SUNDAY, MARCH 6, 1938

People in Roxboro like to listen to good programs over their radios and station W. D. N. C., Durham, has a number of good programs. We read about what they are going to have in one of the daily papers and then try to get the program that night. It's absolutely useless as you can't get the station at all. You can tell when you are on it, but just a mass of utterances will greet you. We have tried to get basketball games, Duke programs of first one kind and then the other. The results, at night, are always the same. It is not difficult to get the station during the day, but a majority of the best programs come at night.

If possible the officials of W. D. N. C. should do something to give their Roxboro friends a better reception at night.

Watch out for a building boom in the business district of Roxboro. At the present time it's next to impossible to find a business place for rent and in a short time someone is going to have to build.

Roxboro has been growing at a rapid rate and indications are that this city will continue to grow. If this is to be the case then some more buildings in the business district must be erected and that time is not far off.

A few buildings are large enough to divide, but not many. Recently there has been a tendency to divide the large stores and make two. This has been done in two or three cases but it will not continue.

Roxboro is going to grow and a mere need of buildings will not stop it. The buildings are going to come.

Farmers over the entire county are interested in learning about the Crop Control bill and Mr. Sanders, County Agent, is doing everything in his power to see to it that they learn about it.

In 81 of the State's 100 counties, grows will journey to community polls March 12 to express their opinion of marketing quotas. If two-thirds of those voting want restriction on their 1938 tobacco and cotton crops, then the quotas will go into effect on this year's production.

In order to get a representative cross-section of the producers' wishes, then it will be necessary that every grower of these crops cast his ballot. If you don't vote and are opposed to the provisions, the county committee can place quotas on your production anyway if the necessary majority want control.

On the other hand, if you want your crop restricted so that prices may be held up next year, then you should do your part by visiting the polls on March 12 and marking yes on the ballot.

Anyone who produces tobacco or cotton in 1937, whether he be landlord, operator, tenant or sharecropper, will be eligible to vote.

Vote as you please — but vote.

AUSTRIA CURBS NAZIS

Graz, Austria — A proposed demonstration throughout Styria by 60,000 Nazi sympathisers in celebration of the German - Austrian alliance, was frustrated by a rapid concentration of army units and the police. Leaders were warned that any further attempts of the kind would be sternly dealt with by the Austrian Government.

THE BUSINESS WEEK

In the face of a steady recession in business since August last, there is admittedly little to support the theory that within the next sixty days an upswing in industry may be hoped for; yet that is indicated by all available data. With the exception of 1932, every period throughout the depression marked an upward movement at the end of the first quarter of the year, continuing well into the Summer. There is every reason to believe that this trend may be repeated this year, largely, however, through further government "pump priming." . . . Failing to obtain the support of the more powerful railroad unions, the train-operating brotherhoods seem destined to lose their demand that freight trains be limited to 70 cars in length. Congress appears genuinely concerned over the loss in railroad revenue, and disinclined to favor new legislation aimed at additional reductions in operating income . . . The automotive industry is anxiously awaiting any further action along the lines of General Motors, which has just cut 10% from all salaries up to $10,000, 20 percent additional from salaries from $10,000 to $50,000 and an additional 30% on any excess over $50,000. Plant employers covered by union contracts are not affected . . . Gloomy prospects for immediate employment for the army of college graduates next June were held by speakers at the National Occupational Conference at Atlantic City, who predicted an era of hard sledding for white-collar workers.

IMPORTANT BILLS IMPEND

Washington, D. C. — With the 8-week filibuster over the Anti-Lynching Act disposed of, Congress settles down to consideration of many of the most important pieces of legislation now pending. Among the measures on which speedy action is expected are tax revision, reorganization of Government departments, and naval appropriations. Many public hearings are scheduled during the week on highly controversial bills before both houses.

MME. CHIANG QUILTS

Hankow, China — It is reported that Mme. Chiang Kai-shek will relinquish command of China's air forces, which she has directed for two years. The terrific strain of the Japanese invasion is said to have impaired the health of the Wellesley-educated wife of China's Generalissimo. Chinese planes have taken a sudden offensive, not only bombing nearby Japanese islands, but halting the Jap penetration toward South China.

SPY HUNT CONTINUES

New York City — Arrest of two soldiers and a woman confederate charged with furnishing United States Army information to a foreign power is believed to be only the first step in a sweeping inquiry into a widespread espionage system in this country. A large squad of operatives of the Federal Bureau of Investigation are active in this city working on various leads thus far uncovered.

GENERAL PERSHING RALLIES

Tucson, Ariz. — After his family and physicians had given up hope for his recovery, General John J. Pershing showed signs of improvement. Whether the rally will continue or not his doctors declined to commit themselves.

"OUR CHECK IS ENCLOSED"

Modern business needs the speed, accuracy, safety and time-saving convenience of checks. It would be seriously handicapped if financial transactions suddenly reverted to the outmoded method of paying with cash.

For the same reasons, you need a checking account to increase your personal efficiency and to give you more time for yourself. You've probably always wanted one . . . why not actually have one, by starting an account at this bank today?

Bridge Club Meets

Mrs. R. B. Dawes entertained her Bridge Club at her home on High School Drive, on Tuesday evening.

The living-room was beautifully decorated with spring flowers, where three tables were placed for Bridge.

After several progressions the scores were added and the Club prize was won by Mrs. W. E. Malone, and the Visitor's Prize by Mrs. J. D. Bradsher.

The hostess, assisted by Mrs. B. B. Knight served a delicious fruit salad course with coffee.

Presbyterian Auxiliary Meets

The Auxiliary of the Presbyterian church met on Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. David Carver on Peachtree St.

The meeting was presided over by the president, Mrs. R. C. Hall. The program was on Foreign Missions and the president reviewed a Foreign Mission book called, "Glorious Living." A special offering for missions was taken. The meeting closed with the Mispah Benediction, after which light refreshments were served by the hostess, who was assisted by her sister, Miss Nina Abbitt.

Ca-Vel Bridge Club Meets

The Ca-Vel Bridge Club met at the home of Mrs. Guthrie Bradsher on N. Main St. on Wednesday evening.

Yellow jonquils were artistically arranged in the living-room where three tables were placed for Bridge.

After several delightful progressions the scores were added and the prize for high score was won by Mrs. B. B. Mangum and the consolation prize by Mrs. Chris Wagner.

Delicious refreshments were served.
