

• A Landslide Twisted This Road

Telephone poles snapped, pavements buckled, and streets collapsed when a night landslide on Lone Mountain in San Francisco, Calif., endangered the San Francisco College for Women. The huge twisted blocks of concrete shown above reveal the damage done to the roadway leading to the college. Just 60 feet back from the edge of the slide, a dormitory housing 25 women was threatened by the collapse.

life of Smith. Delicious waffles and hot tea were served by the hostesses to the following members: Mesdames R. J. Teague, H. G. Simpson, H. H. Masten, O. B. McBroom, Mamie Merritt, Oveida Long, Reide Jones, R. D. Hardman, E. B. Foushee, R. G. Cole, F. O. Carver, Lula Reade Bowen, T. E. Austin, S. B. Davis and Miss Claire Harris.

The B. and F. Club Has Meeting

Miss Lorena Wade was the delightful hostess on Tuesday night of this week to the members of the B. and F. club at her home on Lamar street.

Miss Wade, as president, called the meeting to order and conducted a short business session. At this time the year's plans for the newly organized club were discussed. Initiation followed.

The interesting game of Bingo was played for some time. Miss Ora Latta, club high scorer, was given a pretty ash tray. Miss Lucille Oliver won second honors and was awarded a similar prize.

The hostess served a delicious salad course with hot coffee.

Ride Him, Nymph!

"Get along, little turtle, get along..." You'd imagine even a terrapin would want to oblige this fair Miami mermaid, but the little old codger apparently has a heart as hard as his shell, and won't put on a spurt even if loss of the race means his name will be soup.

Street Assessments Past Due

There is owing to the City of Roxboro about $25,000 for street assessments. An attempt will be made to collect this next month.

If you owe any street assessment please come by the City Manager's office and attend to this at once. Remember interest is growing every day.

James C. Harris,
City Manager.

Mrs. Pass Is Hostess

On last Friday at 1 o'clock Mrs. W. T. Pass was a delightful hostess to the Friday Book club at a lovely luncheon.

The home was very pretty with potted plants and a three course luncheon was served the guests upon arrival.

Following the luncheon the interesting game of Boston Rook was enjoyed for several hours.

Mrs. Burns Is Hostess

Mrs. R. P. Burns was a very charming hostess to the Tuesday bridge club on Tuesday night of this week.

Two tables were placed in the living room where the game was enjoyed for several hours. Mrs. J. A. Long was awarded club high prize, a pretty pillow. To Mrs. Curtis Oakley went the visitor's prize, a novelty ash tray.

The hostess served a tempting salad course, custard and fruit cake with coffee to the following: Mesdames J. A. Long, A. M. Burns, F. W. A. Mills, E. V. Boatwright, B. B. Mangum, W. E. Bowles and Philip Thomas.

U. D. C. Has Very Interesting Meet

On Tuesday afternoon of this week Mesdames Mamie Merritt and T. E. Austin entertained the members of the U. D. C. at the home of the latter.

Roll call was answered with quotations from great men. The affair was given in commemoration of the birthdays of Lee, Jackson, Smith, and Maurey. Each of these great men have birthdays coming in this month.

A pretty violin solo was rendered by little Miss Billy Street, who was accompanied at the piano by her mother, Mrs. Kendall Street. Following this Mrs. R. G. Cole gave a most fascinating paper on "North Carolina Indians." Miss Frances Critcher followed with a beautiful piano solo. Mrs. Oveida Long sketched the life of Jackson; Mrs. H. G. Simpson reviewed the life of Lee; Mrs. Mamie Merritt recalled the outstanding features in Maurey's life and Mrs. F. O. Carver climaxed with a lovely story of the

Literary Club

The Thursday Literary Club met on Thursday, Jan. 9, 1936, at the home of Mrs. E. B. Craven, at 6 o'clock. The hostess invited us into the dining room; there we were served a delicious turkey dinner.

After dinner we assembled into the living room for the program. The meeting was called to order by the President, Mrs. Craven. The subject of the evening was "Present Thoughts." Our roll call was answered with "An Important Movement of the Day." The first paper on the program was "Trend of the Thoughts of the Day." This was given by Mrs. R. L. Wilburn. This was a splendid paper giving us all the highlights of the day. The second paper, "Music," was given by Mrs. K. L. Street. This was a very good paper. In this paper Mrs. Street said she thought music and art were so very closely related that when she looked at any picture she could hear music. Mrs. Wilburn then told us about the Mellon collection of famous paintings that are to be shown in Washington, D. C. in the near future.

Mrs. Wilburn then had an art appreciation contest. Each member was given a piece of paper and pencil and asked to draw a picture of a mule and an elephant. These were interesting. After much debating the prize went to Mrs. W. E. Malone. The meeting then adjourned.

Tuesday Club Enjoys Bridge

Mrs. Clyde Bowen on last Saturday night delightfully entertained the Tuesday club at two tables of bridge.

Quite a number of very interesting progressions were enjoyed during the evening. At the close of the game a double deck of cards, club high score prize, was awarded to Mrs. Curtis Oakley. A very pretty work box was given Mrs. B. B. Strum for visitor's high.

The hostess served a delicious salad course with hot tea to the following: Mesdames Curtis Oakley, J. J. Woody, B. B. Strum, R. B. Dawes, and Misses Claire Harris, Mary Hester, Marie Garland and Eglantine Merritt

Joint Hostesses For Entre Nous

A delightful party entertaining the Entre Nous club was given on last Thursday evening by Mesdames W. H. Adair and Bill Minor at the home of the latter.

The interesting game of Bingo was enjoyed for several hours. The club at this time remembered with gifts the birthdays of two of its members—those of Misses Bivins Winstead and Hilda Shoemaker.

The hostesses served delicious chicken salad sandwiches and hot coffee to the following: Misses Lot-tie Bailey, Bivins Winstead and Hilda Shoemaker; Mesdames Gilbert Carver, Marie Daniel, Robert Whitfield, Reide Jones, R. C. Hall and R. D. Bass.
