by the fund upon service certificates.

Interest Guaranteed
Vinson said the government has guaranteed that the fund shall earn 4 1-2 percent interest.

While the face value of the adjusted service certificates in $3,500,000,000, the government already has put $1,500,000,000 in a sinking fund to retire them in 1945.

Proponents contend the total would be slashed another $500,000,000 by putting bonds in the life insurance fund and that holders of $500,000,000 in certificates will prefer to receive interest on them rather than cash them now.

That would leave $1,000,000,000 in cash to be raised immediately.
