Croatan Forest Funds Divided Between Three East Carolina Counties

Congressman David N. Henderson states that 3 Third District Counties will share $30,832.05 in National Forest receipt on October 4 for use in school and road programs.

"Carteret County will receive $11,367.21, Craven County $12,101.42, and Jones County $7,363.42 of the total," Henderson said.

These funds represent 25 percent of the receipts from timber sales, leases, and other uses of these public lands, allocated annually to counties where National Forest lands are located.

Counties share amounts proportionate to the number of acres of National Forest within their boundaries.

This year, 26 North Carolina Counties will receive $143,162.64 of funds earned on the Pisgah, Nantahala, Croatan and Uwharrie National Forests.

Nationally, 154 National Forests returned over $27,000,000 to counties.

Other returns include use of another 10 percent of receipts by the U. S. Forest Service in construction and maintenance of roads and trails on the areas where funds were collected.

National Forests stimulate wide tourist travel and trade, provide valuable wildlife and fisheries harvest, supply raw materials for forest industries, protect and maintain water supply, and offer public outdoor recreation vital to health and happiness of the Nation.

The Government will pay the National Forest funds to the office of Governor Sanford who later will pay each county its proportionate share.

The flood of tobacco that has been dumped by the major buying companies into the Flue-Cured Tobacco Co-operative Stabilization Corporation has forced a one-week sales holiday on all tobacco markets from Monday October 15th, through Friday October 19th.

Through the end of September the Stabilization co-op had received 95,459,176 pounds of the 1962 crop, or 9.53 per cent of the entire sales on all markets.

The worst flood has come from the Old Belt, which through September had put 21.15 per cent of its gross sales in the co-op pool, or a total of 13,437,560 pounds.

The Middle Belt was next worst in this category with 15.96 per cent of its gross sales in the pool; or 13,576,534 pounds.

The big Eastern Belt, which includes the Kinston market, had put 10.61 per cent of its gross sales in the co-op pool; or 31,655,430 pounds.

The Border Belt put 9.14 per cent of 31,916,954 pounds in the pool.

And the lowest percentage to go into the pool came from the Georgia-Florida belt which put only 2.38 per cent in; or just 4,872,698 pounds.

The co-op already had on hand 339,220,507 pounds from earlier crops, dating back to 1955.

The drying, stemming and processing facilities used by the co-op could not keep up with the flood of tobacco being poured into the pool, and this forced the co-operative to ask for the one-week sales recess.
