Friday Is The Last Day Of Times Free Cooking School

Interest Spreads In Person County Times Free and Profitable Film Entertainment; Last Day At Dolly Madison Friday, Jan. 14th. At 10:30 A. M.

Free Admission — Free Prizes

A welcome invitation to the wise is sufficient. Evidently the Times will not have to get out engraved announcements for that reunion of homemakers on Jan. 14th in the Dolly Madison.

Good news does travel fast, particularly when it is news of a gala party for the community, with gifts, with quality entertainment, cheered by jollity and novelty, and spiced with knowledge—all served hospitably by the Times.

No door cards, coupons, printed invitations, or cash will be needed; just the countersign of all alert housekeepers, who are due to say "Show me the latest home ideas," when they advance on the Dolly Madison theatre, at 10:30 on Jan. 14th.

Showing every person in every theatre seat the triumphant new 1938 Cooking School, direct from Hollywood, will be no problem, for motion picture ingenuity has joined forces with scientific homemaking to produce an original laboratory course that deftly combines romance, sprightly humor, originality and profitable instruction.

All of the popular features of the former cooking school are here; The free recipe sheets, the atmosphere of congenial informality, the wise counsel, the hints on clever short-cuts, the up-to-the-minute suggestions for entertaining, the demonstration of delicious and nourishing dishes, the array of modern kitchen equipment and the distribution of daily gifts and real surprises.

All those elements of fun and profit have been retained, and all are made doubly worth-while because every guest of the Times will have an individual close-up of every process.

This scientific new laboratory of ideas has graduated out of the class where hundreds of women craned their necks in a vain attempt to see what was happening on the stage, or assail the lecturer with plaintive cries: "Hold it up high, where we all can see."

Keeping pace with the baking, roasting and frying, a series of salads and frozen delicacies will parade in and out of the adaptable electric refrigerator, which will reveal its host of possibilities for simplifying labor and marketing, and contributing to good health and good food.

What to do with left-overs? How to take the gloom out of laundry day? How to save time, energy and temper in meal preparation? how to be attractive in spite of the daily rush? How to make the picnic that men love to eat? How to give first-aid to fallen cakes?

It won't be necessary to ask the questions, for expert home specialists have anticipated these very problems. They know what bothers many an experienced housekeeper, because it is their job to know and to counsel helpfully.

What about the story and the cast?

Some familiar Hollywood faces will be recognized in this production, which was filmed and directed in one of the famous West Coast Studios. The heroine is a winsome blonde who shares the perplexities of many an older housekeeper. Actually her title should be "It Might Happen Here," for the human story has universal appeal. And it might have happened right in this community.

Friday, Jan. 14th, at 10:30 a. m. is the last showing of this picture. The "Blue Mold" is a number of times. The place—Dolly Madison theatre.
