Temporary Lunch Room Is Opened

An estimated 400 or more children are now being fed daily lunches through the temporary facilities installed in the gymnasium at the high school, it was announced this week. The lunchroom was established by Mrs. Henson, manager of the lunchroom, for the children in both the elementary and high school and serves sandwiches, milk, ice cream, and fruit.

The cost of eating in the lunchroom is slight, and the school and lunchroom officials believe that the majority of children who do not bring their lunches or eat at home are taking advantage of the lunchroom.

A shipment of steel is delaying the completion of the new lunchroom which will be housed in the old auditorium building at the elementary school and it is hoped that work on this building can be completed as soon as possible.

Claude Howard Buried Sunday

The death of Claude P. Howard early last Saturday morning spread a shadow of sorrow over this entire community. Mr. Howard's death came suddenly despite the fact that he had been ill health for some years. This reporter remembers his last conversation with Mr. Howard on Friday, the day preceding his death, and it concerned a plan to aid a citizen of Mount Holly financially who is now in a hospital. The plan was to be carried out this week by the deceased churchman. He always held a spot in his heart for his neighbors and the people of this entire vicinity, a spot that was shared only by

Hartsell High School of Concord will be guests of Mount Holly High School's Hawks tonight at Hutchison-Lowe Field in the annual Homecoming game for the locals. A host of fans are expected to turn out tonight to see the Hawks take on the big Hartsell visitors and Hawk coaches Max Beam and Herbert Hipps are hoping that the occasion will be a Hawk victory. The locals have nearly a split record thus far this season with two wins out of five games played. The Bessemer City game two weeks ago should have been a Hawk victory but the Hawk offense couldn't get underway and the underdog Bessemer City squad lowered the boom on the locals to the disappointment of many fans attending the game.

In case of rain, the coaches said that some rain date for the first part of next week will be set. They did not know the date yet and hope the weather will be clear tonight.

Last Friday night the Hawks looked fair in taking a 6-0 squeak over the Cramerton Eagles who visited the Hawks at Hutchison-Lowe Park. The Hawks stood in scoring position several times but looked the drive to carry the ball across and the coaching staff at the high school is sorry the Hawks couldn't rack up two or three more touchdowns during the game which would have given them the win margin they were expected to carry.

The Hawks have been having a rough time this year with playing alternating between hot and cold again. Last year the Hawks hit several streaks when they looked like one of the sharpest high school teams in the section while again they would fall apart just as they drove into scoring position. The coaches hope the Hawks can buckle down to consistently good ball for the remainder of the season, adding some more victories to their string.

Cramerton showed little gain against the Hawk line last week
