

Entry Deadline For State Fair Is Nearing

October 7 Dairy & Beef Animal Deadline; Other Livestock Date Of Last Entry Is October 12th

Closing dates for entries in the livestock departments of the 1953 N. C. State Fair are nearing, warns Dr. J. W. Pou, head of the Department of animal husbandry at State College and chairman of the Livestock Advisory Board of the Fair. The final date for entering dairy and beef cattle is Wednesday, October 7, and entries close in other livestock departments on Monday, October 12, Dr. Pou reported.

"From the applications already received," the State College leader declared, "we should have one of the largest and finest livestock shows in history at the 1953 State Fair October 20-24. Among the entries already on hand are a number of outstanding herds of dairy, beef and dual-purpose cattle from other states.

Dr. Pou pointed out that the senior dairy cattle show, the dual-purpose cattle department, and three breed divisions of the beef cattle show are "open to the world. The three "open" beef breeds are Hereford, Aberdeen-Angus and Shorthorn. Entries in the Brahman breed of beef animals are restricted to North Carolina owners.

"If prospective exhibitors of livestock have not yet received a copy of the State Fair Catalog and Premium List," said Dr. Pou, "there is still time to receive a free copy by writing: Manager, N. C. State Fair, P. O. Box 1388, Raleigh. The catalog includes a copy of the official entry form which must be used in filing applications for barn space."

Harry Prevette of Pine State Creamery is general superintendent of the State Fair livestock division. Department superintendents are: Dr. R. K. Waugh, head of the State College dairy husbandry section, dairy and dual-purpose cattle department; Jack Kelly, in charge of all State College Agricultural Extension animal husbandry work, swine department; S. J. Buchanan, State College Agricultural Extension animal husbandry, beef cattle director; and A. V. Allen, another State College specialist in animal husbandry, superintendent of the sheep department.

KINSTON STUDENT HEADS ROTC UNIT

Larry Moore French, Jr., Been Appointed Cadet Colonel and Wing Commander

Larry Moore French, Jr., of Kinston, has been appointed Cadet Colonel and Wing Commander of the East Carolina College Air Force ROTC. Moore is a senior of the college, and is majoring in political science in the department of social studies.

The new Cadet Colonel is a graduate of the Jasper High School in Craven County. Before entering East Carolina College he attended the University of North Carolina. For the past three years he has been enrolled as a student at the institution. He plans to enter the Air Corps as a career upon completion of his schooling.

Moore is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Moore French, of Kinston. He is married to the former Frances Downs, of Norfolk, Va.

Dry weather during August caused North Carolina's sweet potato growers to revise the estimated 1953 yield downward. Current estimate is for a yield of 4,050,000 bushels, 10 per cent below the August 1 estimate.
