New School Board Sworn In, Elects Allen Superintendent, Re-elects all Principals, Hears Integration Reports

The Jones County Board of Education held its regular monthly meeting Monday. Clerk of Superior Court Walter P. Henderson, administered the oath of office to the recently appointed members.

They are: Charles Hughes, J. C. West Jr., Walter Ives, Marvin Philyaw, and John Booth and each will serve for a period of four years. West was elected chairman of the board.

J. W. Allen was elected to a two-year term as superintendent of Jones County Schools beginning July 1, 1967.

The following principals were elected to serve during the 1967-68 school year: C. C. Franks, Jones High School; Z. A. Koonce Jr., Trenton School; William Clifton Philyaw, Comfort Elementary School; John L. Simmons, J. W. Willie Elementary School; Edna S. Smallwood, Trenton Elementary School; Jeter P. Taylor Jr., Jones Central High School; William A. Taylor, Maysville Elementary School; Julia Whitty, Alex H. White Elementary School and James E. Wynn, J. E. Morris Elementary School.

Mrs. Gladys C. Oakley was employed to teach remedial reading at Jones Central High School for the unexpired term of the 1966-67 school year, and Mrs. Kitty L. Hargett was likewise elected to serve as librarian at Comfort Elementary School. Mrs. Rebecca Foy will function as a library clerk at Jones Central High School under the ES EA program.

The Board voted to accept the results of the freedom of choice period which ended March 30, 1967. Although the results are inconclusive at this time, it appears that there will be a decrease in the number of pupils choosing to attend schools where the majority of students and faculty members will be of the opposite race.

Approximately seventy-eight (78) Negro pupils are attending predominately white schools during the current school year. Miss Janie M. Henderson's bid of $41 for the Maysville School bell was accepted and the superintendent was directed to advertise for bids for electrical wiring at Comfort School and termite control service at J. E. Morris School.

Carl Ipock Resigns; Federal Court Term in Trenton Approved and One Tax Complaint Before Board Meeting

At its April session which was also used as a day of equalization and review the Jones County Board of Commissioners did the following:

Accepted the resignation of Assistant County Agent Carl Ipock.

Approved the use of the Jones County Court Room by Judge John Larkins on April 17th through 20th for a term of federal court.

Passed a resolution backing an REA bill in congress.

Appointed Mrs. Myrtle Buck to the county library board, replacing Ralph Jones.

Approved County Agent Jimmy Franck and Home Agent

Myrtle Frank attending a short course at State University.

Authorized hiring one person to help a state veterinarian run tests on Jones County cattle this year.

Approved introduction of a bill in the general assembly increasing the penalty for late tax listing from the $1 minimum at present to a $5 minimum.

Accepted a gift from Larkins of book shelves and a safe in the old offices he occupied for many years in the court house.

Referred a request to the Jones County Ministerial Association to County Attorney James Hood. The association had written a letter to board

Man Who Murdered His Pregnant Wife In 1954 Now Wants 'Out' on Grounds His Constitutional Rights Abridged

A handful of legal sounding documents and assorted letters is on file with Jones County Superior Court Clerk Walter Henderson in the case of one Donald W. Chadwick, formerly of Jones County; now of Jackson, route 1, or Odom Prison.

On April 18, 1954 Chadwick bludgeoned his 7-month pregnant wife, Doris Marie, to death with a 12 gauge shotgun, then fled into the woods after breaking in a neighboring home and stealing another shotgun. His shotgun had been so badly bent in beating his young wife to death that he apparently was afraid to shoot it.

Fortunately for law enforcement officers the gun Chadwick stole had a faulty firing mechanism, and would not fire.

When caught he admitted the slaying, pleaded guilty in open court to second degree murder and was given 25 to 30 years in prison.

He has escaped from custody twice since his imprisonment.

Now he says that one of his brothers got 27 years cut off his prison sentence because his constitutional rights had been abridged, so he says he believes his were also abridged.

He first demanded a copy of all the records in his case from Henderson, who wrote him that there would be a $3 charge for copying the records. He then asked Superior Court Judge Howard Hubbard to force Henderson to give him the copies free . . . Hubbard refused.

Now Chadwick is petitioning Federal District Judge John Larkins for relief in the matter.

Larkins was Chadwick's lawyer when he pleaded guilty in 1954.

Two Jones Arrests

In the past week Jones County Sheriff Brown Yates reports booking just two people at the county jail. Paul E. Brown of Richlands was charged with assault on a female and Alfred Jennings of Trenton was charged with assault with a deadly weapon. He is charged with shooting at his wife with a shotgun and one pellet reportedly hit her in the lip.

Mrs. Koonce Paid $18 for Tree Limb Under Order from Recorder's Court

The most unusual case cleared among 28 in the past week in Jones County Recorder's Court was that in which James Collins of New Bern was ordered to pay Mrs. Alta Koonce $18.

Collins cut a limb from a tree in the Koonce yard while moving the old Floyd Huggins chairman James Barbee asking "information about the county".

And as a board of equalization and review the board turned down Rom Mallard's request that the value of some timber lands be reduced.

house, and was indicted by Mrs. Koonce, who said she had paid a tree surgeon $18 to patch up her bruised tree.

More routine court affairs included Jerry Jones Jr. of Pollockville being given a choice between 30 days in jail or paying $25 for medical bills of Donald Williams and Guy Christopher Simmons of Pollockville being given a choice between paying $90 to Everett Williams or going to jail for 30 days. They had both been charged with simple assault.

Charles Bender, also of Pollockville, had a sterner choice: 90 days in jail or payment of $75 per month for support of his family.

Enoch Roberts of Maysville paid $19.50 for being publicly drunk.

Billy Wiggs of Richlands route 2 had a larceny charge withdrawn and the plaintiff had to pay the court costs.

Wilber Metts of Trenton asked for a jury trial of drunk and disorderly charges against him.

In the traffic department the following paid fines: Joseph William Hill of Comfort $119 for drunken driving, Kenneth Elmer, Myron Miller, Larry Osterlander all of Camp Lejeune for speeding.

Alonza Ward of Pollockville route 1 appealed a conviction for drunken driving.

Other speeders were Robert Furth Parker of New York City, Jacky Milton Eubanks of Trenton route 2, Matthew Monette of Portsmouth, Va., Wilda Britt Thomas of Goldsboro, Garland Wayne Smith of Maysville, John Henry Rouse of Goldsboro and Lloyd Lee Dunn of Kinston route 6.

Other traffic cases cleared from the calendar were against Richmond Croom Jr. of Kinston, Everett Lee Williams of Pollockville route 1, Calvin Jones of Fayetteville, Jesse Darius Banks of Maysville, Alfred Abner Hargett Jr. of Pollockville route 1, Maude Franks Holt of Maysville, Randall Owens Dawson of Kinston route 3, Arthur Lee Taft of Dover route 2, and Edward Lee Davis of Kinston.

Scene is Set for Kinston's Second Azalea Arts Festival

Everything is in readiness for Kinston's second Azalea Arts Festival, sponsored by the Kinston Arts Council, which had such huge success with its first festival last April.

Again this year Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt Minges have turned their Hillcrest beautyspot over to the council and it will be the setting for the 2-day event which begins on Sunday afternoon at 1.

Sunday there will be a tour of the Hillcrest gardens which have thousands of camella and azalea in the midst of a 70-acre tract that is bordered on the west by a 10-acre lake.

The tea house pictured here is the center piece of this 70-acre area of loveliness, and a new gazebo has been added in the same style near the water's to the area.

Also on Sunday a showing of southern contemporary art, along with works by Native Kinston Artists Mrs. Carrie Braxton McAlister and Henry Pearson and Joe Cox, John Skinner, Edwin Voorhees and George Blow will be held and at 3 Sunday afternoon the East Carolina College Symphonic Band will give a concert under the direction of Herbert Carter.

Monday the gates will be open- edge to lend additional charm ed at 10 a.m. and the garden tour and art show will be open and at Noon a lunch and fashion show will begin the formal program to be followed by a talk by Malcolm Dunn, an authority on 17th and 18th century design, after which a special presentation to the North Carolina Governor's Mansion will be made.

In the unhappy event of heavy rain the festival headquarters will be at Northwest Elementary School.

Lawyer Bids in Vast Interest in Two States for $500

Pamlico County Lawyer Bernard Hollowell last Friday paid $500 for alleged title to "all the lands of David Allison in North Carolina and Tennessee" at an auction held at the court house door in Trenton.

Hundreds of thousands of acres of land were granted to Allison late in the 18th century, and Hollowell bid $500 for whatever claims E. S. English may have on these Allison grants.

Those who have taken the closest look at this matter say that Jack Taylor of New Bern has grown tired of Indian Affairs in Colorado and is now interested in timberlands in Onslow, Jones, Pender, New Hanover and Craven counties.

Gross Child Neglect

Juvenile Officer Paul Trimboli indicted James and Emma Lee Gooding of 812 Lincoln Street Saturday night for child neglect. Neighbors called Sgt. Trimboli and informed him that the child had been shot when the father dropped a .22 pistol at about 10 Saturday morning. It was after 10 that night before the child received medical aid, and then only after the officer took the child to a doctor. It suffered a flesh wound in the left shoulder area.
