

THE MEXICAN CAMPAIGN

With the exception of the dynamiting and burning of Nuevo Laredo, the situation in Mexico was comparatively quiet yesterday, but the troubles have only begun. United States troops once in the turbulent republic will be forced to remain there some time to come. Each day gives another proof of this country's military preparedness. The American navy is not only strong in modern equipment, but no navy in the world is better disciplined, and as for the United States army, small in comparison with the standing armies of Europe, it is as far ahead of the regular establishment of 1898 as the army was then ahead of our military force when the Mexican war of the 40's began. The expeditionary force of Infantry, 3,400 strong, which sailed from Galveston Friday, 24 hours after orders were issued from Washington, moves like a flying squadron. The Sixth Cavalry and the Fourth Artillery batteries will sail today.

Just how long the Mexicans, worn with hardships and fighting each other, will be able to hold out against the inevitable it is impossible to say; but before the United States troops withdraw it will be the duty of this country to restore order and assist the people of the war ridden republic in setting up a stable government. This country will not declare war on Mexico unless it be necessary to hasten the solution of the difficult problem now confronting us. It is to be anything like real warfare the United States is in a position to make quick work of it, and quick work means much for humanity. But after Mexico has a stable government, American troops will be needed there for sometime to help maintain peace and quiet. The Mexicans have now been so long used to disorder that it will be like starting all over again for them to learn what liberty and republican government is. The administration at Washington is proceeding carefully and consistently, and it has the patriotic support of all the people.

HOUSEWIVES LEAGUE ORGANIZED

Quite a number of the housewives of our city met in the parlors of the Hotel Kennon yesterday afternoon to hear Mrs. Julian Heath, President of the National Housewives League.

She gave a most interesting and comprehensive talk on the objects of the League, which is a National movement organized to uphold the enforcement of laws which affect food supplies, the family health, the cost of living and to secure further legislation, when necessary, toward that end. It is educational, defensive and constructive.

At the conclusion of Mrs. Heath's talk a League of fifty members was organized in Goldsboro and the following officers elected:

President—Mrs. B. H. Griffin.
Vice President—Mrs. B. G. Thompson.

Secretary—Mrs. C. B. Miller.
Treasurer—Mrs. Thos. McGee.

The League wishes to impress upon all Housewives the importance of having scales with which to weigh all purchases, including ice, and expects to have the County Seal examined and place his seal on such scales.

It also wants to take up as its special work, the securing of a meat and milk inspector for our town.

We invite all housewives to join and especially ask the co-operation of all tradespeople.

Attractive Lingerie

Come in tomorrow morning, take the elevator and ask to be shown the new things in undergarments.

Fashions in dress have had our strong influence in shaping the styles in underdress and we have made a understudy of the proper and the comfortable in what used to be called undermuslins.

Just now crepes are much in vogue. We show them in a variety of garments including a low priced gown.

The "SUNSHINE" petticoat has become almost a necessity.

Our lines of Brassives include the celebrated De-Bevoise and the "Bien Jolie," recommended by Pairet.

We have just gotten in the new models in American Lady Corsets. They include the extremely low busts that will be part of the wardrobe of most women this summer.

"Rengo Belt" is our special Corset for stout figures. "Calma" is the new front lacing Corset.

While you are in this department don't fail to inspect the new lace blouses that came this week, in the truly youthful lines imparted to Stout and Medium figures.

Absolute freedom is essential this year and the beautiful new low bust models with elastic webbing inserted over the thighs and at the back, allow freedom to a degree heretofore unknown in corsets for stout women. But none of their great strength has been sacrificed to attain this flexibility—for stout figures must wear strong corsets capable of holding and moulding.

Rengo Belt corsets are boned throughout with double watch spring steels guaranteed not to rust.
