

CHINA CLIPPER READY FOR FIRST TRANS-PACIFIC FLIGHT WITH PASSENGERS

Blazing an 8,200-mile trail from San Francisco to Manila, Philippine Islands, the giant Pan-American Airways "China Clipper" begins carrying passengers Eastward on October 21st. Aboard her will be three New York newspaper writers on a race around the world. Since the trio will land at San Francisco at the same moment and probably fly East by planes of comparable speed, the 25,000 mile contest narrows down to a 9-mile spurt from Newark Airport to New York.

Activities In Full Swing At Bethel Hill High For New Year

Bethel Hill school exhibit put on by the Elementary and Home Economics department won first place at the Person County Fair and was awarded the blue ribbon. The Elementary exhibit consisted of a project on transportation. Models and drawings of ships showed the progress of transportation by water. Early land transportation was portrayed by cuts of animals. Other designs showed the evolution of land transportation to the present day. The home economics display was a project on closet improvement. Shoe bags, shoe racks, shoe trees, laundry bags, and hat boxes were some of the articles made and displayed by the home economics girls.

The Future Farmers club, under the direction of A. G. Bullard, sponsored an exhibit featuring the "brick brooder" way of raising fryers. This exhibit showed the interior of a brooder house with brick brooder, feed hoppers, water fountains, and several day old chicks. This exhibit received a blue ribbon and $20.00 award.

Columbus County growers report an excellent crop of sweet potatoes this fall. The season has been unusually favorable for the sweets, they say.

Twelve county agents from western North Carolina recently visited beef cattle and sheep farms in Virginia and West Virginia to study improved practices of feeding and management.

TIME EXTENDED FOR YOUR SOIL CONSERVING CROP

Many Farmers Have Been Handicapped by Dry Weather.

Winter legumes sown in October may be counted as soil-conserving crops under the 1936 soil-improvement program, according to J. F. Criswell, of State College.

The time allowed for seeding conserving crops has been extended to October 31, since many farmers have been handicapped by dry weather, he explained.

He urged growers to take advantage of the time extension and sow enough conserving crops to qualify for the maximum payments possible for them to receive.

A change in the regulations, he added, now permits growers to meet their minimum conserving crop acreage requirements by sowing winter legumes on fields where depleting crops were harvested earlier in the year.

The minimum acreage of conserving crops required is equal to 20 per cent of the base cotton, tobacco, and, or peanut acreage plus 15 per cent of the base acreage of other depleting crops.

This is the minimum amount of conserving crops a farmer must grow to participate in the soil-improvement program.

Conserving crops may also be grown for another purpose: to make a grower eligible to receive payment for carrying out soil-building practices. When grown for this purpose, the conserving crop must not be placed on land where depleting crops have been raised this year.

Since the work of checking growers' compliance with provisions of the soil-improvement program has been completed in most counties, Criswell stated, growers who seed conserving crops in October should report it to their county agents so they will get credit for the later seedings.

NICE FIELD OF TOMATOES

Mr. E. A. Springstead, a member of the Sarasota County production Credit Association of the Southern part of Florida makes a favorable report from 40 acres of tomatoes. Mr. Springstead planted 40 acres of tomatoes on his 100 acre farm; and harvested 18,000 crates at an average price of $2.75 per crate. The expense per crate including labor, fertilizer, baskets, is estimated about $60.00, making a net profit of about $47.00. The average crates per acre were four hundred and fifty.
