FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

It is easy enough to be loyal To the church where your vows were made, When the annual throng swells the Easter song And you join the grand parade.

But the test of a man's devotion Will come some other day, They love God most who are at their post When the crowds have gone their way.

—H. C. M.

Bible School 9:45 a. m. Preaching 11:00 a. m., subject—"If Ye Then Be Risen With Christ." Baptist Training Union 7:00 p. m. Preaching 8:00 p. m., subject—"What is a Christian?" A cordial invitation is extended to all.

QUESTIONS THAT ARE ASKED ABOUT BANKING

"What is an amortized loan?"

An amortized loan is one which the borrower pays off on the "installment plan." At the time the loan is granted definite provisions are made for certain payments at regular intervals.

This form of loan has the distinct advantage of enabling the borrower to reduce his debt gradually in easy payments—instead of having the entire loan to pay when it becomes due. Another advantage is that the bank can depend on certain incoming amounts and is enabled to extend new loans to other borrowers. Since there is less likelihood of an amortized loan becoming "frozen," it offers safeguards both to the borrower and the bank. Hence it is usually a useful loan for the community as a whole.

The officers of this bank will be glad to discuss with you your loan requirements.
