COURTING MORE CRIME

It is generally conceded that police are hamstringing because of legal technicalities, that courts are too lenient, that wrong-doers have an unobstructed door back into society...

who is representing the people against whom these crimes are committed, was remiss? Whatever the reason, the permissiveness that prevails in rearing children and on the college campus was perfectly exhibited in the November term of Carter Superior Court.

Feed Quality Varies, Needs Chemical Test

More farmers are substituting scientific analysis for their own sense of sight, smell and feel in determining the quality of livestock feed.

It's the most accurate method, no matter how experienced the farmer is in pulling out a feed sample for personal inspection. What he thinks he sees and smells may not be what his livestock is getting.

Extension specialists at North Carolina State University point out that feed quality varies with the crop, the amount of lime and fertilizer applied, the season, the stage of cutting, the preservation and storage. And this season, corn blight is a factor.

It's possible to "eyeball" the feed in making an estimate of quality," suggests dairy specialist Guy S. Parsons, "but looking at the feed, smelling it and feeling it provides, at best, an estimate of quality."

He added, "A lot of farmers have looked at some hay or silage and wondered just how good they really were. About the only way to find out for sure is to have a chemical analysis run on the feed."

The results from the N. C. Forage and Grain Analysis Program indicate that there is a great variation in feed quality. For example, hay has shown a content of crude protein of from 3.6 to 13.6 percent.

In still another case, a defendant, charged with rape, was sentenced to 15 years in prison after pleading guilty to a reduced charge of assault with intent to commit rape. Ironically, the judge, in pronouncing sentence, commented that failure by the court to prescribe duress would serve as license for similar acts!

Could it be that the judge understands what rape is but doesn't comprehend use of narcotics, repeated breaking into homes and terrorizing of a community, causing heads of households to arm themselves? Or could it be that the solicitor...

Analysis results will give the farmer the moisture, crude protein, crude fiber, estimated digestible nutrients, estimated digestible protein and estimated net energy in each sample.

It can also provide information of content nitrate, calcium and phosphorus.

"Having this service will be a big help to our livestock farmers," Parsons commented. "This is especially true this year since blighted silage will be fed. This silage will be lower in protein and energy. Extreme care should be taken to balance properly gain mixes to be fed with this type of silage so that maximum utilization of the forage can be made."

Parsons cautioned that the feed should be tested well in advance of feeding.

Farm Land Prices Still Remain High

In spite of a so-so crop year in this area because of the dry weather the price of farm land still remains high — if anything higher than last year if the first large sale of farmland for the season is an accurate gauge.

Four tracts auctioned off for Jack Crews of LaGrange Saturday went for a total of $171,400. The Benton farm just east of LaGrange sold its 42 acres with-out tobacco allotment for $49,400, the Jesse Harrison tract of 16 acres went for $19,100, the Frank Grant tract in Greene County with 25 acres went for $31,600 and the Walters Farm east of LaGrange with about 170 acres went for $71,300.

SEYMOUR GRADUATES

Navy Petty Officer Third Class Alfred J. Seymour, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver J. Seymour of Route 6, Kinston, was graduated from Electronics School at the Service School Command, Great Lakes, Ill. The 52 week school provides courses in the maintenance and repair of electronics communications and radar equipment. Seymour attended Lenoir County Community College.

FISHER MAKES SPEC-4

Rodolph C. Fisher, Jr., whose parents live at 400 College St., Kinston, recently was promoted to Army Specialist Four near Lai Khe, Vietnam, where he is serving with the 554th Engineer Battalion. Spec. Fisher, assigned to the Battalion's Company B, entered the army in April 1967 and completed basic training at Ft. Bragg where he was last stationed. He holds the Combat Infantryman Badge, two awards of the Good Conduct Medal and the Purple Heart.

JUVENILES CHARGED

Timothy and Michael Grimes of Kinston, juveniles, have been charged with breaking into to Bethel Academy last week where they did about $150 damage to vending machines, stole about $35 in coins from the machines and stole several records they found in an office.

Veteran enrollments in VA education programs for 1970 was up an unprecedented 31 percent over 1969.

Intensive care units are to be constructed at VA hospitals in Buffalo, Providence, Shreveport, Iowa City, Miami and Fayetteville, at a cost of nearly $2 million bringing the total number of such units to 93.

Appeals Suspended Dope Peddling Rap

Seventy five year-old Temple Moye of 427 Sampson Street last week filed notice of appeal after being given a suspended sentence in Lenoir County Superior Court on a narcotics charge.

The elderly bootlegger has been given a 2-to-3 year jail term which was suspended on condition that she remain on probation four years and pay the courts costs.

She thought that was too harsh and posted a $100 appeal bond to see if the State Court of Appeals concurred in her view.

Lt. Jerry Merritt Honored at School

Navy Lieutenant Jerry D. Merritt III of Route 7, Kinston, was named "Distinguished Naval Graduate" during ceremonies with Training Squadron Nine, Naval Air Station, Meridian, Miss.

He was selected for his demonstrated leadership, motivation, flight aptitude, academic ability and moral character. LAND TRANSFERS

Jones County Register of Deeds Bill Parker reports recording the following land transfers in his office during the past week:

From Harold and Dorothy Hill and numerous others all claims they had on a half acre in Trenton Township to Leah Hill Grady. From John Booth to himself and wife Virginia three tracts in Trenton Township. From Lillian G. Noble to Joseph Lee Noble a tract in Trenton Township.

GARDEN TIME

BY M. E. GARDNER, N. C. State University

No matter how well a home garden or public landscape development is planned and planted, it must be remembered that a regular maintenance program must be carried out to insure the beauty and utility of the planted areas over the years.

Maintenance problems contribute to the rapid decline of many well designed areas. One of the major concerns involves the lack of trained personnel to do quality maintenance work. Professional maintenance companies are becoming more available, but only the affluent homeowners want, or feel, they can afford this service. However, much of the commercial lawn and garden upkeep is handled in this manner. The homeowner is faced with employing expensive, untrained labor or doing the maintenance work himself.

With modern machinery, it is a fairly simple matter to keep lawns in a presentable shape. However, adequate pruning, spraying, fertilizing and other garden chores, requiring scientific or artistic talents, are the areas that are suffering.

A good planting design can be ruined in a few years with the "crew cut" or "bowling ball" type of pruning. Every shrub, no matter what its natural form, begins to look like everything else. Many plantings around the base of buildings are strangled with weeds and grasses when an adequate edging with a mulch or proper use of weed killer would solve most of the problems.

Scattered plantings and edging plants along walks and drives contribute to more hours of labor spent on maintaining the garden. The time to consider maintenance is in the planning than Dec. 30, 1970 and upon your failure to do so the party seeking service against you will apply to the court for the relief sought. This the 13th day of November, 1970. Helpful Hints to Veterans Dealing With Veterans' Administration

Veterans and their families will get quicker service from the Veterans Administration if they follow the suggestions listed below, W. R. Phillips, Director of the Winston-Salem Regional Office, said today.

Contact the local VA office, not the VA office in Washington, D. C., as all records are maintained locally.

Bring a copy of the veteran's discharge form when first applying for a benefit.

Full name, address and file number should be included in all correspondence.

When writing about insurance, include the policy number.

Be prompt in reporting changes of address to the VA.

Make certain the right beneficiary is named on the insurance.

Phillips pointed out VA can pay insurance only to beneficiaries whose names are on record, so be certain to update to reflect marriages, deaths, divorces, etc.

Veterans can save time and money, and avoid lapse of insurance by having premiums deducted from monthly VA compensation or pension checks. Those not receiving monetary benefits from VA can pay insurance premiums quarterly, semi-annually or annually — rather than monthly — to save money on premiums. Beneficiaries of veterans, when writing about pension or compensation, should give the full name of the deceased veteran and his file number, as well as their own name.

Veterans' Corner

Q — I am receiving on-the-job training. May I also take some college courses at night and still receive on-the-job training?

A — No. The VA pays full-time benefits for on-the-job training, therefore, you would not be eligible for additional benefits if you took the college courses.

Q — If I sell my home and secure a release of liability to the government for my GI loan, will I be eligible for a new GI loan?

A — No. To qualify for restoration of your GI loan entitlement, you must have sold your home for a compelling reason, and the loan must have been paid in full.

Q — I plan to enter college under the GI Bill, and carry 16 semester hours. How much will VA pay me, since I have no dependents?

A — The latest amendment to the current GI Bill provides that if you have no dependents and carry the load you anticipate, your monthly payments will be $175 a month.
