

Farmers Report Large Amount Of Tobacco Recently Stolen

Chas. Lawson Lost 800 Pounds Monday Night And Haywood Foushee Large Amount Sunday Night.

Several Person County farmers have reported robberies of their pack barns in the last few days and two heavy losses were reported this week.

Thieves forced their entrance into the pack barn of Haywood Foushee on the Leasburg road Sunday night and used his own trailer to haul his tobacco to their truck that was parked on the road. This loss was reported at 800 pounds and there is no evidence as to who did it.

Chas. Lawson, Hurdle Mills farmer, reported that someone stole approximately 800 pounds of his tobacco Monday night and again no one has been arrested and clues are few and far between.

One or two other tobacco robberies have been reported in this county.

A tobacco thief is hard to catch as he has so many places to dispose of his stolen property and it is very hard to recognize the tobacco on warehouse floor. Recently Officer Watson caught two in Roxboro when they attempted to sell tobacco that was stolen in Granville County. Both drew sentences in the state prison.

PHIL. SOCIALITES TAUGHT SKEET BY CARL BRADSHER

Spent Several Days In Quaker City Last Month And Ladies Consumed His Time

Considered Expert Marksman

Carl Bradsher, former Roxboro citizen and now a resident of Palm Springs, Calif., spent several days in Philadelphia last month teaching a number of socialites the art of skeet shooting.

The Philadelphia Record in commenting on the visit that Bradsher was to make stated that he was the only professional instructor of this sport and that he really was good.

"Bradsher was born in North Carolina in the tiny hamlet of Meccasin Gap, now Roxboro. His dad was one of the best shots in the area, and took him into the field at the age of nine.

"His father attempted to guide his son but soon the youngster was outshooting his father and the latter realized that young Carl was a natural.

Besides Palm Springs, he teaches annually at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., Rolling Rock Club, Ligonier, Pa., and Walnut Hill Farm, Lexington, Ky.

Last year Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Hildeheim came from Brussels, Belgium, for skeet instructions from Bradsher."

One of his pet shots is to call "mark" while the shell is still in his pocket and the gun is not loaded. He loads, shoulders and shoots the bird with seemingly impossible speed.

Good Program At Kiwanis Club

A number of students of Central School gave a musical concert at the regular meeting of the Roxboro Kiwanis Club Monday night. This program, given under the direction of Miss Collins and Mrs. W. W. Woods, was one of the best of the year and was enjoyed by all.

Gus Deering was the principal speaker of the evening. His subject was "Self-Reliance" and he handled it in a very thorough way.

BETTER LEARN TO DIAL BY DEC. 1ST.

Manager Morris States That New System Should Be Ready By That Date

No Operators To Be Used

For the past several weeks workmen have been busy installing the new dial system at Morris Telephone Co. and Manager Morris announced this week that the new system should be ready by Dec. 1st. If there is any delay it will not be over two or three days.

The new system, with all its machinery is located over the Depot Street office of the company and is so complicated that it would be hard for any person to explain who was not acquainted with apparatus of this kind.

After the new system starts working there will be no telephone operators. The system does its own work and dials the long distance operator in Durham.

For several days other workmen have been busy on the lead line at the corner of Main and Reams Ave. keeping the old system working while the new one is being completed.

In a few days Mr. Morris expects to have a dial phone working in the company office and those who desire to learn something about dial phoning can go there for instruction and a demonstration. This new system is one of the best on the market and is as near perfect as it could be.

OFFICERS ARREST GARLAND MORRISON

Charged With Breaking And Entering Roxboro Service Station Last Sat. A. M.

Garland Morrison, colored, was arrested by local officers Sunday morning charged with breaking and entering Glenn Bros. Service Station early last Saturday morning.

Morrison had been working at this station for several days but did not return to work Saturday morning after the robbery had taken place. Proprietors of the station had reasons to believe that he was connected with the affair and had been waiting for him to show up for money that was due him. They were also looking for a person with a cut hand as a large amount of blood had been seen on the service station drive after the robbery. It was evident that the robber had cut or bruised his hand.

Morrison wore gloves when he returned from Durham for his pay. Two fingers were bruised and one hand had a blister or some kind of a bruise on it.

He is now in jail and will be tried soon. It is probable that he will face two charges, one for the warehouse attempt and another for the service station.

The robber did not get much cash from the station and none from the warehouse. He denies his guilt.

A majority of the stores and other business places are closed today, but will be open tomorrow. Thanksgiving is being observed over the county and there will be little business transacted.

Farmers who had turkeys for sale have disposed of a large number this season and many families are having turkey with all the side dishes for Thanksgiving.

The Tobacco market will re-open Monday and a large amount of tobacco is expected to be here.

U. S. ARMY UNIT STOPS IN CITY

Battery Included 77 Enlisted Men And Number Of Officers; Here For Several Hours

Seventy-seven enlisted members of battery "B" 17th field artillery, Fort Bragg, arrived in Roxboro last Saturday morning and spent several hours in the city before motoring on to another point. The artillerymen were traveling over the state by means of several large trucks and were in charge of Captain C. L. Dasher.

The unit, upon arriving in Roxboro, pitched their camp near the high school. Several big guns were included in the equipment on tour. The guns that were here will throw a shell more than two miles and shoot four shells a minute, it was said.

A large number of the men set out to see Roxboro immediately after they arrived here and it looked like "war-time" in the city as the boys in the uniforms walked around.

This tour was designed as a means of recruiting new members from different sections of the state.

HANCOCK OPENS CAMPAIGN OFFICES

First Offices Are In Bank Bldg. In Oxford; Others Will Probably Be Opened Soon

The Frank Hancock Campaign for United States Senate has really started. A number of offices on the second floor of a bank building in Oxford have been rented and there two ladies are busy mailing out letters and campaign literature.

The Congressman who is endeavoring to unseat the Junior Senator from North Carolina is having little to say about the campaign. However, he used a golf term Monday to convey to friends the idea that he is well satisfied with the progress of the campaign to carry the state.

"I have gotten a good drive from the tee-off and have the old Senatorial ball in the middle of the fairway," said Mr. Hancock with a smile that is characteristically his. He sat in his office Monday greeting all comers, indicating that he will conduct his campaign with a wide-open office - a policy that has been his since he first sought political office.

It is thought that other offices will be open over the state in a short time. Offices will probably be opened in Raleigh and perhaps in Charlotte.

For the next few weeks Mr. Hancock will be kept busy in Washington, but he should be able to come to the state over the week-end.

NICKS GETS FIRST METH. APPOINTMENT

Elder Told Him Friday That He Was Going Back For Fifth Year

Rev. S. F. Nicks, former Brooksdale pastor and now of Cedar Grove, received the first appointment of the Methodist Conference that was held in Raleigh last week. On Friday the elders told Rev. Nicks that they were going to send him back to Cedar Grove for the fifth year. Mr. Nicks has a reputation of serving all of his charges about as long as the Methodist law allows. He served Brooksdale for six years and the people of that section wanted him back for two more.

The popular pastor believes in building churches. He is now building his second one at Cedar Grove and even his son, S. F. Nicks, Jr., can hardly keep up with the number that he has built. When questioned Monday Mr. Nicks (Jr.) said that his father had built six or seven, he just couldn't remember. At times Rev. Nicks gets a hammer and saw and goes right up on the building with the workmen.

He is very popular at Cedar Grove and the people there would have been disappointed had the bishop transferred him to some other charge.

IN WATTS HOSPITAL

Mr. Bertwell Winstead was carried to Watts Hospital Monday night for an appendicitis operation. He is reported to be doing nicely.

Herbert Painter Arrested By Officers And Charged With Shooting; Adams Carried To Hospital In Durham

Bullet Went Through Arm and Lodged In Body

W. E. Adams, Roxboro resident of Depot Street, was shot in the left arm around noon yesterday as he was eating his lunch on a pile of lumber at Wm. McKeithan Lumber Co. about two miles from Roxboro on the Durham road.

The wound was inflicted by a bullet from a 22 rifle and those who were present state that the rifle was fired by Herbert Painter, a resident of that section, who calmly walked up and shot.

Adams was rushed to a local doctor who dressed the wound and sent him to Watts Hospital in Durham. The bullet continued through his arm and lodged in his body.

Painter was arrested within an hour by local officers. He has been in ill health for sometime and those who are well acquainted with him state that he probably did not realize what he was doing.

BETHEL HILL WON OVER ROXBORO BY SCORE OF 7-0

Roxboro Staged A Gallant Fight But Failed To Have Necessary Punch At Right Time

STEWART SUFFERS INJURY

Over 800 football fans saw Bethel Hill defeat Roxboro by a score of 7-0 on Bethel's gridiron Tuesday afternoon in a final football game for both teams this year. The game, played in ideal weather, was the climax of a fairly successful season for both teams and made Bethel's season a greater success.

The one score of the game came in the final quarter. Shotwell passed to Pentecost and the ball was placed in a dangerous position. Pentecost plunged over Roxboro's line for the lone tally of the game. Tingen went over the line for the extra point.

The Roxboro team played excellent ball, but the Bethel boys played their hearts out and it was impossible for the Roxboro boys to hold them. The entire Bethel line played well, but Fox was outstanding. In the backfield Pentecost and Tingen showed up to an excellent advantage.

On the 1st. kick-off of the second half, Earl Stewart, playing quarterback of Roxboro, suffered an injury of his left arm that caused his removal from the game. An x-ray yesterday revealed that a small portion of the bone was chipped off.

During the game Bethel passed six times and completed five. They also intercepted four Roxboro passes. One substitute was used on the Bethel Hill team.

About eight o'clock Tuesday night approximately one hundred students from Bethel Hill slipped over to the Roxboro field and tore down the goal post on one end. They then paraded around the city with a post sticking in the back of the car. It was Bethel's day and
