ITALY IS CERTAIN TO ENTER WAR

Italians Will Cast Their Lot With the Allies

London, May 16.—The King of Italy has refused to accept the resignation of Signor Salandra and the premier and whole war cabinet remain office. This, it is confidently believed here, foreshadows the almost immediate entrance of Italy into the circle of belligerents on the side of the allies.

Action, however, may be delayed until the meeting of the chamber of deputies on Thursday when the premier will announce his policy and will receive the support of a majority of the deputies.

Should the expected action of Italy materialize, the allies will be in a better position than ever to launch their big offensive movement against Austria and Germany, which is being preceded on the western front by a series of attacks, furnishing a foretaste of what is to come.

Scarcely had the German attacks on the British lines around Ypres exhausted themselves and the French offensive north of Arras shown signs of coming to an end than the British became the aggressors north of La-Basse, and the French and Belgian troops began their attempt to throw the Germans back over the Yser canal.

These attacks, according to the French official account, which however, does not agree with that from Berlin, were successful and again compelled the Germans to counter-attack—the most costly of all operations in siege warfare. Fighting at both points continues today and in Artois where the French added a further slight gain to those made during the week and which, combined, constitute the biggest movement of either army in the west since the battle of the Marne.

Fighting also is in progress in the West, particularly west of the forest of LePrete, where the French also won during the past week.

There does not appear to be much change in the general situation in Galicia although the Austro-German armies have been able to make an additional slight advance by the withdrawal of the Russian rear guards, which have been holding off the victorious troops until their own armies could get into new positions behind the San river. This territory promises to be the scene of another big battle for the Russians, strongly reinforced, will make a desperate effort to stem the tide which has been running so strongly against them.

In the Russian border provinces along the east Prussian frontier isolated engagements are occurring in which both sides claim to have the advantage.

TO DISPLACE ONE TEACHER SCHOOL

State Agent For Schools Presents Scheme For Enlargement

WILL ENLARGE DISTRICT FIRST

Increased Fund From Additional School Area Will Make Possible Larger Grounds, Better School, More Teachers and High School Training.

To establish a three teacher rural elementary school in the place of every inefficient, one teacher type of school in the various progressive rural communities in North Carolina is the aim of Mr. L. C. Brogden, State Agent for Elementary Schools.

The scheme which Mr. Brogden has advanced and has been preaching is embodied in his report to Dr. J. Y. Joyner as Superintendent of Public Instruction.

"It has been our purpose," declares Mr. Brogden in this report, "to study with the individual teachers in the representative counties selected, the needs and conditions of the typical individual schools including the most efficient, the average, and the most inefficient. Upon our visitation to these schools, and after we have had time to make a careful study of their needs and conditions, the physical conditions of the school room, its heating, lighting and ventilation; its appearance; its comfort and its equipment; the appearance of the school yard, its provisions for sanitation, and after having the time to study the work of the teacher; her graduation and classification of pupils; her daily program, her school management and conduct of recitation; we have then attempted improvements through private conference with the Superintendent."

Three Teacher Type Minimum.

Mr. Brogden holds that the three teacher type of school is the minimum for giving the proper training for country life. In his reply to Dr. Joyner he outlines the scheme which is already working successfully in Granville, Johnson, Sampson, Northampton, Alamance and McDowell counties as well as several others.

The first step necessary is to enlarge the territory of the one teacher school district. The average size of the one teacher school district is now approximately three miles square. It is urged that this be enlarged as much as possible without putting the children to the inconvenience and hardship of a too great distance. Two and one half miles, it is set out, should not be considered an unreasonable walking distance when the roads are fairly good. Thus, the limit of four-by-five miles for the school district, or better yet, five by five miles, or twenty-five square miles for the district, is reached logically.

School and District.

A school site of six or eight acres with room for athletics and demonstration farm work, a three room school building, and three competent teachers, a home for the male principal with provisions for the teachers boarding there, all these will be secured through the increased funds growing from the increased size of the school district.

Two Years High School.

The principal and two assistants will give the boys and girls of the school at least two years of high school instruction so that when they complete the course in the three teacher school they will be able to complete the full course of the State High school in two years.

Training for the Farm.

"Since by far the largest number of the children now growing up in this community will become farmers and farmers' wives, and since all the education that at least ninety per cent of them will ever receive for life for work will be gotten in their local schools, then it becomes necessary that this ninety per cent shall have that training and that education best suited to their life and work in this community," says Mr. Brogden and therefore urges the organizations of Boys' Farm Life Clubs for the boys and Tomato Growing Clubs for the girls to provide training best suited for the life and work of the young people in their community.

More Than Toll and Drudgery.

But Mr. Brogden continues: "Country life is more than toll and drudgery; more than corn growing and bread making; it is more than a strenuous struggle for food and raiment.

FARMER COMMITS SUICIDE

Dempsey Parks of Wayne Drinks Calte Spray Solution and Dies.

Mount Olive, May 15.—Dempsey Parks, a prominent Wayne county farmer living about seven miles east of here, committed suicide Friday by drinking a solution which his son, Mack Parks, had prepared to spray cattle to rid them of ticks.

According to the report reaching here, Mr. Parks left his home about 7 o'clock, saying he was going to a nearby swamp. Instead, however, he went to the home of his son, going up to the house from a back way. Coming upon this mixture out in the yard, Mr. Parks seized the jug containing it and began drinking its contents. A negro nearby saw what Mr. Parks was doing and hastened to him and succeeded in keeping him from drinking any more, but too late, as he had already drunk enough to do the work death ensuing about noon.

Mr. Parks was about 65 or 67 years of age and had been in very feeble health for several years past.

THE PRESIDENT ARRIVED IN NEW YORK LAST NIGHT

New York, May 16.—President Wilson on board the naval yacht Mayflower, reached New York tonight, completing the voyage from Washington shortly before 11 o'clock when the yacht, escorted by a gunboat, passed in Sandy Hook.

Before the President's arrival arrangements had been completed for his review of the Atlantic fleet tomorrow and Tuesday, which promised to be one of the greatest naval spectacles ever seen in the United States. The President to appear on shore tomorrow for the land parade, a part of the ceremonies attending the review.

MUST BE NO EVASION

Germany's answer to the United States will be awaited anxiously, but whether or not the Berlin government makes friendly reply and agrees to acquiesce in all the terms of President Wilson's clearly and vigorously phrased note cabled through the state department to Ambassador Gerard and delivered by him to the German foreign office, this document will become history.

The President has written a number of diplomatic notes distinguished by poise and a deep sense of justice as well as rare literary skill, but his latest protest, called forth by the loss of more than 100 American lives in the sinking of the Lusitania, is the most masterful of all. It is couched in the usual terms of diplomatic courtesy, but in the discussion of vital details it is clear and earnest and the touches of fine irony in it could not be excelled.

The note makes it plain that there must be no evasion on the part of the German government.

CONSTANT CALL OF THE SOUTH

HER RESOURCES OF MINES, QUARRIES, FORESTS AND FARMS ARE INEXHAUSTIBLE.

258,700,000 acres of land in the South are covered with forests capable of yielding approximately 1,200,000,000,000 feet of lumber.

56,106,000 acres of land in the South are underlaid with coal of a volume approximating 375,000,000,000 tons.

454,261,000 acres of land in the South, some of it covered with forests, are ultimately available for productive agriculture.

The South is producing in normal years—

- $472,900,000 from mines and quarries.
- $590,000,000 from forests.
- $3,600,000,000 from farms.

Materials from this production aggregating $4,662,000,000 in value enter into the products of Southern manufacturing valued at $3,960,000,000 and into exports to foreign lands valued at $368,000,000.

Abnormalities must pass. Natural resources abide. They are unaffected materially save only as they are converted to the use of man. Usually any halting in such conversion is followed by greater activity than ever before in their utilization.

SOUTH CAN GROW CORN IN PLENTY

Five Years of Boys' Corn Club Work Demonstrates This to World

58 TO 60 BUSH-ELS PER ACRE

Five years of Boys' Corn Club work in North Carolina has demonstrated to the world the wonderful corn growing possibilities of the South according to Mr. T. E. Browne, director of the work in the State, who reviews the history of the activity of the boys in North Carolina in corn growing and sees in this work the future and the near future in which the South will be producing all the corn it needs.

"One of the first and most prominent results obtained, along with the demonstrating to the world the wonderful corn growing possibilities of Southern soils, says Mr. Browne. Until the members of the corn clubs began to grow the enormous yields of 200 bushels and more of corn to the acre, and to grow it cheaply, other parts of the country had not thought of the South as a corn section. So it remained for the boys between the ages of ten and eighteen years to prove that the real corn belt of the nation lies in the South and it is only a question of a few years now,—since we have become aroused to our possibilities—before the South will be growing all the corn it needs.

Opportunity to Teach.

"The corn clubs have furnished an opportunity for teaching the boys a few of the simple fundamental principles of good farm practice, and by their open-mindedness and willingness to try the methods advocated, they have been averaging from fifty-eight to sixty-five bushels of corn per acre, at a cost of from thirty-five to forty-five cents per bushel. The average yield for the State has been about eighteen bushels per acre during the same time.

"The Clubs also furnish an easy and practical means of connecting the rural schools with the lives of the pupils, and of clinching the lessons on agriculture as taught in the school room, by having the children put these principles into practice upon their contest plots. Whenever the boy or girl is hewn the practical, economic value of their school work, they at once become more interested.

Pig and Poultry Clubs.

"As an adjunct to the Corn Club work, and for the purpose of teaching them simple lessons in animal industry, the Pig and Poultry Clubs have been recently added to the Club movement. By means of these clubs the boys and girls are taught the value of feeding their corn on the farm in order to get a double value, and are taught the important part of live stock farming in all successful agriculture.

Develops Self Reliance.

"We find that these clubs develop in the child self-reliance and initiative, a disposition to take what he has and make the most of it. Hundreds of boys who have gone into these clubs and learned the value of intelligence applied to agriculture, have become interested in the farm; have determined to attend the Agricultural and Mechanical College, and learn more of the science of the soil; and having caught the vision, are preparing themselves for a large usefulness, either as teacher of their fellows in some agricultural High School, or as a progressive, up-to-date farmer in their home communities.

"These boys, having gotten into the spirit of the club work, realizing the larger purposes of the club as symbolized by the national emblem—the four H pin—which stands for the development of the whole man; enter life with an entirely changed viewpoint. Whether in the school room, in the commercial field, or upon their own farms, they enter upon their duties with a desire to be of service to their fellow man.

"Finally, through the agricultural clubs, we hope to build up a wholesome social life in the country. There is no phase of rural life more neglected today than the social phase. Too many farmers forget that they were ever young, and that there is difference between exercise and recreation. It is true the farm boy gets all the physical exercise he can stand, but how much real recreation? Through the club picnics and various club gatherings we hope to add emphasis to the social side of country life."

Country life is to be enjoyed and must be cultural as well as vocational.

And to this end, there must be music in the homes, entertainments in the community and opportunities for social enjoyment throughout the district.

The county farm demonstrator is not left out in the scheme. It is urged that if the principal does not own his own home in the neighborhood, than the members of the club and the principal will elect the farm demonstrator their leader to continue through the summer months the work begun before the close of the school. And on the same principle, the tomato club worker will have the same relation to the girls' club work that the demonstrator has to the work of the boys.

School is Social Center.

And in it all, the auditorium of the schools is to become the social center of the neighborhood. That is the gathering place for all the community, and the meeting place for all the forces engaged in community uplift. Here, with spelling matches, debating contests, musical entertainments, lectures, illustrated addresses, the value to the auditorium will be worked out.

With this, the school will become a vitalized community center in which all the forces of the community working for its highest well being will be unified, stimulated, and made more effective.
