Edward G. Robinson To Play A
Dolly Madison Theatre Monday and Tuesday, March 21-22nd

The frankest actor to hit Hollywood since Mae West is 14-year-old Bobby Jordan, tough kid extraordinary.

Bobby's principal claims to fame in his profession are parts in "Dead End," in which he scored the juvenile hit, and in Warner Bros.' current Damon Runyon and Howard Lindsay comedy starring Edward G. Robinson, "A Slight Case of Murder," coming Monday to the Dolly Madison Theatre.

"Acting," he told amused Eddie Robinson, "is de softest racket dere is, pal. If y' don't believe it, try diggin' a ditch."

"Listen, sis!" he said to leading woman Jane Bryan, "if I was a little bigger I'd show up dis Williard Parker guy. He makes love to you like he's afraid you'd break in two!"

And to six-foot-four, 200-pound Parker, the romantic lead, who liked to tease him: "Aw, lay off, y'big hunk o' limburger! You're twice as big as me and two of me could lick you easy!"

Baby booklets and garments, silk dresses, slacks, pajamas, house coats and posters with details of each.

Biology: Mr. Cannon - Cage of white rats showing the effect of different foods on growth appearance, and activity. Booklets and posters on leaves, trees, flowers, birds, health and bird boxes.
