

NEWS FROM ANTIOCH BAPTIST CHURCH

Revival Meetings to Begin the Fourth Sunday. Kiwanis Meet at the Church.

The annual revival meeting will begin at Antioch Baptist church the fourth Sunday in September. The pastor, Rev. John L. Coley is to do the preaching. The church is looking forward to a gracious outpouring of the Holy Spirit. Each member of the church is requested to pray earnestly for a good church revival, and for the salvation of the lost. Great emphasis will be placed upon the preaching of the pure word of God and praying, and old time gospel singing. Antioch is one of the good old country churches that all enjoy attending and visiting. Further announcements concerning the meeting will be made later.

W. M. S. Entertains Kiwanis

Last Monday evening was a most delightful one at the church. The Roxboro Kiwanis club held their regular weekly meeting there. The ladies of the Missionary Society furnished the eats. Talking about a spread, it was undoubtedly one of the best. Every one seemed to greatly enjoy it. The president, Mr. Sam Merritt, introduced the principal of the high school, who, after presenting the coach, and the teacher of economics, made a most interesting talk on some of the aims for the coming year at the high school.

Church Making Good Progress

Every department of the church is moving along nicely. Best of all there is an excellent spirit existing. There is no sign of any friction whatever in the church.

Preaching Sunday Morning

There will be preaching Sunday morning at eleven o'clock by the pastor. The subject will be "The Challenge of the Cross." Sunday school at ten o'clock. The public is cordially invited.

Sunday School Study Course for the Coming Week. Preaching Sunday Afternoon.

Beginning Monday evening, a study course for Sunday School workers will be held at Providence Baptist Church each evening throughout the week. The book to be studied will be "Building A Standard Sunday School." All who are interested in becoming better acquainted with the best methods of Sunday School work are cordially invited to attend. The pastor, Rev. John L. Coley, will teach the course. The Sunday school is doing some real good work these days.

B. Y. P. U. Study Course

The B. Y. P. U. of the church is having a study course this week. Miss Ella Sue Gravitte, who is leaving in a few days for Meredith College, is teaching the Senior Manual.

Preaching Sunday Afternoon

Sunday afternoon at three o'clock, the pastor will preach. His subject will be "Christian Discipleship." The public is cordially invited. Ask the folk who know, and they will tell you that Providence is one of our finest country churches. You are sure to be given a glad hand and a warm welcome, and have all the time you want to stand out on the church yard and talk to your friends after the worship is over.

Watch Your Kidneys!

Be Sure They Properly Cleanse the Blood

YOUR kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the blood stream. But kidneys sometimes lag in their work—do not act as nature intended—fail to remove impurities that poison the system when retained. Then you may suffer nagging backache, dizziness, scanty or too frequent urination, getting up at night, puffiness under the eyes, feel nervous, miserable—all upset. Don't delay? Use Doan's Pills. Doan's are especially for poorly functioning kidneys. They are recommended by grateful users the country over. Get them from any druggist.

Duke Law Dean Urges National Board of Bar Examiners

Dean Horack Decries Necessity for "Cram Courses," and Declares That Present System Trains 48 Different Varieties of Lawyers.

Boston, Mass., Aug. 26—Suggestion that the law schools and the bar examiners of the nation get together to see where they differ in regard to the preparation and examining of students for the bar was made in Boston today by Dean H. Claude Horack of the Duke university school of law, speaking before the national conference of bar examiners at the meeting of the American bar association.

Dean Horack pointed out that in general, the law schools and the bar examiners, though agreeing as to their objectives in trying to secure the type of lawyer that the public needs, are following very different paths, so that the training offered by the schools does not prepare the student for the test given by the bar examiners. The result is that students, from the best law schools of America, quite generally find it necessary to take a further special cram course to prepare for the bar examination.

It is not only unnecessary but undesirable, declared Dean Horack, to train 48 different varieties of lawyers, as seems to be the case now under the present system where there is a different examining board in each state, working entirely independent of the examiners of other states.

The solution suggested by the Duke dean is that a national board of bar examiners be established to prepare questions and examine students upon fundamentals which do not vary materially in different states. He emphasized, however, that he would not dispense with the present state boards, for to them would be left the examination of students seeking admission to the bar of a state on matters of local law and procedure concerning which it is vital that the student should be informed.

Perhaps of even greater importance, said Dean Horack, is the fact that the work of such a national board testing the student's general knowledge of the law, would make possible a careful character examination by the local board, a matter which, though of greatest importance to the profession, is largely neglected because of the limitations as to time brought about by the heavy duties now placed on the local boards.

The ideal of a national board is not a novel one, the speaker pointed out, since the medical profession has had it for many years. However, the plan suggested by Dean Horack differs from that followed by the

2,668 MILLIONS CUT IN DEFICIT, ROOSEVELT AIM

By ERIC FRIEDHEIM
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27—Drastic curtailment of Government borrowing and reduction of the Federal deficit by 2 billion one million dollars was promised today by President Roosevelt.

In a revision of his budget estimate to Congress the President warned, however, that any effort to slash expenditures might be hampered by the drought emergency, and the failure of industry to absorb a sufficient number of the nation's unemployed workers.

Mr. Roosevelt estimated the total cash outlay during the 1937 fiscal year would aggregate 7 billion 522 million 835 thousand 300 dollars. This will include 1 billion 835 million dollars for recovery and relief; 560 million dollars to complete payments to veterans on their bonus certificates; 580 million dollars for debt retirements; 825 million dollars for interest payments on the public debt, and the remainder for operation of the Federal departments.

2,096 MILLION GOAL
Against these expenditures the President anticipates an inflow of 5 billion 665 million 839 thousand dollars from taxes and miscellaneous sources, leaving a deficit next June 30 of 2 billion 096 million 996 thousand 300 dollars. This would be the lowest deficit ever attained by the Administration. On June 30 of this year the deficit was 4 billion medical board in that the local board of examiners would be retained and upon them placed definite responsibilities with reference to the admission to practice in their state.

764 million dollars, while on June 30, 1935, it amounted to over 3 billion 575 million dollars, and a year earlier, 3 billion 989 million dollars. To make up the additional cash required for Federal disbursements the President expects the Treasury to borrow only 750 million dollars in new money between now and next June and utilize 1,100 million of the cash on hand in Government vaults.

CUT IN FINANCING

This small contemplated borrowing represents a huge reduction from recent Administration financing. Between December, 1935, and last June cash borrowing amounted to more than 3,000 million dollars.

LAWYERS PONDER NEW DEAL

Boston, Mass. — More than three thousand lawyers attended the 59th Annual Convention of the American Bar Association, and shelved a 4 to 3 opinion of its special New Deal Committee, the majority of which found "there is no indication that the Administration recognized any obligations to protect the individual citizens in his constitutional rights," a decision which the minority dubbed "a short-range attack on surface trivialities." Frederick H. Stinchfield, a Minneapolis Liberty League member, was elected President.
