

ON THE ROPES BUT STILL A WINNER

Although taking terrific punishment from Sandor Szabo (left), Vincent Lopez wriggled back into the ring at the Los Angeles Olympic Stadium and won the decision on a fall, giving him a return chance at Dave Levin's world wrestling title.

She sowed mercy. "He that soweth unto the Spirit, shall of the Spirit reap eternal life. Everlasting or eternal life is far more than the unlimited extension of life beyond the limits of time. It is a quality of life—spiritual life—that is begun here and shall never cease. As surely as Christ lives, so shall we live if our lives are centered in Him. There is no need, then, that we should become weary; for in due season we shall reap if we faint not. There is an angel of goodness that beckons us to a better life. We can fit ourselves into divine conditions. Under the guidance of the Holy Spirit we can adjust ourselves to the laws of God and to the laws of good men.

Next came the time for her to sow the Fidelity. "Let us not be weary in well doing." The first thing was for her to be engaged in well doing. The next thing was to persevere. She was faithful and the time will come for her reaping, just as Christ tells us it will come.

After sowing all these seeds, then came the time for her to sow Fellowship. "Especially toward them that are of the household of faith." While our horizon is world-wide in its sweep, it must not, of course, lose sight of those who are near and dear. Therefore, the tides of fraternity will sweep graciously toward the household of faith on its mission of love of sowing and reaping applies in the fields of right and wrong. The amount she will reap may depend on the soil and care, but mostly on the seed. Grandmother is standing in line now waiting to receive the harvest she sowed. She sowed just the seed that she wanted to reap and what she will reap in Heaven.

All during Grandmother's life she was sending up materials to build a fine mansion, because she wanted a good place to spend eternity. She kept sending up material until the end of her life here on this earth. She knew that Heaven is a beautiful place, and she wanted a beautiful mansion. Jesus helped her lay her foundation and did all the building for her after she sent him the material. Because without him she could have done nothing. She could sing the old song, "A Tent of A Cottage, Why Should I Care, They're Building A Palace For Me Over There." She was sure about her palace, because she gave material to build with.

We are thankful to God for giving us such a good mother and grandmother to set such good examples for us. So we as children and grandchildren while we have time now, try to live a better life, and build to the top rich, strong and beautiful. This will be simply doing what Jesus told us to do when he said, "Lay Up Not For Yourself Treasures in Heaven." Remember this doesn't mean only money; neither does it mean everything but money. It means with kind words and loving deeds and obedience to Jesus.

WADEMEN TOLD TO DISREGARD CLEMSON LOSS

Scouts Attribute Tigers' 32-0 Defeat by Alabama to "Jitters" — There Will be a Great Game at Duke on Saturday.

Durham, N. C., Oct. 6 — While Clemson's defeat at the hands of Alabama would make one prone to disbelieve it, there will be a great football game in Duke stadium Saturday when the Tigers come up to battle the Blue Devils.

Despite their defeat, Duke scouts still say that Clemson has a great ball club. They were amazed to learn the score of the Alabama game but attributed it to a case of "jitters" by the young members of the Clemson squad.

There will be no "jitters" on the part of Clemson at Duke Saturday — there never has been — and the Wademen are getting things set for a terrific engagement.

In Joe Berry, Mac Folger, Al Sanders and Rudy Orban, the Tigers have one of the finest backfields in the Southern conference. Manuel Black, husky left tackle, is a stalwart in the line and Woods, the sophomore center, has been likened to Gilbert of Auburn.

The Tigers were easy for Alabama but they won't be easy for Duke Saturday.

While the Tigers work at Clemson, getting ready to defeat Duke and keep their conference slate clear, the Blue Devils are trying to get their blocking assignments down better to help Ace Parker and Honey Hackney, who, in most cases this season, have had to do the running all by themselves.

Duke's offense piled up just as badly against South Carolina as it did against Colgate, despite the Grandmother sowed good seed, therefore she will reap an abundant harvest. First, she sowed Spirituality. The spiritual are sympathetic, considerate and tender in dealing with the wayward. We need in our day more than we need anything a renewed emphasis on old-fashioned conception of positive Christian character. Christ in us is our hope and glory. He is our surety of an abundant harvest.

Then she sowed Goodness "whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap." We cannot sow tares and expect to reap wheat. There is an element of certain justice that runs through the whole of life. She was always willing to do something good for others.

ground-gaining of the two great runners. Of course, one 78-yard run by Parker, one of the prettiest dashes ever made in this section, was called back to cut down Duke's yardage.

However, the Blue Devils must be praised for their defense. They held Colgate to 53 yards and they held South Carolina to 13. Their goal line has not been crossed. South Carolina had a first down on the one-foot line, but they were thrown for a yard loss on the first play and then were so rushed that they fumbled and Tipton recovered for Duke on the next play.
