Flue-Cured Tobacco Acreage For '60 Same as This Year

Pink Hill Woman Badly Hurt Monday In Kinston Wreck

Mrs. Minnie Turner, 40, wife of Edward Turner of Pink Hill route one, was critically injured at about 8 Monday night in a wreck at the corner of Gordon and Independent streets in Kinston.

Mrs. Turner suffered a severe skull fracture when she was thrown from her husband's car upon its impact with another driven by Cleveland David Jones, a Camp Lejeune Marine. After being given emergency treatment at Parrott Memorial Hospital Mrs. Turner was transferred to the University hospital at Chapel Hill.

James, Ted and Fleming Miller, children of Mrs. Turner by a former marriage, were also treated for minor bruises and minor cuts.

A third car, driven by Thurman Harvey Byrd of 2017 Greenleaf Road, was also involved in the crash.

Investigating Officer J. H. Griffin says the accident was caused by Turner failing to yield the right of way.

Hereford Sale Held Last Week Sells 65 Animals for $13,354

The 2nd annual calves sale of the North Carolina Hereford Breeders' Association last week at Kinston saw 65 animals auctioned off for a gross of $13,354.

Sale officials admitted that the price for both bulls and heifers was off this year in comparison with last, but satisfaction was expressed by most consignees for the average price of $270 paid for 17 bulls in the sale and the average price of $183 for the 48 open heifers that were offered.

Local farm officials expressed their content with the sale both from the price standpoint and from the fact that the vast majority of these finely bred Herefords remained in the Kinston area.

Bruce Foy of Jones County was the single biggest buyer at the sale, taking home 14 of the 65 animals sold. Other Jones County buyers included Tommy Hood and Fred Foscoe.

Ben F. Scarborough of Lenoir County bought the top bull offered in the sale at a $600 price. Hobson White and Ray Williams were other Lenoir County buyers.

NAMED DELEGATE

Caswell Training School Superintendent Dr. Frank Badrock was one of 67 delegates named Tuesday to the annual White House Conference on Youth and Children by Governor Luther Hodges.

A Thanksgiving season present from the United States Department of Agriculture came this week with announcement that the 1960 flue-cured tobacco acreage would be the same as this year's.

The total allocation is up a tiny fraction to 715,000 acres—an increase of 783 acres over that of this year, but this less than two-tenths of one percent will be used to make adjustments in holders of very small allotments.

The department also announced that discount parity supports would be continued in 1960 on Coker 139, Coker 140 and Dixie Bright 244 varieties of tobacco.

Neither announcement came as much of a surprise to tobacco growers, but it is always good to really learn exactly where they stand for the coming crop year so that financial, tenant and land arrangements can be begun.

All in all the flue-cured tobacco stocks in the nation are in better condition this year than they have been in nearly a decade, insofar as the tobacco grower is concerned.

This year the Flue-Cured Tobacco Stabilization Corporation has taken in the lowest percentage of any crop since just after World War II. At the same time the continuing increase in cigarette consumption has cut manufacturers' stocks down to their most reasonable level in over 10 years.

One other good trend that some marketing experts report is that the switch to so-called filter-tipped cigarettes has just about reached its peak.

Added to this is that the hard blow that was struck the tobacco grower by "homeogenized tobacco" has just about been absorbed, and now any increases in overall

W. L. Moore Sues Sister and Mother

A most unusual suit has been filed in the past week in Jones County Superior Court by W. L. Moore who is asking the court to force his mother, Mrs. Mattie Moore, and his sister, Dorothy Moore to pay him three fourths of $4,953.96 with interest since the day they received this money.

The complaint filed by Moore says he tends a farm upon which his mother is supposed to draw one-fourth of the tobacco income "in lieu of her unassumed dower" in the property.

Moore says the gross receipts of the 1959 tobacco crop—in four different sales at the New Knott Warehouse in Kinston—amounted to $4,953.96.

Moore asserts that his sister picked up the checks from each of the sales to cash them and collect her mother's rightful one-fourth, but Moore claims that his sister and mother kept the entire proceeds and have failed and refused after repeatedly being asked to give him what he alleges is rightfully his share of the crop proceeds.

Marriage License

Marriage license issued in the past week by Jones County Register of Deeds Mrs. D. W. Koonce included the following:

Everett Lee Aldridge, 26, of Kinston route two and Kathleen Mitchell, 22, of Trenton.

William T. Lowrimore, 20, and Gloria Louise Meadows, 18, of Maysville. Howard Frost, 25, to Kaye Frances Morris, 20, of Maysville. William Clem Mattocks, 22, to Evelyn Christine Stang, 21, of Maysville.

Tragic Accident Kills Trenton Third Grader

Eight year-old Johnny Lee Murphy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Murphy of Trenton route one, was crushed to death Tuesday afternoon in a tragic accident on his uncle's farm near his own home.

Jones County Coroner W. F. Hill says the little boy's death came when an abandoned house on the farm of Harry Lee Murphy crashed down on him.

The abandoned house was in the process of being torn down and Jimmy Heath was on top of it tearing off the tin roof. All the weather boarding had been torn off and only the studding was holding the roof up.

At about 4:30 Tuesday afternoon the little fellow, a third grader at Trenton Elementary School, apparently wandered unnoticed into the house. Either a gust of wind or the movements of Heath on top of the building caused it to suddenly collapse.

Nearly a half hour was required to remove his body. He was pronounced dead upon arrival at a Kinston hospital and attendants expressed the feeling that he had been instantly killed, having suffered a broken neck in the impact.

Jones Draft Board Looking Registrant

The Jones County Draft Board has posted notices, seeking to find James Harvey Winfield Jr., who is listed as delinquent.

Winfield's last known address was given as "General Delivery" in care of Thelma Williams at Burgaw.

Anyone knowing anything about his location is urged to forward this information to the board's clerk, Mrs. Lucy P. Simmons at Trenton.

Maysville.

Howard Frost, 25, to Kaye Frances Morris, 20, of Maysville.

William Clem Mattocks, 22, to Evelyn Christine Stang, 21, of Maysville.

Last UN Study Held By Trenton Methodists

The fourth and last session of the study on the United Nations was held Monday night in the Methodist Church. Mrs. C. P. Banks, secretary of missionary education, read the scripture and gave the meditation. Then the group prayed in unison the prayer for the United Nations.

Mrs. Grover Mallard taught the course and made a brief review before starting the last chapters. She stated that "To get a good view of facts and opinions on the United Nations, it is best to read at least two weekly papers. One should be on the liberal side, and the other conservative. In this way, you don't get just one opinion."

Mrs. M. E. Hines gave a talk on Women in the U. N. and a few of the outstanding women mentioned were Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, Mrs. Oswald B. Lloyd, Marian Anderson, and Mrs. Agda Rossel.

Then Mrs. Paul Huffman told what the U.N. has done for women. The Rev. Walton Bass gave a short summary on "Man—His expanding world," followed by Mrs. Fred Pippin, who talked on the Cultural Exchange. She reported that through exchange students, professors and entertainers, the world is being brought closer together. Mrs. Nannie Scott talked on Racial Tensions, and Mrs. Bec Parker talked on Support to Foreign Aid, and Trade Treaties.

Truckers Sued for Lubrication Bill

A suit was filed in Jones County Superior Court this week by Lubrication Engineers, Inc. of Fort Worth, Texas against Claude E. Hite and George W. Yancey of Maysville, trading as "Hite & Yancey Trucking Company".

The suit asks to recover from the two Maysville men a total of $376.10 with interest from January 1, 1959 for unpaid balances owed the Texas company for deliveries it made to the local truck operators.

ONE LONE DRUNK

The only arrest reported during the past week by Jones County Sheriff Brown Yates was that of Cleo Quinn of Trenton who was accused of public drunkenness.

Land Transfers

Real estate transfers recorded in the past week in the office of Jones County Register of Deeds Mrs. D. W. Koonce includes the following:

Grace E. Pollock to County of Jones one tract in Trenton Township.

L. T. Jenkins to Benjamin H. Gray one tract in Trenton Township.

A. B. Parker to Clifton M. Pollock 17.4 acres in Beaver Creek Township.

Fred W. Pollock to Clifton M. Pollock one tract in Beaver Creek Township.

BAD LEG INJURY

Isaac Cratch of Kinston route three suffered a badly mangled leg at about 6 Sunday night as he and Everett Dudley pushed his car eastwardly near the Banner Warehouse east of Kinston. John Richard Blount of Grifton route two had slowed down behind the car-pushing pair but Jodie Ham of Kinston route six rammed the Blount car, causing it to leap forward, pinning Cratch against his own car. Ham was indicted for drunken driving.

Kinston Church Bazaar Gets Help from Men

Some folks think that "Bazaars" are a feminine excuse for getting together and raising funds for some "worthy cause". But if that idea ever existed it has vanished from the male membership of Northwest Christian Church, a goodly part of which has been bruising its fingers and mending up its work clothes with an assortment of project that will be offered for sale at the annual Christmas Bazaar on December 4th. Above some of the distinctly non-female members of this congregation are seen at work on doll furniture that will be among the bric-a-bac on sale in this event. The "Saint's helpers" include Garland Bailey, Walker Suggs, Joe Simon,

Dean Evans and Clarence "Duck" Baker.

This one-day event will be held from 10:30 a. m. until 9 p. m. December 4th in Fairfield Community Center. A snack lunch will be served from 11:30 until 1:30 with country ham, biscuits, cakes and pies, coffee and pop. A barbecue supper will be served from 5 until 8.
