

Getting Shot For The Summer

cough, small pox, diphtheria and treatment for many other communicable diseases is available free in the health departments of both Jones and Lenoir County, which Dr. Jones heads. Holding the frightened young fellow who is getting protection is his sister, Ethel Ervin.

Two Jones Countians get Prison, Two Acquitted in Craven County Robbery

In Craven County Superior Court this week two former Jones Countians, who were on a visit to Trenton from their New York homes, were handed heavy prison sentences and two "home" boys were acquitted in the hearing of the armed robbery charges in which Rhem Filling Station Operator Herman Staton accused the quartet of stealing $336 from him. Jesse Taylor drew a 7-10 year prison sentence and Lawrence Green was handed a flat 10-year hitch by Judge Henry Stevens of Warsaw who is presiding over the June term of Craven County's Superior Court. Sylvester Brown and Robert Lee Morgan were acquitted.

According to evidence presented at the trial Taylor and Green on a visit to Trenton from their New York home decided they wanted some whisky, so Brown volunteered to go with them to the filling station of Staton where they purchased three half-gallon jars of bootleg whisky. After the purchase of the whisky had been made one of the New Yorkers hoked a hay hook around Staton's neck, and as might be expected, without much difficulty took what cash he had on his person.

Brown is free under $300 bond on charge of violating the liquor laws and will be tried at the next term of Federal Court in New Bern. Taylor's car, a '49 Lincoln which was confiscated when they were caught, will be sold by Federal authorities and he will also face trial for transporting non-taxpaid whisky. Staton will also face trial at the same term of Federal Court for selling the stumphole brew.

Routine Session On Monday by Board of Jones Commissioners

A quiet meeting of routine business was held Monday at the Jones County Board of Commissioners met in June session. Reports and budgetary requests from a number of county departments were heard and discussed without final action.

County Accountant E. E. Franck presented the tentative 1953-54 budget, District Health Officer Dr. R. J. Jones offered his Jones County Health Department budget and reports were heard from the farm and home agents.

Road petitions, asking improvements of the "Adams Road" in Tuckahoe Township and the "Jones Road" in Beaver Creek Township were approved for transmittal to the highway department.

Manley Foscue and Lee Fordham were named Jones County's members of the Neuse River Drainage District.

Jo Ann Simmons, Hazel Ann Bender Dress Show Winners

The Trenton School Auditorium was the setting for the Jones County 4-H Dress Revue on Thursday night, May 21.

The first part of the program was a "Designers Court" at which four defendants were judged and sentenced to designer's workshop for being sloppily dressed and violating laws of good design.

Between acts and judges decisions, Jo Ann Simmons and Jean Bender, accompanied by Martha Oliver gave a dramatization of "Short'nin' Bread." Mary Ann Williams accompanied by Thelma Bender, did a lovely toe dance.

Narrators for the fashion show were Alta Ann Mallard and Carol Ann Cox with Nancy Carol Mallard as pianist. Girls modeling with winners as designated were: Juniors—Jo Ann Simmons, 1st place; Elizabeth Wells, 2nd place; Mary Ann Williams, 3rd place; Mary Sue Price, Glenda Harker, Ellender Jenkins and Joyce Whaley. miles east of Trenton. Two bridges between Trenton and Pollocksville would also need to be widened.

This route, in addition to permitting the ocean-bound traveler to miss the heavy traffic and narrow streets in the New Bern-Cherry Point area would also cut 11 miles off the distance from Kinston to Morehead City, representing an estimated half-hour saving in driving time.
