

MR. AND MRS. SLATON GO TO PACIFIC COAST

They Left Atlanta Yesterday and the the Military Guard Around His Home Is Withdrawn.

Atlanta, Ga., June 28.—Former Governor John M. Slaton, accompanied by Mrs. Slaton, left Atlanta late today for the Pacific coast by way of New York and the military guard stationed at his suburban home since the demonstrations against the commutation of Leo M. Frank's death sentence began June 21, was withdrawn early tonight.

The departure of Mr. and Mrs. Slaton was without incident. Accompanied by a few friends, they motored from their home to the terminal station, where they boarded a Southern railway passenger train.

The four men arrested at the Slaton estate early today will be released tomorrow, according to an announcement tonight by the military authorities. The 26 taken into custody Saturday, however, are to be prosecuted. Colonel Arville Hall, commanding the fifth regiment, today made a written report of their arrests to Governor Harris, who is to decide whether the trial shall be by military or civil court. No formal charges have yet been placed against the men.

STAGE CHILDREN'S TRAVELING SCHOOL.

(Times, March 14.)

A traveling school is the unusual institution that has been conducted during the long tour of the company appearing in "The Blue Bird," a tour that will end when it reaches the Manhattan Opera House tomorrow after a trip that has stretched over 10,000 miles. There are upwards of thirty children employed in the fairy-tale play, and the problem of continuing their education was solved in a novel way.

Whenever possible, the mothers of the children were given small roles, that they might travel with the company, while some mothers accompanied their children although they had no official connection with the company. Dore Davidson, stage manager and the actor who plays Old Father Time, was appointed teacher, and every afternoon school was held. The children studied in groups, the mothers acting as tutors and Mr. Dore supervising the school.

The children wrote out their lessons, and three times a week they were mailed to the Calvert School, a correspondence school at Baltimore. There they were corrected and sent back to the children. Although sixteen of the children are under 16 years of age, the age that prohibits them from acting in some States, so excellent were the conditions under which the juvenile players worked that only in Florida and Illinois was any trouble experienced in all the States visited.

OUR A. & M. COLLEGE.

In this time of industrial opportunity, it is gratifying to see what a firm grasp the men trained at the Agricultural and Mechanical College are taking on the industrial life of the State. These men not only know how to do things, but they are doing them with credit to themselves and to their college. They are making over old farms and dairies. Many of them are directing cotton mills.

On our railways and highways you find them with transit and rod. They are sought by men who need draughtsmen and machinists. Young men who are ambitious and determined to make headway in life are in increasing numbers making their way to this busy institution. The announcement of the fall opening of this college will interest scores of young men.

Restored to Good Health.

"I was sick for four years with stomach trouble," writes Mrs. Otto Gans, Zanesville, Ohio. "I lost weight and felt so weak that I almost gave up hope of being cured. A friend told me about Chamberlain's Tablets, and since using two bottles of them I have been a well woman." Obtainable everywhere.

WOMEN SHOULD HAVE MONEY.

Having the bills paid is all very well. It's much better than not having them paid. But women like the handling of money as well as do men. They like to pay for their own purchases and open their own parcels. If you men cannot sympathize with this eccentricity, consider how well you like to clip the ends from your own cigars and open your own mail, writes Lavinia Hart, in Collier's. Consider how well you'd like going through college with all your bills paid, but not a cent in your pocket. Consider, while you are considering, how you would like being asked to a banquet, and having somebody else eat for you. I know women whose fathers were millionaires and whose bills were paid without question, who were compelled to wait for the carriage, whatever their errand or its distance, because they never had car fare. Invariably these women were reckless in extravagance. They rarely asked the price of things they ordered, as it was a matter of no concern to them. Yet with the rare and precious cash dollars that came their way they were economical to the verge of stinginess. The moral whereof is plain.

If you would have your womenfolk economical, let them handle money and learn to respect its value. There may be women who have not sufficient womanliness to honor the confidence this trust implies; but they are exceptions. If such be your daughters it is your business to teach them otherwise. If they be your wives it is your fault for having married them.

When a father gives his son an allowance, he should do the same for his daughter; not as a matter of material favor—for the daughter's bills might double the son's allowance—but as a matter of discipline, of financial experience and education. The girls who dress and keep themselves within the limits of a stipulated allowance are usually the best dressed; yet their bills are invariably smaller. It is to their interest to get all they can for their money.

And these are the girls whose training is fitting them to be good wives and helpmates of men, provided the men they marry have sufficient shrewdness to share their confidences and their incomes, and to trust their wives to aid in making the family fortunes.

In the humbler walks of life, where the husband's earnings are so scant it is incredible that they can meet the mean necessities of life, those households are uniformly more thrifty where the husband turns over his entire earnings to the wife. His days are full of toil and his evenings of fatigue. He has neither the time nor the energy to figure and plan to make "both ends meet." But somehow she manages to supply their wants and keep the bills paid, and somewhere, though he cannot see just how she does it, there's a nest egg growing by hard saved dimes and dollars for the inevitable rainy day.—Presbyterian.

GOLDSBORO'S OPPORTUNITY

An Occasion That Means Much For Our City's Development and Future.

The secretary of the Goldsboro Chamber of Commerce has sent out the following comprehensive letter, and the Argus hopes that it will be carefully considered and that the meeting here on Friday morning of this week will be largely attended in the Court House:

Dear Sir:—Some days ago notice was mailed you advising that Maj. H. W. Stickles, Corps of Engineers, U. S. Army, would hold a hearing in this city at 10 o'clock a. m. Friday, July 2nd, 1915, for the purpose of affording citizens of this and other localities an opportunity to present their views and to submit data regarding the ultimate benefit that will accrue to this section from opening the Neuse river to navigation between Goldsboro and New Bern.

This organization is intensely interested in this proposition, it is one of vital importance not only to the cities contiguous to the river but to the entire surrounding territory. We desire to stress the advantages that will be obtained and to emphasize the tremendous resources that can be developed.

Maj. Stickles advises that in addition to the verbal information that will be offered at the hearing it is essential, and will facilitate matters, to compile data and submit same in writing.

In accordance with Maj. Stickles' request we will appreciate it if you will supply the following:

(1) What depth would be necessary to afford year round transportation?
(2) Do you now receive freight via Neuse river? If so, please state kind, amount of freight paid and weight of same.
(3) Do you receive freight via rail? If so, please state amount of freight paid, and approximately the commercial value and weight of same.

(4) In the event the river is improved would you ship via water? If so, please state, approximately, the value, weight, and amount of revenue your shipments would earn.

(5) In the event the river is improved and a responsible well organized steamboat line established, advertising and maintaining regular sailing schedule, would you patronize same? If so, please state what percentage of your present rail shipments you would move via vessel, at the same time kindly state the value, amount of freight the steamboat line would earn and the total weight.

(6) How much passenger business, if any, could be developed between Goldsboro, Kinston and New Bern?
(7) Please advise any and all resources, other than freight and passenger business, that could be developed by opening the river to navigation.

Thanking you in advance for any assistance and trusting I will have the pleasure of meeting you at the hearing, I am,

Very truly yours,
M. R. BEAMAN,
Commercial Secretary.

BIRTHDAY PARTY.

Little Mary Crawford at Home to Her Friends.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Crawford on John Street, South, their little daughter Mary had with her yesterday afternoon a number of her young friends, in celebration of her ninth birthday.

Little Miss Crawford was the recipient of a number of beautiful gifts, and also received congratulations and cordial wishes for many happy returns of the day.

Recently Mary was an operative patient at The Goldsboro Hospital, and learned while there that that her efficient "special" nurse, Miss Minnie Fulton, of whom she became very fond, has the same birthday, and so Miss Fulton was sweetly remembered by little Mary yesterday and was a "special" guest at her party.

AT THE ACME TOMORROW.

The management of the Acme offers its patrons tomorrow an exceptionally strong two part drama featuring King Baggot and Jane Gail, in "A Life's Balance". This is a human interest drama and everyone is familiar with the work of "The King."

"A Duke For a Day" will be the comedy to go with this picture and will be one of those funny Joker comedies with Max Asher and Gail Henry.

"The Last Act", a Rex drama, with Ben Wilson and Dorothy Phillips will conclude tomorrow's program.

CARY NEWTON PHILATHEAS GIVE DELIGHTFUL OUTING.

The Reds paid their debt to the Blues last evening by a most enjoyable outdoor party given at Herman Park. The lawn around the bandstand was beautifully decorated with many Japanese lanterns while the bandstand was brilliantly lighted with electric lights. It was indeed a lovely sight to see the sixty young folks walking among the trees and gathered in groups playing various games.

The couples were next divided into two groups, one group marching one way, and the other group the other way until they met and each girl and boy changed partners so that when they arrived at the starting point no one came back with the partner he or she left with.

At a very late hour the charming hostesses served delightful ice cream and fruit. Many exclamations of the delightful enjoyment of the evening were given the hostesses before the guests departed, declaring it to be just what we need to keep us young.

Those present were Misses Carrie and Ruby Dorritt, Lelia Roberts, Anne Hinnan, Beniah Gaskins, Beulah Thornton, Mary Lou Waters, Letta Mai McMurry, Lelia Rogers, Lena Sherrard, Mabel Smith, Addie Guy, Lola Gray, Geneva and Beulah Anderson, Carrie, Lila and Myrtle Westbrook, Lily Brown, Annie Sutton, Mammie Brown, Ruby Davis, Ledia Montague and Ethel Rouse; Messrs. Byrd, Taylor, Harmon, Brock, Guthrie, Harry, Montague, Sasser, Mathews, Waters, Walter and Robert Denmark, George and James Daniels, Hal Smith, Grover Johnson, Alger Best, John Fulghum, Charlie Waters, James and Newkirk Chestnut, and Ben Adams.

Greatly Benefited by Chamberlain's Linctament.

"I have used Chamberlain's Linctament for sprains, bruises and rheumatic pains, and the great benefit I have received justifies my recommending it in the highest terms," writes Mrs. Florence Slife, Wabash, Ind. If you are troubled with rheumatic pains you will certainly be pleased with the prompt relief which Chamberlain's Linctament affords. Obtainable everywhere.

CHARTER COMMITTEE

Preliminaries Now Complete For Considering Change of City Administration.

Under the recent enactment of the legislature providing the machinery for the preliminary planning of a change of the character of our city government, looking to a Commission form or a Business Manager, same to be reported to the next General Assembly and to be submitted to the qualified voters of the city, the following have been named, under the Bill, a Charter Committee from the Board of Aldermen, the citizens in common and the Chamber of Commerce:

From Aldermen—Lionel Weill, C. E. Hall, J. A. Parker, A. H. Edgerton, S. W. Draper, Y. D. Creech.
From Citizens—Col. Jos. E. Robinson, Col. J. D. Langston, Judge W. R. Allen, Louis N. Grant.
From Chamber of Commerce—F. K. Borden, Chas. Dewey, G. A. Norwood, T. H. Holmes, A. T. Griffin.

SEE AMERICA FIRST.

The many friends of Mr. Emmet Robinson, Jr., who left home three weeks ago with W. A. Erwin, Jr., of Durham, Hyman Battle, of Rocky Mount, and Bobo Tanner, of Charlotte, will be interested to know that the boys have reached the Grand Canyon, Arizona, in an Overland auto, having made the trip so far towards San Francisco without a single tire accident.

Emmet writes very interestingly and enthusiastically of the wonderful scenery of their trip. He wants every body "back home" to come on out and see the wonders of our own country. "See America first."

There is more real health and pleasure in one bottle of Pan-Cre-To than sixty days vacation in the fresh mountain air in the mid-summer months. Not so? Well just try it. Williams Drug Store.

ELECTS NEW OFFICERS.

A council meeting of the officers and teachers of Elm street Sunday school was held Sunday morning, immediately at the close of the Sunday school, with Superintendent A. U. Kornegay, presiding.

The work of the school was briefly discussed, after which the election of a few officers was held, to fill vacancies. Mrs. G. P. Hood's (nee Miss Marion Stevens) resignation as teacher and press reporter was presented and accepted. Mrs. Dan Glisson, formerly Cradle Roll Superintendent, was elected teacher, to succeed Mrs. Hood, for the unexpired term. Mrs. John Hinson was elected Cradle Roll Superintendent, and Mr. Roger Hinson was elected press reporter.

The school is accomplishing a great good, and the prospects are bright for even a greater work.

GUN CLUB SCORE.

The following score of last Wednesday's shoot held by Goldsboro Gun Club, shows that Goldsboro has several shooters who are quite expert shots:

Targets.	Broke.
Robert Creech, Jr.	25
R. A. Creech	23
H. M. Baker	25
Robert Edwards	20
R. E. Stevens	16
J. H. Hill	13
J. B. Hales	6

The club will hold the regular weekly shoot tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock, and several of the members are expecting to better the above score.

The trap is located on the extension of S. E. Centre Street.

You are invited to bring your gun out and try your eye. Shells will be on hand, and there is also plenty of shade and seats.

GOLDSBORO GUN CLUB.

WOODLAND CRUMBS.

Mr. J. R. Moore, of Genoa, fell from a load of oats one day last week and was badly stunned, but is gradually getting well, we are glad to know.

Miss Bessie Moore, who recently returned from The Goldsboro Hospital, seems to be regaining her health, we are pleased to see.

Miss Ida Moore, of Raleigh, who has been visiting friends and relatives in this section, has returned home.

Mrs. Charley Moore, of Warsaw, who has been spending a few days at Genoa, returned home Sunday afternoon.

We are having fine weather now, and the farmers are doing their best. Corn and cotton are not very green and rather small for the time of year, but we hope there will be plenty made.

There seems to have been very little made this year on truck, and much of the stuff was not sold at all. Will the truckers quit or will they try, try again?

Little Master George Watkins, who has been confined to his bed for several days, is now on the road to recovery.

Remember that the Myrtle Springs are in business at the same old stand. If you want to keep cool and well bring your jug and help yourself.

BERLIN THE WORLD'S BEST LIGHTED CITY

Berlin, June 27.—Notwithstanding many obvious reasons why it might not be so, Berlin is, it claims, today the most brilliantly lighted capital of the world. The claim is not made because of darkened Paris and London. The claim is that under no sort of conditions is any other city as well or efficiently illuminated.

Its brilliant gas lamps have been increased in number from 4,000 to close on to 5,000, with a candle-power of 10,000,000. To this unit in efficiency have been added the most up-to-date methods of artificial lighting and extinguishing the burners. This latter is accomplished by suddenly increasing the pressure at the central plant, which turns a switch in each burner and automatically starts or stops the flame.
