Your local mechanic is on the job to fix your car, to advise on the mechanics... to keep it running. You've probably traded with him ever since he moved into your community. He's a local boy, one that you've known for years. His children go to school with yours, he may attend the same church you do. Another well known figure in your town.

Reddy works without a change!

Yes, Reddy is always on the job. He is there when you need him, whether to run a lathe or to light up your home. Your local power company, Tide Water Company is as well-known in your community as is your mechanic. Tide Water employees spend their salaries in your town... they're friends of yours. Reddy works for a dependable, business - managed power company. An asset to your community.
