WEYERHAUSER TO BUILD $50 MILLION PLANT NEAR NEW BERN; ECONOMY BLOOMS

Tuesday George Weyerhaeuser, president of the giant Weyerhaeuser Paper Company, announced an additional $75 million dollar investment in Eastern North Carolina with $50 million of that amount to be invested in a new paper mill on Neuse River seven miles upstream from New Bern.

The other $25 million goes into expansion of the company's huge plant at Plymouth on Roanoke River.

Weyerhaeuser said the new plant would employ 285 people when completed and would give work to at least another 500 in the pulp woods of this area.

Weyerhaeuser also stated that his company would use about 50 million gallons of water per day from Neuse River but treatment of the water would return it to the river 99 per cent as good as when it was taken out. He also said the very latest equipment would be installed in the new plant to keep air pollution at the very lowest rate possible.

The mill will be located on the north bank of Neuse River just east of the old Streets Ferry landing. Construction is expected to get underway immediately.

The product of the plant will be shipped — largely by rail to the Plymouth plant for further processing, and some will be sold to other processors.

East is Blooming

This big industrial arrival is the biggest of many good news notes for Eastern North Carolina this spring.

Du Pont has its third dacron plant under construction at Wilmington.

Texas Gulf Sulphur is still building on its huge Beaufort County phosphate mining complex.

Numerous other large companies are exploring the Beaufort-Pamlico-Craven areas for further phosphate mining potential.

At Morehead City a $13 million dollar port expansion program, largely for handling phosphate is well underway.

Work is nearly completed on the extension of four-lane highway all the way from New Bern to Morehead City.

Work is to begin this spring on an extension of the four-lane US 70 bypass around Kinston.

At Kinston Bohannon Tobacco Company has under construction a new processing plant which will replace its old plant on Heritage Street.

Work will begin this summer on Kinston's sewage disposal system.

Work will begin in early summer on the expansion of the major runway at Stallings Field.

Major improvements are in the biennial state budget for both Caswell Training School and The Dobbs Farm.

Blue Bell's garment plant at La Grange is nearing completion.

Pink Hill's new garment plant is in production.

Kinston's J & R Shirt Company recently completed an expansion program.

Kinston's Albain Shirt Company is also exploring further expansion.

Wall Manufacturing Company just north of Kinston is comfortably settled in its new plant.

Smith-Douglas is now in full production at its new fertilizer plant north of Kinston.

Frosty Morn Packing Company has recently completed a minor expansion and has plans on the drawing boards for a major expansion in the near future.

Roy Poole is limbering up his bankroll and getting set to build the finest shopping center in this neck of the woods.

And the Lenoir County News Co. Inc. is even moving into a new home sometime early in June in celebration of the beginning of its 20th year in business.

Two Men Held for Carnal Knowledge, Both Victims Reported Pregnant

Two men await trial at the September term of Jones County Superior Court on charge of carnal knowledge of minor children. They are Lee Fryar of Trenton Route 2 and Wallace Leo Harper, a former Jones Countian, who was returned last week from Chesapeake, Va., where he recently has been living. Harper is charged with having relations with a 14 year-old girl who was in the hospital having a baby, allegedly fathered by Harper.

Fryar was arrested on a similar charge last week but when the hearing into the charge was held he was bound over for trial on charge of statutory rape, since testimony in the hearing indicated that the child Fryar had relations with was only 11 years old. Court house officials say it is also stated by members of this child's family that she too is pregnant.

Other arrests reported in the past week by Sheriff Brown Yates include that of Leslie Eugene West of Camp Lejeune and Millard F. Coble of Maysville star route who were both charged with drunken driving.

Homecoming

All past, present and potential members of Friendship Free Will Baptist Church are reminded that the annual Homecoming Day services will be held at that well known Jones County church at 11 Sunday morning, after which the picnicking on the church grounds will be held, assuming of course that all who come bring a well stocked picnic basket for the event.

Two Civil Suits Ask Divorce, Payment Of $3,223.48 Debt

Two civil suits filed in the office of Superior Court Clerk Walter Henderson in the past week ask a divorce and collection of an old debt.

Ambro R. Williams seeks to divorce Nora L. Williams, alleging their marriage November 23, 1936 and their separation in November 1963.

Nathan and Isabella Gilbert are seeking to collect $3,223.48 which they allege is owed to them on a note they hold against Wallace Lee, executor of the estate of Annie Franklin Lee, dated February 15, 1963. They ask the full amount of the note and interest from that date.

Society Chartered

This week the Jones County Historical Society, Inc., has received its charter from Secretary of State Thad Eure and is now in business to do all the things historical societies generally do. The chartering officers of the organization are John Thompson, Alta Koonce, Myrtle Brock, Carol Mattocks and James Hood.

Maysville School Holds Registration

The annual pre-school registration was held at Maysville Elementary School April 27. Pre-schoolers and their parents were directed into the auditorium where they were greeted by Principal W. A. Taylor.

Taylor and Ava Davenport, First Grade Teacher, made helpful comments and suggestions to the parents, after which refreshments were served.

After visiting in the first grade classroom, the pre-schoolers were presented booklets "My First Book", which were made by the first graders. The guests stayed for the school entertainment by George W. Scutt, who sang, played the accordion and made history "art talks."

Recorder's Court Has Busy Two Weeks; Three Held for Superior Court and Many Traffic Cases are Cleared

The past two weeks have been busy for the judge and staff of Jones County Recorder's Court.

Lee Fryar of Trenton route 2 and Wallace Leo Harper of Chesapeake, Va. are held for superior court on morals charges involving minor children and Jimmy Morgan of Pollocksville is held for superior court on two forgery charges.

Morgan was also tried for receiving stolen goods and given a 30-day jail term suspended on condition he pay the court costs and make $25 restitution for the property he received.

Willie Baker of Maysville was found not guilty of simple assault.

James Albert Taylor of Trenton route 1 was found not guilty of non-support.

W. S. Rogerson of Williams-ton paid $75 and $94.28 to clear up two worthless checks he passed and paid the court costs.

Alonza Mills of Trenton route 2 paid $119, and Arthur William Jenkins of Kinston paid $120 for drunken driving and Virginia E. Hudson of Columbia, S. C. who was charged with drunken driving paid $10 for reckless driving.

Speeders who paid off included Herbert L. Raynor of Rocky Mount route 4 who paid the court costs for speeding 90 miles an hour, John Bryan O'Neal of Kinston who paid $16; Jerry Allen Tyndall of Deep Run route 1 who paid $31, Stanley Sanders of New Bern $26, William Earl Canady of Pollocksville $31 and Jake Koonce West of Trenton route 1 $31.

Christine Godley of Maysville, Jonny Kinsey of Trenton route 2 and Lucille Collins of Maysville each paid $16 for public drunkenness.

Lonnie Felix Griffin of Comfort had a 6-month jail term suspended for assault with a deadly weapon and non-support on condition he pay $90 per month into the court to support his family and remain on probation for two years.

John Morris Jenkins and Noah Francis Cumbo of Trenton route 1 were found not guilty of driving without a license.

Linda Rae Wade of Kinston paid $26 for driving without a license and Ralph Columbus Tyndall Jr. of Pink Hill route 1 paid $16 for the same offense.

Others who paid off for minor traffic charges included Robert Jenkins Johnson of Dover, Thomas Eugene Tripp of Ernul route 1, James A. Powell of Goldsboro, Dallas Gurganus of Maple Hill route 1, Jimmy Lee Jones of Kinston, Chester Wilsoncroft of Camp Lejeune, Everett Lee Meadows of Maysville, Oscar B. Jones of Pollocksville, Veenon Lewis Sammons of Maysville route 1 and Bishop Wright of New Bern.

Augustus Warren Jones of Kinston route 3 was found not guilty of failure to yield the right of way.

First Graders Give Program April 29th

The regular monthly assembly program at Maysville Elementary School was presented April 29 by the First Grade.

After the devotional and introductions by Deborah Ferrell, Becky Hughes and Donna Collins, the children presented "The Little Red Hen" and "Sally Ann Remembers", two plays with colorful costumes and clever group songs and solo parts.

Those participating were: Jeffrey Ferrell, Mark Hill, Jane Philyaw, Alice Morris, James Thomas, Donna Collins, Lydia Eubanks, Ann Dudley, Rosa Southard, Kenneth Metts, Becky Hughes, Stevie Yates, Lucille Cannon, Patricia Edwards, Tommy Mercer, Gail Britt, Jeanette Yates, Mary Ellen Meadows, Deborah Ferrell and Frances Williams.

Dail's Smoke House Looted of $1500 Over Weekend

Thieves who had a taste for finely cured meats knocked a hole through the wall of Harold Dail's store at Albritton Crossroad Saturday night and hauled off a lot of loot.

Principal item in this loot was about $1500 worth of cured meats; including many country hams.

Dail operates a market, filling station, country store and also has the area's only set up for old-fashioned curing of meats; which includes smoking hams, shoulders, bacons, sausage, Tom Thumbs and pickling pork.

Area police are looking for thieves who have a taste for the finest kind of Eastern Carolina cured meats. They reason, fairly logically, that this stealing wasn't done by yankees.

Jones Student Chowan Graduate

"MY SENTIMENTS EXACTLY," Guy Alfred Kinsey, Jr., right, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Kinsey of Trenton, seems to say by his expression as Larry Wallace, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Wallace of Route 4, New Bern, is puzzled by a handful of cards in Chowan College's Student Store. Both Chowan students are among 216 candidates for graduation during commencement exercises completing Chowan's 118th year on May 28.
