NEWS Of The WEEK

PRESIDENT OPENS CONGRESS

Washington, D. C.—Addressing the new Congress, President Roosevelt reaffirmed the objectives of the New Deal by declaring that no American citizen will be permitted to starve because of a lack of work; that only by providing work can the purchasing power of the nation be maintained at a level sufficient to support government expenses "that cannot be less than $7,000,000,000 a year". He quoted an increase in national income from 38 billion in 1932 to 68 billion last year, and stated that the goal was from 90 to 100 billion dollars. "The selfish employment of capital," he stressed, "will destroy the capitalistic system by its own abuses. There is anticipated no attack on all capital, but where there is wilful deception on the part of capital, it will not long deceive. There must be a floor beyond which industrial wages shall not fall, a ceiling beyond which they shall not rise. I doubt if Congress will ever consider the substitution of a dole for a useful program of work".

STOCKS REACT FAVORABLY

New York City—The mild character of the President's speech caused a favorable reaction on the Stock Exchange. Gains in market leaders reflected the President's statement that Administration moves against corporations were confined to a few corporations which flagrantly violated the anti-trust laws.

ARMY OF UNEMPLOYED

Washington, D. C.—First national census of the unemployed reveals that 7,822,912 persons registered in the voluntary inquiry as being totally without work and desirous of obtaining same. New York led all states, with 969,840 without work, including 206,518 on Work Relief rolls.

MATADOR DEFIES QUAKE

Mexico City—While the most severe earthquake in recent years rocked this city, causing 24,000 spectators in the local arena to sway in their seats as they watched a bull-fight, Matador Liborio Ruiz gave the death thrust to a bewildered bull, puzzled at the rolling motion of the ring.

Destruction Threatens Canton

Canton, China—If Chinese troops are forced to abandon Canton to advancing Japanese forces, General Yu Han-mon, commander of all South China armies, has warned invaders that this city of 1,000,000 people will be reduced to ruins. This policy of destroying everything of any possible value to the enemy has been generally adopted throughout invaded parts of the Chinese Republic.

Funeral Services For Mrs. Long

The funeral of Mrs. Laura Long, 98, widow of Hugh Long of Person county, was held Thursday afternoon at the home of her nephew, Rev. Wodson L. Stone, at 705 Wilkerson avenue, with Rev. C. H. Bunn, pastor of the Church of God, officiating. Burial was in the Long cemetery near Roxboro.

Mrs. Long lived the greater part of her life in Person County but went to Durham several months ago to live. She died Wednesday morning at 4:30 o'clock from heart trouble, following an illness of several weeks.

One brother, Thomas Stone, of Person County survives, as do a number of nieces and nephews.

Frank is able to see the surgeon's hand held before his eyes. The boy's eyes had been hurt by a lime dust infection.

Heavy Sales Expected On Roxboro Market Tuesday

Price of Tobacco Is Expected To Be Good And Quality Will Probably Be Fair; 15 or 20% Of Weed Remains

Closing Date Of Market Has Not Been Named

The Roxboro tobacco market will reopen for the sale of leaf tobacco Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock and warehousemen are expecting a large break of tobacco on the opening. Farmers have been busy stripping for the past two or three weeks and now they are ready to sell the remainder of their crop.

The Roxboro market has sold 4 1/4 million pounds of tobacco at a state high average of 27.35. It is very likely that this market will wind up the season as state leader in price average.

Farmers will tell you that from 15 to 20% of this year's crop remains to be sold. That means that there must be about a million and a half to two million pounds left in this county.

Roxboro Warehousemen hope to sell a million more pounds before the season closes. Last year the market sold 4,153,000 pounds of tobacco during the entire season.

The closing date for the markets in this belt has not been named. The market is expected to remain open three or four more weeks.

KIWANIANS TO ADOPT PROJECT

Expected To Be Announced By President In One or Two Weeks

Each year the Roxboro Kiwanis Club adopts a major project for the coming year. At the present time President Bill Warren and the directors are busy studying different projects and will decide upon one soon.

Kiwanis International states that the project must be related to underprivileged children and the Roxboro club tries to abide by this law.

Year before last the club undertook to find children who needed glasses, have their eyes examined and make them a gift of the glasses, if their parents could not. Last year this work was continued and in the latter part of the year the public playground was started.

Several projects are now being considered and the officials are very anxious to find one that is necessary, but one that does not require too much money.

NEW HOUSES NEARING COMPLETION

The house of Mr. and Mrs. T. I. Mitchell on Morgan St. is now nearing completion and also the house of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Long, Jr. on Lamar St.

ALONG THE WAY — ALL APPEARS TO BE QUIET — NO NEWS

Altho you generally think about women in connection with a cooking school the Times would be glad to have the men of this community attend this event if they care to.

The following young men are urged to attend. C. C. Garrett, he raises so many vegetables he should know how to cook them; S. F. Nicks, Jr., he has just started keeping house and he should know enough about cooking to help; E. G. Thompson, perhaps a little familiarity with the kitchen would encourage him to seek a better half. Right now he shows no inclinations in that direction. We also invite J. D. Bradsher, E. B. Craven, Coy Day, Baxter Mangum, George Currier and others. All of these fellows could help more in the kitchen if they would.

GOOD ATTENDANCE AT CO. SCHOOLS

Roads Have Been In Good Shape And No Days Have Been Missed

According to R. B. Griffin all the schools in the county are off to a good start after the Christmas holidays. A majority have reported that the attendance is excellent and so far the schools have not had to lose any time due to bad roads. Each winter generally finds some roads in such a bad shape that a bus cannot travel over them. This has not happened this school year, but old times predict a little snow in January and February.

Basketball now reigns as the king of winter sports in the county schools. Practically every school has two teams, a boys' team and a girl's team. All have started playing and prospects for several good teams look fair.

Several schools have started training students for the state-wide triangular debates that will take place soon.

ROXBORO FIREMAN STAYS ON JOB

Even Tho He Was About 1000 Miles From Home He Helped Fight Fire

S. B. Winstead Discovers Fire In Alabama

S. B. Winstead, member of the volunteer fire department of Roxboro and also proprietor of the Winstead Warehouse, had a unique experience while on his way to New Orleans about ten days ago. He and G. I. Prillaman were traveling thru a small town in Alabama, they stopped for gas and oil and while standing by the car Winstead noticed that a house across the street was on fire in the top story. He also noticed that there were people in the house and that they evidently knew nothing about the fire. Winstead then rushed over to the house, told the occupant and then turned in the alarm to the fire department.

Even tho Roxboro's fireman was a long way from home he couldn't resist the temptation to help fight the fire after the firemen arrived. In spite of his efforts the house burned to the ground and he and Mr. Prillaman continued on their way. Roxboro's fireman had done his duty.

She will be confined to the hospital about ten days.

PEOPLE WAITED IN RAIN TO SEE JAMES

Some Believe The Story, Many Do Not. Jesse Says That It's All Too True

Theatre Crowded With Curious

People from the city and county stood in the rain Thursday night just to get a chance to see the man who claimed to be the original Jesse James. The local theatre that had engaged the services of this man quickly filled up and a large crowd waited outside in the rain for a long time before they could get seats.

Many of those who wanted to see this man doubted very much whether he was the original Jesse James, but then they had curiosity enough to pay 26 cents just to take a look and hear the story that he related.

A Mr. Gillis of this county, who at one time lived in Texas and knew Frank James, brother of the original outlaw, went up to interview Roxboro's prominent visitor last Thursday. He asked this Jesse James questions concerning Frank James and all were answered correctly. Mr. Gillis stated that Jesse bore a remarkable resemblance to his brother Frank. He left fairly well satisfied that Roxboro had entertained the original Missouri outlaw, Jesse James.

Believe it or not—your guess is as good as ours.

Person County Times Offers Timely And Profitable Entertainment Jan. 11 and 14 In Palace And Dolly Madison Theatres

Stream lines are a familiar sight this season.

But the latest news in Cooking School conventions, as discovered by the Times has screen lines.

All of which means that long lines of eager pupils will be going to school again when this newspaper presents the much-discussed motion picture course in home economics in Roxboro's theatres.

Going to school in a theatre! It's a grand way to combine fun, inspiration, a neighborly reunion and valuable instruction, all in one free package. It's a grand way to get out of the rut that often threatens the best and most conscientious of home managers.

Just as fresh inspiration for the old job is one of the by-products of the familiar Cooking School, which presents a lecturer in a model kitchen, so are new ideas and keen incentive born in the film class for homemakers, with its novel approach and modern setting.

The kitchens that passed the screen test for this motion picture had to meet the exacting requirements of nationally-known home economists, as well as Hollywood standards of charm, good taste and proportion.

No "false-front" camera-beautiful kitchens satisfied these specialists. They insisted on working in complete, compact, modern kitchens, which actually reflect more scientific ingenuity and careful planning than any living room.

In these practical kitchens, stream lines is no ideal phase, for this simplified, sanitary, labor-saving equipment is keyed in style and purpose to a busy age.

Recognizing the demands of home experts, Hollywood signed all-star kitchens, with all star cast, adding a continual procession of close-ups, so that every seat in the theatres is a good seat for this amazingly pictured household course.

The class isn't all work, for there is the constant play of sparkling humor, the appeal of tender romance, and the suspense of a coherent, intelligently-directed story, which dramatizes everyday happenings—the human sort of things that really do happen.

Binding the attractive story together is the romance of home-making, a subject that holds the interest of every woman young and old. Even the Times knows that all women—brides, business type and experienced housekeepers, respond to the fascination of looking in on another woman, when she is at work in the kitchen.

Particularly do they like it when they are allowed to sit quietly and watch her prepare some dish, in which she specializes. They know that if they watch closely, while she measures and mixes and completes the entire cooking operation, this close-up personal study will be more helpful than hours of reading recipes and blind experimenting.

Not only does every person in the audience share this close-up of each

Moosonee, Quebec—After subsisting 39 days on fourteen rabbits, a government survey party of fifteen men were brought back to civilization by airplane. Flight Lieutenant Spradbrow of Dominion Skyways discovered the lost party slowly freezing to death in the bleak muskeg country at a temperature of 38 degrees below zero. They had been practically without food since November 22nd.
