ROXBORO LAUNDRY ANNOUNCES NEW PRICE REDUCTION

New Machinery Enables Company to Turn Work Out Faster and Cheaper Than Before.

Mr. J. E. Kirby, proprietor of the Roxboro Laundry Co., announces this week a reduction in laundry prices. This bit of news will be welcome indeed to many who use the laundry as a means of keeping their clothes and linen clean.

The Roxboro Laundry has recently installed a large flat-work ironer that enables them to do all ironing faster and cheaper than before and this saving will be passed on to the customer.

Mr. Kirby stated that it would be necessary for the company to secure a much larger volume if these prices remain in effect. The new machinery enables the laundry to turn out an unlimited amount of first class work.

These reduced prices will enable many to patronize the laundry who have had their work done by other methods.

Notice the advertisement in today's Times and then call the Laundry for detailed information.

CHURCH TO SHOW STORY OF CHRIST MONDAY EVENING

Great Oberammergau Passion Play to be Presented in Movies Monday Evening at 7:30 at First Baptist Church.

OFFERING TO BE TAKEN

As a religious story every reading nation throughout the entire world has accepted the Great Oberammergau Passion Play as the most marvelous dramatic portrayal of the Life of Our Saviour.

In a word this greatest of all "Passion Plays" is the crowning achievement of the picture art industry. It is gorgeous, dazzling, amazing, thrilling. It is the story of the Ages! What a story; and what a wonderful picture; what an attraction! The characters actually live in it before your very eyes on the screen. Yes!—Living for you—with you in this stupendously compelling dramatization on the Birth—Passion and Life of Our Lord.

This magnificent visualization of the World's Greatest story of the Birth-Life of Christ, is the filming of as nearly an exact reproduction as is possible of the original Oberammergau play in Bavaria, and after seeing this beautiful screen "Passion Play," many have pronounced this greater and more spectacular than the Oberammergau play. One witnessing this marvelous screen passion story is almost unconsciously carried to the place made sacrosanct by the piety and devotion of those who portray the characters that circumscribed the Life, Passion and Death of Our Lord.

To witness this unmatchable screen production that cost nearly $3,000,000 is truly a soul-inspiring spectacle, a story with a scope as broad, as deep, as sweeping and as resistless as life itself! Scenes to plumb the depths and reach the heights of human experiences. This sublime "Passion Play" is so pathetic, so thrilling and so tender that it will live forever in the minds of those who see it. No admission charge will be made but a silver offering will be taken at the door.

Fishing Calendar In This Issue

Tells Days When Fish Are Supposed to Bite or Not to Bite.

Cobles' Fishing Calendar, eagerly awaited each year by many fishermen, is printed in this issue of the Times. This calendar shows the days when fish are supposed to bite and when they are not supposed to bite. Fishermen state that it is one of the best charts that they have ever used. Many hang it on the wall where it can be watched during the entire season.

The fishing season for Person County is closed at the present time, but soon open season will be here. Already those who like to fish are getting out their poles and hooks and looking at them with longing eyes.

City Lake and Loch Lily are the favorite spots in this county. Many will flock to these places as soon as the law permits and try to get a free meal.

Many are the tales that will be told about the big fellow who got away.

R. T. FOUNTAIN SPOKE TO AUDIENCE IN COURTHOUSE

Spoke For Approximately Thirty Minutes Monday Afternoon Before Court Met. Spent Several Hours Here in Afternoon.

WILL GO IN EVERY COUNTY

Attacked the Record of Senator J. W. Bailey, Present U. S. Senator For State of North Carolina.

Former Lieutenant Governor Richard T. Fountain, candidate for the Democratic nomination of U. S. Senator, spoke in Roxboro Monday afternoon at the Courthouse just before court convened for the afternoon session.

Mr. Fountain gave no advance notice of his coming, but went to work as soon as he reached Roxboro notifying people that he would like to see them in the courthouse at 1:40 p. m. He was greeted by a fair crowd at the appointed hour, in fact, it was a large crowd for such a short notice. Mr. Fountain attacked the record of Senator J. W. Bailey, and urged the people to do something about it at the next election.

A portion of his address, that was delivered in Raleigh, concerning Bailey on March 9th is as follows: "When we read the record of Senator Bailey as to what part he played or what aid rendered by him to the President and Congress in helping to bring about legislation to improve the condition of the farmers and raise and make it possible for labor to improve its living standards, or give relief to prostrate business, we find that he did not aid. His record is barren and as fruitless as the biblical fig tree. He not only did not help or give one word of encouragement to those leaders who under their oaths and platform pledges set immediately to work upon the inauguration of the President on March 4, 1933, to put into living effect their promise to the people, but Senator Bailey used all of his strength and power of speech against the very bills that have brought us where we are. He offered destructive amendments as well, which if adopted would have nullified the effect of the Congressional Recovery Program. In fact, he was so obstinate and embarrassing to those in charge of these bills by reason of his representing a great agricultural state, that Senator Ham Lewis, the Democratic whip of the Senate, pled with him to help the President and Congress who were acting under the direct command of the people as the direct result of the ballot box, and urged him to cease his opposition Page 5403, Congressional Record, March 26, 1934."

Mr. Fountain stated that he would visit in every county in North Carolina.

HOEY REITERATES 'IT CAN'T BE DONE'

Flails McDonald For Courting F. D. R. Favor And Denouncing State Backers.

Williamston, April 20—Clyde R. Hoey, candidate for governor, asserted in an address here tonight that "Professor Ralph McDonald seeks to court popularity by praising the Roosevelt administration and at the same time denounce the Democratic organization in the state, which has taken a leading part in both the President's election and the fight for his policies."

"And like some of the other things McDonald proposes," Hoey asserted, "it can't be done."

Hoey also carried his campaign into Tyrrell county today, speaking in Columbia early in the afternoon.

Continuing his attack on McDonald's candidacy, Hoey spoke of what he called McDonald's efforts to identify himself as a new dealer.

"The Democratic party already has provided a new deal for this state and has put into effect many of the vital policies which have become a part of the Roosevelt program," Hoey declared. For instance, this state levies high taxes on wealth.

The late Huey Long said that when he wanted more money from corporations and wealth, he just tore a page from the North Carolina revenue act and had his legislature adopt it.

Has Not Fully Made Up His Mind. Notice of Candidacy Was Mailed From Roxboro April 16th.

DECISION TO BE MADE SOON

In view of the statement in the papers that I, as a candidate for the Judgeship of the Tenth Judicial District in the coming primary, have failed to file my notice of candidacy in proper time, I feel that it is due my friends in the District that I make this statement: "The time for filing expired Saturday night, April 18th. On Thursday, April 16th, I filled out my notice as required by law and attached thereto my check for the proper filing fee, and wrote Mr. R. C. Maxwell, Executive Secretary of the State Board of Elections. All this was mailed in Roxboro on Thursday the 16th, and should have been in Raleigh that night, or certainly by early Friday morning. When the papers Saturday afternoon stated I had not filed, I called Mr. Maxwell over long distance, and he stated that my letter had not been received. Thereupon Sunday morning I went to Raleigh, accompanied by some local friends, to see Mr. Maxwell. He stated to us that my letter with enclosures, had been put in his box that (Sunday) morning. He further stated that the letter bore Roxboro postmark April 16, which clearly shows that it was mailed on that date. For some reason, unknown to me at present, it took three days for the letter to go from Roxboro to Raleigh, a distance of 56 miles. I want my friends to know that I was not negligent in filing my notice, and that I have no intention of withdrawing from this race. The matter is now up to the State Board of Elections to determine my status, and the decision of this Board will no doubt be made upon the advice of the Attorney-General of the State."

L. M. CARLTON.

Roxboro, N. C.—April 23rd.—Since giving the above statement, the Attorney General of the State has advised the State Board of Elections that Carlton's notice cannot be accepted. It is probable that he will take the matter up in the Courts and secure a mandamus to test his eligibility, but he has not fully decided to pursue this course.
