Bettie Lee Carr Honored
Bettie Lee Carr was guest of honor at an enjoyable party when her mother, Mrs. M. L. Carr, entertained on Saturday afternoon at the community building observing Bettie Lee's fourth birthday. Upon arrival at 3 o'clock guests were given party hats. George Washington birthday motifs were carried out. The table was covered with a cutwork cloth with red, white and blue ribbons ending in large bows at each end. The decorated cake with four lighted candles centered the table. Refreshments consisted of ice cream, individual cakes and candy. Flags and balloons were given for favors. There were about 50 little friends present.

Mrs. Perry Hostess
Mrs. Susan Perry entertained members of her bridge club and invited guests last Thursday evening at her home. Spring flowers, including jonquils, hyacinths and spirea were used in decorations. Bridge was played progressively at 3 tables, during which Mrs. John Chadwick, Jr. scored high for club, and Mrs.

Mrs. Roger Uzzell high for visitors. The hostess served cherry tarts with cream, nuts and coffee. Those playing were Mesdames John Chadwick, Jr., Jack Crews, Sid Myers, Homer Henderson, Jack Sutton, Billie Sutton, Jack Jones, Roger Uzzell, Johnnie Johnson, Misses Mary Edith Hollingsworth, Margaret Morris, Mary Elizabeth Rouse. Cake and pretzels were served during the play.

Mrs. Crews Entertains
Mrs. Jack Crews entertained at a delightful party Friday evening at her home. Guests were invited for three tables of bridge. Bouquets of jonquils, spirea and camellias formed attractive decorations for the living room, in which players were received for
