

Today's Good Turn . . .
GINGER-APPLE SAUCE

Observe this bologna. It's solid meat . . . already pre-cooked when purchased. This means the Outdoor Chef with the pre-cooked point in his favor, plus this Ginger-Apple Sauce, can achieve a Hit complete with Flourishes . . . and with light hearted ease.

What the spit roasting does is sizzle-heat the bologna. Bestows brown, light crustiness on the outside while keeping a juicy tenderness inside. What the Ginger-Apple Sauce does is add a racy-tasting, thick glaze that sticks in a high glisten. It's a proud, hot, zesty sauce made with canned apple sauce for rich body and apple tang, touched off with the pungencies of garlic, Worcestershire, chili powder, gingersnaps and the like. Tastes great on the meat!

To serve, slice the bologna thick or thin.

GINGER-APPLE SAUCE
for spit-roasted Bologna

- | | |
|---|---------------------------------------|
| 1/2 cup gingersnap crumbs (10-12 snaps) | 1-2 teaspoons chili powder (to taste) |
| 2 cups canned apple sauce | 1 1/2 teaspoons salt |
| 1 teaspoon instant minced garlic | 1/4 cup salad oil |
| 1/2 cup cider vinegar | 1 cup water |
| 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce | Several dashes Tabasco, to taste |

Combine all ingredients mixing well; cook and stir over moderate heat 10 to 12 minutes. Makes about 3 1/2 cups sauce.

Special Ham-Bologna . . . This is an inexpensive meat. Buy a large bolonga—4 pounds or more—and remove any casing; score as you would a ham, inserting cloves if desired. Place over hot coals and spit-roast over medium heat for about 10 minutes, then brush with sauce. Continue roasting, and basting with sauce, for about 25 minutes until meat is heated through and is crisp and brown on the surface. Slice and serve on buttered bread slices or buns. Thin any remaining sauce with a little water or broth. Heat and serve with meat. Makes 8-10 servings.

HOT MACARONI SALAD: EASY SUMMER MAIN DISH

When it's simply "too hot to cook," reach for this easy Hot Macaroni Salad recipe. It's a 10-minute family-pleaser—substantial enough to satisfy appetites whetted by a day of swimming yet light enough to be appealing when the temperature and humidity soar.

Canned condensed celery soup provides the quick-fix "sauce-dressing" for the macaroni salad, giving it inviting flavor and satiny texture. Other good things in the salad are cheese, bacon, onion, green pepper, and pimiento.

Provide other tempting foods to round out your meal: a platter of cold luncheon meats, tomato wedges, crisp bread sticks, pineapple sherbet topped with sliced fresh peaches, and milk and iced tea.

Hot Macaroni Salad

- | | |
|--|------------------------------------|
| 4 slices bacon | 1 cup shredded mild process cheese |
| 1/2 cup chopped onion | 2 tablespoons diced pimiento |
| 1/2 cup chopped green pepper | 4 cups cooked macaroni |
| 1 can (10 1/2 ounces) condensed cream of celery soup | |

In saucepan, cook bacon; remove and crumble. Cook onion and pepper in drippings until tender. Stir in soup, cheese, and pimiento; heat until cheese melts, stirring now and then. Add macaroni; heat, stirring. Makes 4 to 6 servings.
