TROOP 49 SPENDS NIGHT AT CHUB LAKE

The troop left Roxboro Wednesday afternoon under the care of Dr. Robert E. Long. When we arrived, we went swimming, erected a flag pole and raised the flag, ate supper, and talked around the campfire. We had several visitors from Roxboro, who came out after supper.

We went to bed about 10 o'clock and one of the funny things that happened was that one of the boys in our troop walked and talked in his sleep. We arose about 4 o'clock and cooked our breakfast, and raised the flag. We then went swimming and

ROXBORO GAINS IN VALUATION Miss Bradsher, Carlton, Satterfield

Picked Up $72,000 Increase This Year, But Lost Large Sum To State In Intangibles

NET GAIN WAS $30,000

The city of Roxboro has gained $72,000 in valuations on the tax book this year. Then the city turned around and found that it had lost $42,000 in intangibles that went to the state of North Carolina, this left a net gain of about $32,000.

The larger portion of the gain in valuation came from new business and new buildings in this city. The total valuation of property in Roxboro is now $2,441,-

This increase in valuation proves that Roxboro is growing fast. $72,000 is a nice increase and if Roxboro continues to grow at this rate it will soon be in the class of a city.

City Manager Harris pointed out that the $30,000 net gain did not necessarily mean a tax reduction, but he is working hard toward that end. Many increases as large as this one will mean a

Halifax, N. S.-According to a member of the crew of a whaler, who has just returned from the Antarctic, five seamen went insane and five others jumped overboard because of the dread monotony of the many months spent among ice-floes, the stench of whale oil and the daily drudgery on decks running in blood. More than 1,600 whales were captured on the trip, producing 119,000 barrels of oil.
