ABOUT COTTON.

Probably recalling occasions during the civil war when Confederate soldiers fought behind bulwarks made of cotton bales, a newspaper correspondent thinks that a great impetus might be given to the "buy-a-bale" movement by inducing Great Britain and France to use cotton bales for breastworks, particularly in making advances over level ground. He suggests that the bales be rolled in front of the troops, who would be sheltered by a barricade impervious to rifle fire. If the cotton was set ablaze, he says, the fire could easily be extinguished by a little mud or dirt. After the war was over the cotton would still have a considerable value in the market.

This ingenious gentleman also thinks that if battleships were built with double bottoms and cotton were packed between the inner and outer hulls they could not be sunk by torpedoes. Even if a vessel did sink eventually, there would still be plenty of time for all members of the crew to escape and perhaps fire a number of parting rounds at the enemy. A bale of cotton thrown into water will not sink for a week or ten days, according to this correspondent, so a battleship with a double-hull stuffed with cotton might even be able to "limp into port" after being torpedoed, if the port were near enough. By such uses the demand for cotton might be appreciably increased abroad, with a subsequent rise in the price of this commodity, but if the buy-a-bale movement continues popular there will be no need of extraordinary exertions to dispose of the crop. The trustees of the University of Virginia announce that cotton warehouse receipts on a basis of 10 cents a pound will be received for tuition at that institution, and a number of young men from the cotton growing States who might have been kept away from college by unsettled conditions will be able to continue their studies. Women have been requested to show their patriotism by wearing cotton dresses, corporations as well as private individuals are buying cotton in large quantities and the cotton growers' interests are being enthusiastically promoted. Yet when all is said and done the price of cotton will rule very low between now and the end of the year. The crop is of bumper size and even if there had been no war in Europe 10 cents would have been considered a good price.

Blood Destruction Stopped and Rebuilt

Worries Overcome, Evidence Brushed Away, The Skin Cleared.

S. S. S., the famous blood purifier, is man's architect. It contemplates the damage done and repairs the damage and corrects all tendency to blood eruptions, decay of bones, closing of joints and any and all of those myriad of destructive effects such as rheumatism, catarrh, swollen glands, sore throat, bronchial affections and the host of infirmities so well known as being caused by impure blood. And now, why should S. S. S. do all this? Simply because it is Nature's antidote, a remedy of searching influence. It contains a powerful, natural ingredient, that sweeps its way to the skin. And in doing this it not only annihilates destructive germs but causes them to be so converted that they are easily and harmlessly voided, expelled or destroyed and then driven out through the natural outlets of the body. Thus let S. S. S. be your safeguard in all blood troubles no matter what they are. It won't fail you. Get a bottle today of any druggist but refuse any and all substitutes.

Get in communication with the medical department. Write The Swift Specific Co., 54 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. This special advisory work on blood troubles has been of incalculable benefit and has cured a host of sufferers.

TEN CENT COTTON

Editor Argus:—I have just returned from a conference with my firm, Messrs. A. Wrenn & Sons, Carriage Builders, Norfolk, Va. Mr. Wrenn returned Friday morning from a two weeks visit in several southern cities. He says the feeling South is becoming more optimistic each day and he personally is not at all depressed over the situation.

He received orders for two cars of buggies from Maryland yesterday, and while the cotton country is producing no business, our factory is running. I have been authorized by Mr. Wrenn to assist our trade in the South and to buy cotton at 10 cents a pound from customers of any dealers who are using Wrenn Buggies. Messrs. A. Wrenn & Sons have joined the Buy-a-Bale movement, and already have bought fifty bales of distressed cotton at 10 cents.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED
by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by Catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.
