

POPULAR TEAM AT DOLLY TWO DAYS

Sally Eilers And James Dunn in "We Have Our Moments"

Sally Eilers and James Dunn have returned to the screen with a picture that is a fine prescription for the relief of jaded spirits. Their new vehicle, Universal's "We Have Our Moments," which opens today at the Dolly Madison theatre for two days, is gay, stimulating comedy drama.

The story is about a school teacher who tires of her small town surroundings and goes on a lark to Europe. Aboard ship she becomes the unwitting catpaw for a band of dinner-jacketed crooks and gets into serious complications with the law. Around this plot has been woven a picture of sparkle and charm. Emphasis has been placed on the modern treatment of lightness, artfully handled by Director Alfred Werker.

Miss Eilers and Dunn, always an appealing team, live up to the reputations they won when their first co-starring production, "Bad Girl" was voted the best picture of 1932. Miss Eilers and James Dunn are supported by an unusually well balanced cast. Mischa Auer, Thurston Hall, David Niven, Marjorie Gatenon, Warren Hymers, Virginia Sale, Franklyn Pangborn and Grady Sutton all turn in splendid performances.

The picture has its moments of exciting tenseness, but it is essentially first rate comedy. It is loaded with sparkling dialogue and funny situations, handled with a sophisticated touch.

Physical and medical examinations have been held for club members in the eleven 4-H clubs of Edgecombe County.

IN THE BEST LIFE-GUARD TRADITION

When two members of the Civilian Conservation Corps Camp at Warrenton, Ore., decided to be married, an officer read the ceremony and the happy pair proceeded in triumph under an archway of crossed shovels.

Buck Jones At Dolly Saturday

Universal Presents Popular Star In "Sandflow," Here One Day

Review of Story Given

Three "Loop Loop" cowboys, Joaquin, a Mexican, Tex and money hungry Quayle, are startled when a wounded rider gallops up to their hut in the Sandflow badlands. They recognize him as Lane Hallet, whose father had started his vast herds with stolen cattle. Hallet had two sons' Buck who paid his father's debts and Lane, now a fugitive, accused of killing Sheriff Pat Sullivan.

Quayle wants the thousand dollar reward offered for Lane. The new sheriff arrives with his posse. Buck rescues the unconscious Lane and Joaquin gives Quayle an amount equal to the reward for keeping silent.

Buck vainly tries to get Lane to explain the shooting. He thinks Lane is trying to shield a girl named Rose, who was with him near the scene of the killing. Buck seeks out Rose to question her. He learns she is deeply interested in Lane. While they talk, Buck is seized and locked in a shack.

He escapes and observes a meeting presided over by Porter, a fugitive banker charged with embezzlement. Rose discovering Buck's escape, tells him she is Porter's daughter and declares her father innocent. His bank failures have destroyed his reason. Porter's friends enact directors' meetings to pacify him.

Quayle is brought in as a prisoner. He has been trying to betray Lane for the reward, in spite of his agreement. When Buck starts to escape Quayle fells him and tries to take Buck's horse. Rose, helping Buck, fights off Quayle. Quayle meets and kills Porter. Buck pursues Quayle. Joaquin is taking the wounded Lane to the ranch on a buckboard. While he seeks drinking water, he leaves the boy resting under a tree. Quayle finds Lane and is about to shoot him, when Buck arrives to fight the killer. Quayle levels his gun at Buck and Joaquin drops the slayer with a thrown knife.

Returning to camp, Buck learns that Porter, while insane, killed Sullivan. Lane, cleared of the

NEWEST DIAPER IS DISPOSABLE TYPE

One Of The Latest Developments Proves Economical In Many Ways

Babies and diapers are synonymous terms, and will be until science perfect babies to the point where they will be automatically habituated the very moment the first cry is uttered.

Until then, however, there are wonderful new diapers to be used, which eliminate the unpleasant task of laundering them, and which prove an economy in more ways than one.

There is, for example, the disposable diaper made of the softest hospital gauze, a layer of cotton and cellulose, and a mosturer retardant paper back. Scientifically made, the diaper eliminates any possibility of irritation and chafing and is disposed of as readily as are your cleansing tissues.

These diapers may be obtained by special arrangement, 50 to a package, coming at regular intervals, from your baby shop or department store.

There is yet another form of diaper which contains only a disposable center part; the outer portion not coming in contact with the baby's body at all, and therefore no more difficult to wash than is his underwear or hose.

Yet other achievement in diaper land is the development of the already folded diaper, which fastens with just one pin in the middle. It has a triple center for absorbency, and covers the entire abdomen with leg pins.

again seen in his famous role as the verbose oldbraggart, and Stephen Morris is cast in the "heavy" role.

Charlene Wyatt, the little girl of "Valiant Is the Word for Car," Charlene Wyatt, the little girl vor Bardette, Al Bridge and George Chesboro are also in the cast. "Borderland" is the ninth of the popular stories from the pen of Clarence E. Mulford to reach the screen.

IL DUCE BOOSTS WAGES

Rome, Italy—To protect Italian labor against world-wide increases in commodity prices, Premier Mussolini has decreed a 10 per cent rise in the wages of 3,000,000 workers. Last August he issued a similar ukase, the two absorbing a 20 per cent increase in the cost of living since the start of the Ethiopian War.

It thereby gives the legs perfect freedom, and does away with the between-leg bulk which can be responsible for bow legs.

BROADCASTER SUED

New York City—When Floyd Gibbons, rapid-fire broadcaster, radioed a description of the Ohio River flood last January, Charles Locke, radio writer, claims to have written the script. He has sued Gibbons for $250,000, alleging damage to his reputation because the fast talker described the broadcast as being read by the light of a railroad lantern, whereas it came from a comfortable, well-lighted studio; also the alleged "diver 5 miles away under 20 ft. of water" was actually at Gibbons' elbow talking through a lard can.
