Azalea Festival Special Train Making Stops in Jones County

It is time for the Azalea Festival in Wilmington. The Atlantic Coast Line will operate a special train from points in Jones County to the Festival.

The train is scheduled to leave Pollocksville Saturday morning, April 8th at 7:50 a.m. and reach Wilmington in ample time for the big parade. Returning, the train will leave Wilmington at 4:45 p.m. p. m.

Last year 175 persons from Pollocksville made the journey by train, and a total of some 3,000 people used the special service provided by the railroad, over the entire section.

The Atlantic Coast Line is offering this opportunity for the convenience of persons going to the festival and especially to help reduce highway congestion and parking problems.

More details are available at the Atlantic Coast Line office in Pollocksville.

(The news release did not say but it may be safely assumed that the train will also stop at Maysville about 10 minutes after it leaves Pollocksville.)

'Fishermen' Held Under $2500 Bond for Having Wrong Tackle

Two weekend fishermen Monday were bound over to the June term of Lenoir County Superior Court following their arrest in Pink Hill Saturday night with the wrong kind of fishing gear.

Pink Hill Township Constable Horace Howard became suspicious of the two and got Police Chief J. C. Parker to help put them under arrest.

The fishermen are Charles J. Ibah and William Judson Jackson, both of Raleigh. They are charged with carrying a concealed weapon, to wit a loaded .45 caliber automatic pistol and a brand new set of burglary tools.

They were parked beside the whiskey store in Pink Hill when arrested, and Ibah has been linked with the 1955 theft of 62 cases of whiskey from this same store.

Both men are on parole from the state prison for breaking, entering and larceny, and their parole was temporarily revoked Monday after they were bound over to court by Magistrate J. J. Lyon.

Their fishing tackle — in addition to the pistol — included 3 crowbars, 3 chisels, 2 punches, 1 large screwdriver, 1 3-pound hammer, 1 pair of pliers, 1 pocket knife, 1 flashlight and 2 pair of cotton gloves.

Ibah, a native of Atlanta, has spent around 25 of his 49 years in prison for similar fishing expeditions and Jackson, aged 33, of Harnett County has a larcenous background too.

Divorce Asked After 14 Years of Marriage

A suit was filed this week in Jones County Superior Court by Hazel Stanley Wadsworth in which she asks for a divorce from her husband, Robert Pruitt Wadsworth on grounds of two years separation.

The complaint says the couple was married August 23, 1947 and had three children. They separated February 13, 1959 with Mrs. Wadsworth taking custody of the children and her husband, an employee at the Portsmouth Navy Station, paying her $200 per month for their support.

Lee's Chapter Home Club Meets With Mrs. Arthur in March

The Lee's Chapel Home Demonstration Club met in the home of Mrs. Milton Arthur in March.

The meeting was called to order, and the group sang, "Aunt Dinah's Quilting Party." The devotional was given by Mrs. Arthur.

The meeting was then turned over to Mrs. Richard Harker, who gave the demonstration in ad-sense of the agent, Mrs. Manley Gray. The Club had chosen "Hair Styling."

Mrs. Harker, who has assisted her friends with their hair problems, for a number of years, cut and styled Mrs. Denford Eubanks and Mrs. Frank Murphy's hair.

Mrs. Jerry Riggs gave a garden report, suggested that now is a good time to plant strawberries for the 1962 crop.

Mrs. Coy Howard, reported on the County Council meeting.

Mrs. Denford Eubanks told of attending a sewing school in New Bern, where she learned the use of modern sewing machines and attachments.

Mrs. Arthur gave two book reports, "The White Witch" by Elizabeth Goudge, and "Land of Omelets" by Kraft. Mrs. R. O. Moss reported on the book, "Dough, Ray and Me" by Kilmer. An Easter contest game was played, Mrs. Harker won the prize.

The hostess served refreshments carrying out the Easter theme.

The April meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Denford Eubanks.

SUNDAY WRECK

Cars driven by Carl L. Winstead of Cove City and C. A. Ridge tangled at Queen and King streets in Kinston Sunday afternoon with $200 estimated damage. Winstead was charged with running a red light.

Accomplices in Marine Murder Plead Guilty as Accessories

Tuesday afternoon when Harold A. Smith, Eugene Jacobs and Jesse Perry were called for trial on charge of murdering Sgt. Robert Eugene Schroeder last July in Lenoir County, Jacobs and Perry tendered pleas of guilty to the charge of being accessories after the fact of murder. This plea was not accepted by the court.

Smith, who confessed to the actual kidnap and murder of the Ohio Marine is on trial for his life. Solicitor Water Britt last Friday refused to accept a plea of guilty to first degree murder from Smith.

Smith and Perry are from Memphis, Tennessee and Jacobs is from Durham.

Sgt. Schroeder was murdered when he stopped to help the trio get gas for their car which was stopped south of Kinston. Smith's confession says that he got in Schroeder's car to go for some gas with the intention of robbing the "Good Samaritan", and then feared that he had been recognized and decided to kill his benefactor. Smith says the other two helped rob the man's body and help conceal the body.

To Guy Loftin, 29, and Dorothy Lee Carter, 23, both of Trenton route 1.

To James Hudson Bearden, 27, or Greenville and Pauline Murrill Larkins, 26, of Trenton.

Senator Sam Ervin Says...

WASHINGTON — The Senate has passed a bill to expedite and accelerate the use of educational television in our nation's schools and colleges. I voted for the bill which will authorize a grant of up to $1 million for North Carolina to establish or improve educational broadcasting facilities. Television has immense possibilities in the field of education. Already North Carolinians have seen an effective use of television through WUNC-TV Station in Chapel Hill. The measure now goes to the House for consideration.

ANTI-CRIME DRIVE — A concerted drive against crime in America has been called for by Attorney General Kennedy and has been sanctioned in speeches in the Senate. The Attorney General has appointed an Assistant to head the Anti-Crime Division of the Justice Department. Hearings before the Senate Rackets Committee have shown the need for federal direction of this drive. Local officers find often-times that they are at a loss to cope with a national organized crime syndicate or even a criminal who operates in several states. I favor new hearings in this field by the Senate Judiciary Committee.

TEXTILES — Senators from the major textile producing states have suggested a flexible quota as one means of assistance to the textile industry. The President is aware of the textile problem and has appointed a cabinet level committee, including Secretary of Commerce Hodges, to study the situation. I believe and have so stated in the Senate that a system of flexible quotas by country and by category will deal with the present situation in such a way as to give our friends in foreign countries such reasonable proportion of our domestic market as they need to have, and at the same time preserve the investments of our local manufacturers in the domestic market and the jobs of our textile workers. 230,000 North Carolina families earn their livelihood in textile plants. Since 1947 the United States has seen 838 textile mills liquidated with a loss of over 400,000 American jobs. This unfortunate situation is due to a maladministration of the Reciprocal Trade Agreement Act. When Cordell Hull recommended that the United States enter into a reciprocal trade agreement with other nations, he said it was not contemplated by this concept that the United States would encourage the importation into the United States of articles which were produced in the United States in surplus quantities. He said to have true reciprocity the United States should make agreements with other nations whereby the United States would import from those other nations the goods which the United States either did not manufacture or could not manufacture effectively. We need to return to that original concept.

NEWEST IN COMPACTS — A tiny, unsinkable dinghy, weighing only 20 pounds, is the newest thing in water transportation. Made in Dayton, Ohio, for sportsmen, it's 7½ feet long.
