incorporation papers are now being prepared. It is further understood that Mr. Greek O. Andrews, editor and manager of the Press Visitor, and formerly city editor of the News and Observer, is organizing the company, and will be the manager and have control of the new paper. It is said it will be straight Democratic in politics, and will represent leading business interests of the State; many men prominent in the industrial world being stockholders; influential Democrats and business men will unite to build up a strong metropolitan paper. The capital will be $30,000, of which $5,000 is taken by Raleigh men. Some of the best editorial and reportorial talent in North Carolina will, it is stated, be employed. The paper will appear about November 15. At the first meeting the stockholders will select a name."

JUMPED FROM THE TRAIN.

A Ten-Year Convict Escapes on His Way to the Penitentiary.

Sheriff J. T. Donoho, of Caswell county, arrived here yesterday with one convict—Jim Walker, colored, sent up for five years for stealing cows.

The sheriff started from Greensboro with two men, but lost one of them on the way. The other man was Aaron Wagstaff, colored, sentenced for ten years for manslaughter. He and Walker were handcuffed together and sat quietly in the second class car until the train left Gibsonville. Then Wagstaff asked to be allowed to go for a drink of water.

The handcuffs were taken off and he entered the closet at the end of the car. The sheriff waited for some time for him to come out, then opened the door and saw part of the convict's clothing, but no convict. He had taken off his coat, shirt and hat and jumped from the window while the train was moving at full speed.

When Sheriff Donoho reached Burlington he notified the officers there, and they started back with bloodhounds to catch the fugitive. He is a dark negro, thin face, about 5 feet 11 inches high, 30 years old.

Mr. Ed. Osborn Married.

Yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock, at the residence of the bride's father, near Culbreth, about seven miles from Oxford, Mr. Edward H. Osborn, one of Oxford's popular and enterprising tobaccoists, was married to Miss Fannie B. Allen, a very beautiful and attractive young lady of Granville. Rev. Mr. Walker, pastor of Geneva Presbyterian church, performed the ceremony. Mr. W. R. Gulick was the groom's best man, and Miss Mary Blalock was maid of honor to the bride. Mrs. C. D. Osborn tendered a reception to the newly wedded couple last night at the Osborn House at 8:30 o'clock. They will make their home in Oxford.

Mr. Osborn is a former Raleigh boy, and the Times joins in with his large number of friends in wishing him unbounded success.

Panic in a Crimean Church.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 27.—A terrible casualty has taken place at the village of Khrulevka, in the Kozloff district, on the western coast of the Crimea. While service was in progress in the village church an alarm of fire was raised. A panic ensued in the crowded congregation, and the efforts of the officiating priests to calm the tumult were absolutely unavailing. In the stampede for the exits fifty four persons were killed by suffocation or being trampled, and eighty others were seriously injured.

WAS SHOT IN CHURCH

Policeman Dies at the Hands of Robber.

WORK OF A BURGLAR

CAUGHT ROBBING THE POOR BOX BY THE OFFICER.

Burglar Was Caught as He Came Out of a Window—He Struggled Desperately for Liberty.

New York, Oct. 27.—Policeman Frederick Smith, of the East Fiftieth street station, was shot and killed this morning in Church of the Holy Redeemer, Third street, between Avenue A and B, by a burglar, who was robbing the poor box. He was caught and gave the name of Fritz Mayer, forty-five years old, no home.

Shortly after midnight the burglar alarm in the parish house awakened the priest, who ran into the street and notified Policemen Huffman and Smith. The policemen ran into the darkened church. Hoffman went forward to the altar, thinking some one was after the valuable altar service, and Smith remained in the back of the church. His attention was attracted to a noise in an adjoining room used for school purposes, and he ran into it. He was in there but a few minutes when Hoffman heard a shot and a man falling. He hastened to his companion's rescue, and arrived in time to see a man smash the window and try to get out.

He called to him to stop, and at the same time yelled to a crowd of people outside to stop the fellow. One of the crowd caught the burglar as he came out of the window, and pinned his arms. The man struggled desperately. It was several minutes before the fellow gave up the fight. When the crowd, which soon grew to large proportions, learned that Smith was shot they made an attempt to lynch the prisoner. Roundman Schulum and three policemen, attracted by the excitement, had all they could do to prevent the angry gathering crowd from wreaking vengeance on the murderer. As it was, fifteen policemen who arrived as reinforcements had all they could do to land their man safely in the station. He was hit on the head with stones and clubs by several people in the crowd.

At the station the fellow was searched and a jimmy and a steel bar fifteen inches long were found on him. He is forty years old, 5 feet 7 inches tall, and has a desperate looking face. He is of sandy complexion. Policeman Smith was on the force for over fifteen years, and for the last thirteen years he had been on the post on Third street, between Avenue A and B. He was one of the best and most popular men in the department, fearless as a lion. He leaves a wife and four children.

Soldiers at St. Michael.

Washington, Oct. 27.—Adjutant General Beck received a telegram yesterday from Colonel Randall of the Ninth Infantry, commanding the military forces in Alaska, dated St. Michael, October 9th, saying that the military detachment arrived there the day before and that the supplies were landed in good condition. He says that there are about 180 persons on the island and that good order prevails.

Eddie Williams Improving.

We are glad to learn that little Eddie Williams, who was seriously burned a few days ago, is still improving.

THE COLUMBIA S. C. STATE.

Enlarged to a Seven-Column Eight-Page Paper.

The Charlotte Observer commenting editorially on the success and enlargement of the Columbia (S. C.) State, says: "The Columbia State has enlarged from a six to a seven-column eight-page paper, and we give our compliments to the Gozales brothers. The State is a paper of force and ability, and has the news. The late Capt. Thos. C. Evans, who was easily the most original newspaper that this State has produced, had as one of his ventures a little paper called Evan's Independent, which he established at Raleigh and which was not greatly larger than a pocket handkerchief. One of his friends met him on the street one day and said: 'Evans, I am glad your paper is no larger, because it is just so good that if there were any more of it, I would never be able to stand it in the world.' We don't know how its readers are going to stand a larger State."

A Good Report.

In its letter to the Raleigh Association, which was read before the Church last night, the Tabernacle church makes this excellent showing:

Received into its membership during the year 96, dismissed 54; making a net gain of 44 persons. The church and Sunday school has raised and expended during the year $4,500 for all objects.

This is a splendid showing for this congregation, when we take into consideration that it is composed for the most part of working people, and not a "rich" man belongs to the church.

Evangelist Invited.

Last night, by vote of the church, Rev. Thos. O. Needham, evangelist, was invited to hold a series of meetings with the Tabernacle church during the month of November. Mr. Needham is known by the people of Raleigh as having held a meeting with the First Baptist church some years ago. He is a thoroughly consecrated Bible evangelist, full of the spirit of his Master. He always aids Mr. Moody in his great meetings.

We hope his coming to our city may be marked by the of great good accomplishment.

Gotham's Double Tragedy.

New York, Oct. 27.—Louis H. Strouse, a stock broker having an office on Exchange place, either fell or jumped out of the window of his residence this morning. He died from his injuries tonight, and the members of the family refused to make any statement to the police about the case.

Clemens O. Stuncker, for ten years a saloon-keeper on John street, committed suicide today by shooting himself in the temple while in his apartments above his place of business. Stuncker had long been afflicted with an incurable disease, and his business was not prosperous.

Bell-Coppedge Marriage.

Mr. Haywood Bell and Miss Jennie Coppedge were united in marriage last night at the home of the bride, 730 north Blount street. Rev. Dr. A. M. Simms performed the ceremony. The attendants were Mr. Frank Bell and Miss M. E. Tolar, and Mr. G. B. Hocut and Miss India Santeing. The groom is a popular clerk, and the bride is an estimable young lady.

Must Die for Breach of Etiquette.

Paris, Oct. 27.—The newspapers of this city publish a telegram from Saragossa, Spain, declaring the King of Siam, who has been visiting Spain and Portugal, has condemned a member of his suite to be executed for a breach of etiquette committed at Lisbon.

Only One Case in Mayor's Court.

Two offenders were brought before the mayor this morning—Stokes Crump and Will Thornton, both colored, for an affray. They were relieved of $3.25 each and discharged.

FABIO ROMANI.

It Played to Small House, But it Was Big Show.

"Fabio Romani" was presented at the Academy of Music last evening. It was too bad that the company was greeted by such a slim house, as they deserved a packed one. The first act was rather tame but beginning with the second act the play warmed up and was stirring, and interesting throughout and Benedict, Bowman and Shone demonstrated their ability as actors.

The play deals with the infidelity of a wife and the vengeance of an injured husband.

The serpentine and fire dances of Miss Grace Hunter were the finest ever witnessed on the Raleigh stage and called forth a storm of applause.

She is a great skirt dancer and the calcium light effects made her appear to be wrapped in a living blaze of fire of every conceivable hue.

The play was well staged and large quantities of beautiful scenery and mechanical effects made it a most admirable production.

COLORED BRAKEMAN KILLED.

He Met Death at Licklog Tunnel Tuesday Night.

Frank Johnson, colored, of Salisbury, a brakeman on the Western North Carolina railroad, was killed at Licklog tunnel, on the mountain, Tuesday night, says the Salisbury Sun.

He was one of Capt. Russell's crew on second 74, coming to Salisbury, and it is thought that he raised up while the train was coming through the tunnel and was knocked off and then run over by the rear cars.

His body was seen by the engineer on the Chattanooga train this morning, and was later picked up by the "helper."

Mr. Fitzwilson Goes to Norfolk.

Mr. J. E. Fitzwilson and family go to Norfolk, Va., where Mr. Fitzwilson will accept a more lucrative position there with the Southern Railway, as chief clerk to the general freight agent. He was a good citizen and a splendid railroad man. His promotion to Norfolk indicates that he was a success as a Travelling Soliciting Agent in this division. Raleigh regrets to lose these excellent people, and commends them to the people of their new home.

The Norris Dog and Pony Show.

The Norris dog and pony show gave its closing performance last evening. Like the previous exhibitions, it was splendid, and delighted the audience. This show carries with it the most intelligent trained animals of any show on the road. They give a good clean deserving show, and should receive the patronage of the people wherever they may go.

A Harvest of Bargains.

Hard times make bargain seekers plentiful, and they find a harvest of bargains in Whiting Bros' large and well selected stock. The motto of this firm is "A nimble sixpence profit is better than a slow shilling."

Statesville Band.

The Band returned from Raleigh Friday night. They report a pleasant trip and courteous treatment from the fair managers and citizens of Raleigh. Those who heard them seemed delighted with their music. — Statesville Landmark.

Navigation Resumed at Fayetteville.

The Observer says there was 2 and 2 10ths feet of water in the Cape Fear at 8 o'clock Wednesday morning. This makes the river easily navigable up to this city, and yesterday the Driver, after being tied up at Elizabethtown for weeks, steamed up to her wharf in Campbellton, the first boat to reach Fayetteville in five weeks. The Hart will arrive from Wilmington to-morrow.

The unprecedented drought and consequent low water in the Cape Fear has been a heavy blow to the steamboat interests.

ON TRIAL FOR LIFE

Dramatic Scene in Indiana Court.

MAY LEAD TO GALLOW

CHILDREN TESTIFY TO GUILT OF THEIR FATHER.

The Son Testified That the Killing of the Younger Charles Pinkerton Was Without Justification.

Laporte, Ind., Oct. 27.—There was a dramatic scene this morning in the Pinkerton murder trial. John and Daisy Pinkerton, son and daughter of Charles Pinkerton, who is on trial for his life, took the witness stand and gave evidence which, if uncontradicted, will send their father to the gallows or deprive him of his freedom for life. The son testified that the killing of the younger Charles Pinkerton was without justification. The daughter, the comely widow of the murdered man, between her sobs, testified to hearing her father make threats to take her husband's life. The State finished the presentation of its evidence tonight. The evidence of others confirmed that of the defendant's children. The defense will occupy about two days, and a verdict will probably be reached on Saturday morning. The defendant will seek to show that the shooting of his son was justifiable.

CHAINLESS BICYCLE.

Will be on Exhibition To-Morrow by Mr. J. E. Humes.

Mr. J. E. Humes, representing the Pope Manufacturing Company, the makers of the famous Columbia bicycles arrived in the city today, and is introducing the chainless bicycle. Mr. Humes has one of the machines with him at the Yarbrough House, which was examined and much admired by a number of bicyclists today. It is a very pretty machine. It is slightly heavier than the chain bicycle. The gearing is all dust proof.

Mr. Humes will have the wheel on exhibition all day to-morrow, and will take pleasure in showing it to those interested. The machine will be taken to pieces in order that the entire machine can be examined.

The Pope Company owns all the patents on the bevel gear machines but have licensed the following companies to make them.

A. G. Spaulding & Bros., Sterling Cycle Works, E. C. Stearns & Co., Barnes Cycle Co., White Sewing Machine Co., Warwick Cycle Co., Grand Rapids Cycle Co., Stoddard Manufacturing Co., Howard Cycle Co., Keating Wheel Co.

The retail price for these wheels will be $125.

Dr. Blue Mountain Joe's Show.

The members of Dr. Blue Mountain Joe's show gave another good performance at the Metropolitan Opera House last night. To night they will show again, and the price of admission is so small that there should be a crowded house. It is a good show and is entitled to patronage.

Raleigh Business University.

Drop a card, with your name and address, to Prof. Spackman, and he will mail you circulars with full information, or call at his rooms between the hours of 4 and 8 p. m. School opens on Monday, November 1.

Retailing Without License.

Gaston Dunn, a negro from Wyatt's, N. C., was before United States Commissioner John Nichols to-day for retailing without license and was bound over to Federal court. Another party was bound over yesterday for the same offense.

PICTURES AND MUSIC.

A Rare Evening of Pleasure at Mrs. Sherwood Higgs'.

The art and musical entertainment at the home of Mrs. Sherwood Higgs last evening was a delightful and brilliant success. The pictures were greatly admired, and the excellent musical program which was rendered was immensely appreciated. Some of Raleigh's most talented musicians, Miss Bush, Miss Fannie Jones, Mrs. A. W. Knox, Miss Nettala Cameron, Miss Blake and Dr. Hubert Royster, rendered selections, and Miss Hinsdale favored the company with a recitation.

The pictures will be exhibited again to-morrow and Saturday afternoons from 3 to 6 o'clock.

COLORED FAIR.

The Program for the Races Has Been Prepared.

The colored people are pushing their fair, which opens next week. They expect to have a creditable exhibit and other features that will make it a success.

The following program of races for Thursday, November 4, has been prepared by President Donaldson and Secretary Leak.

Trotting 3 minute class, sweepstakes—purse $40; entrance fee 20 per cent.; not less than five to enter, three to start.

Running race, 1 mile heat, sweepstakes—purse $20; entrance fee 20 per cent.; not less than five to enter three to start.

Mule running race, 1 mile heat—purse $10; not less than five to enter, three to start; entrance fee 20 per cent. sweepstakes.

Another Fraud.

The Greensboro Record says: There are so many sharp fellows all over the country that they never run out of some schemes to make money. Often in reading what they say in their circulars one is not able, at first, to see what is their object, or how they are to make anything out of it; but it is there all the same and the man who bites soon learns what it is.

The latest are circulars scattered around Greensboro, telling what fabulous price good colored cooks can get in New York—from $30 to $40 per month. Inasmuch as $5.00 to $8 a month is what the average woman receives down this way, it is easy to see what an inducement it is to pull up stakes and start for that place. It is also urged upon any who are going not to stop over in Baltimore, no matter what inducements are offered, but to push on to New York.

A number of well-to-do cooks in Greensboro are preparing to go, but when the average cook in Greensboro gets even $25 a month and her board, we propose to sell out the Record and start for the big city.

Darkey View of Disinfectants.

When trunks are fumigated at the depot of the Louisville and Nashville there are two darkeys present whose duty it is to assist in unpacking. As is well known by those who have had the misfortune to submit to this necessary, but nevertheless unpleasant precaution, the baggage is allowed to remain in a sealed car for an hour. After the formaldehyde gas has been blown into the car, a bottle of yellow fluid is thrown in as soon as the doors are opened. This is done to destroy the odor of the gas.

A gentleman standing by the other day just before the fluid was thrown in asked one of the attendant darkeys what it was.

"Dat," said the negro, who wanted to appear entirely familiar with the process of disinfection, "dat's ter deawow de smell uv de familyhide gas yer know; hit kills de bugs, and den dey got to git somethin' ter kill hit."

For Barber Shop.

The basement under the Lumsden store is being fitted up for Mr. E. G. Foust's barber shop.
