

It's always been impossible for people with
epilepsy to swallow
their tongues.

Now it's become
impossible for us
to hold ours.

We need your help.

One of the most surprising facts about epilepsy is that it can happen to anyone at any time. In fact, more than 75,000 North Carolinians suffer from it, and countless others feel its effects. Our mission is to assist people with epilepsy and provide public information about the disorder. These services are desperately needed, and they're always free. Which is why we need your help.
