Trenton Baptist Church is planning a revival to begin December 28 and end Sunday January 3. Pastor Stanley Cover will be preaching each night.

Ruth Durham, Music-Education Director of the First Baptist Church in Beaufort, will be directing the choir and leading the congregational singing.

Miss Durham, a graduate of Southern Baptist Theological Seminary at Louisville, Ky., is a fine soloist and will be singing solos during the revival.

The public is not only cordially invited, but is urged to attend.

After the services Thursday night, December 31, there will be a special "watch party" for everyone; but the young people are especially invited.

Two films will be shown which will be of special interest to the young people. In addition, there will be games, group singing led by Miss Durham and refreshments for all.

Land Transfers

Only one real estate transfer was recorded in the past week in the office of Jones County Register of Deeds Mrs. D. W. Koomce and it was for two tracts of land in Tuckahoe Township from Raymond Mills to Marvin Mills.

'Brer Rabbit' Jumped In Wrong Briar Patch

Linwood Earl Grady of Washington thought he "had it made" Sunday night insofar as escaping from the law was concerned, but even the best made plans often go awry.

Grady's story goes like this. He hit a speed clock west of Kinston on US 70 at considerably better than the legal limit. Patrolman Billy Baker gave chase and Grady got faster, coming across Neuse River on the US 70 bypass at around 110 miles per hour.

Patrolman J. A. Crumpler, called to the crossroads of 70 and 55 by radio, was only able to say, "He went thataway" as Grady roared through that busy intersection—against a red light—at 90 miles an hour.

Patrolman Lloyd Pate was operating the "direction" station at the 55-70 crossing and announced that "he went thataway", pointing toward Kinston.

Once in Kinston the young white Beaufort Countian turned right and tore off into Lincoln City, and finally onto Oak Street, which comes to a sudden halt at its intersection with the A&EC railroad track.

There Grady deserted his panting flivver and without waiting to knock ran into a negro home, sat down and started acting as if it were "old home week".

The occupants of the home, however, desired a better explanation after hearing the patrol cars outside; so one of them stepped out and flagged down a patrolman who took Grady in custody.

He was charged with speeding over 100 miles an hour, reckless

Maysville Man Sued By Former Wife for Support of Daughter

Jasper Cannon of Maysville is defendant in an action filed in Jones County Superior Court this week by his former wife, Barbara, who is now Mrs. T. A. Pugh of Mobile, Alabama.

The suit alleges that the Cannons separated and that she went to Florida where she obtained a divorce and where an agreement was reached under which Cannon was supposed to pay $12.50 per week for support of their daughter.

Mrs. Pugh says Cannon has failed and refused to pay this, and is now in arrears in the amount of $3,850. She asks to recover that amount plus interest and $142 for her attorney's fee.

Frazier in Double Trouble after Escapade

Pete Frazier of 103 North Orion Street had a most unusual assortment of judges waiting to talk to him after a brief escapade Tuesday night.

Kinston police say Frazier got in a fight with Marvin Johnson of 903 Winters Street, doing considerable damage to Johnson's face and mouth.

Not content with this personal injury, Frazier armed himself with a sawed-off shotgun and blasted away at the Johnson home.

The police booked him, for assault with a deadly weapon with intent to kill, discharging firearms in the city and public drunkenness.

United States Commissioner W. J. Thomas issued an indictment against him for violation of the federal statute which forbids a person to own a sawed-off shot gun.

The Luby Hardisons Seeking Remove 'Cloud' from Title of Disputed Timberland Tract

A suit was filed this week in Jones County Superior Court by Mr. and Mrs. Luby Hardison of Pollockville in which they seek to clear the title to 676.2 acres of timberland in that same township.

The complaint filed by the Hardisons says that on August 25, 1959 they signed a 30-day option on the 676.2 acres of land to the Union Bag-Camp Paper Corporation at a price of $65 per acre.

The suit further alleges that on September 26, 1959—one day after the option had expired—an agent of the paper company came to them with a letter which stated in substance that they had agreed to the exercise of the option.

They allege that the letter was not notarized in their presence, but was later notarized and filed with the Register of Deeds of Jones County. They claim this was a fraudulent use of the letter and ask the superior court to have it removed from the records of the register of deeds.

They say they have suffered considerable financial loss because of this "cloud on their title", since later they were offered $75 per acre for the same land, which offer was withdrawn because of the paper company's effort to exercise its option.

Widow Asks $25,000 Damages for Husband Killed on Deer Hunt

Mrs. Mable Moore, widow and administratrix of Matthew Moore, this week filed a suit in Jones County Superior Court asking $25,000 damages from Leon Rowe of Onslow County.

The suit resulted from the death on December 23, 1957 of Moore, who was instantly killed on a deer hunt in Onslow County, in which he and Rowe were in the same hunting party.

The suit alleges that Moore was 42 years of age at the time of his death and had an average annual income of $3,000. The action alleges that Rowe did not use reasonable care in making sure what he was shooting at when he fired the shot that resulted in Moore's death.

In addition to asking the removal of the "cloud on their title" they also ask $6,732 damages for their direct financial loss, and an additional $42,238 loss which they suffered under similar circumstances when they had an opportunity to sell their entire 1,500-acre holdings in Jones County.

Hits City Car in Front of Police Station

Despite the state law against fireworks there was a lot of banging around Kinston over the past weekend. The noise came from crashing cars.

Most serious of these crashes came at 9 Sunday night almost in front of the police station on West King Street, and one of the scenes is shown here.

At right James Arthur Davis of 1216 Oak Street or Kinston route four (he gave both addresses) is seen at the wheel of the Buick after he had plunged head-on into the city-owned car driven by Utilities Superintendent Duke Petty.

Davis was charged with drunken driving and hospitalized for shock and possible internal injuries. Petty suffered facial injuries and Jan Whaley of 806 Jackson Lane, a passenger in the Petty car, was also given emergency treatment for minor injuries.

Petty was far to his right as the center line of the street in the foreground clearly illustrates.
