A committee from State college in Raleigh will act as judges for this division of exhibits and award the prizes following a thorough inspection.

A number of premium books are still left and may be had for the asking at his office on Reams avenue, Perkins indicated.

On the mid-way this year will be the Art Lewis shows, considered by the management of the fair one of the cleanest road shows ever to come to Person County.

"We are making every effort to make the 1938 fair the finest and largest in the history of the association," President Perkins said. "We need only the cooperation of the people of Person County to make it so."

NICKS TO HEAD YOUNG DEMOCRATS

Local Club Endorses Gordon Gray For State Presidency Monday.

Person County Young Democrats in special session Monday night endorsed Gordon Gray, Winston-Salem lawyer and publisher, for the state presidency and elected local Attorney S. F. Nicks, Jr. to serve as president of the local club for the coming year.

E. G. Thompson, outgoing president, was not a candidate for re-election.

All Young Democrats are invited to attend the State convention in Durham, September 8-10 as delegates from the local club. A caucus of attending delegates will be held prior to the election of officers in Durham to determine Person's official delegation as well as consider any business that might arise at the state meeting.

Other officers elected to serve along with President Nicks were Phillip L. Thomas, vice-president, and F. O. Carver, Jr., secretary and treasurer.

The Person Young Democratic club is allotted two votes for the state presidency and Gray's endorsement came largely because of his residence in the same congressional district with Person County.

Complete Text Of Resolution

We, the business men, members of the Chamber of Commerce, representatives of the Civic Clubs, representatives of the Tobacco Board of Trade, members of our banking institutions in a joint meeting this day, held in the room of the Chamber of Commerce do and hereby go on record as endorsing the general demand that the Old Belt Market open and close with the Middle Belt Tobacco Market of our state for the Tobacco year 1938-39. It is the unanimous opinion of this assembled group that it is unfair to our county—to the business interests—to the warehousemen, to the tobacco growers of our county to open our market later than the Middle Belt.

The following resolution as enacted by the Danville Chamber of Commerce meets with our approval and endorsement: "RESOLVED:

That this meeting go on record as endorsing the idea of attempting to have the Old Belt Tobacco markets open and close on the same date as the Middle Belt markets for the 1938-39 and subsequent seasons, and that a committee consisting of representatives from the above organizations in cooperation with similar representatives from other Old Belt markets be appointed and instructed to immediately contact and meet on appointment, official representatives of the major tobacco buying companies same dates as the Middle Belt, and that this Committee report back as soon as possible to an adjourned meeting of this group for such further action as may be necessary."

"To have the sense of the eternal in life is a short flight for the soul. To have had it, is the soul's vitality."—George Meredith.

S. G. Winstead Writes Secretary Henry A. Wallace In Behalf Of Drive.

Roxboro tobacco men and the Chamber of Commerce today began a concerted drive for an earlier opening for the local weed market.

In a combined session this morning, warehousemen and Chamber of Commerce directors unanimously adopted a resolution addressed to Jim Ficklen, president of the United States Tobacco association, urging that this market, along with others in the Old Belt, be allowed to open on September 13 with Oxford and Durham and other members of the Middle Belt.

A petition, signed by the president and secretary of the Chamber of Commerce and every merchant and business man which could be reached, will be forwarded along with the resolution. The petition is being circulated today and tomorrow.

Roxboro's drive is being carried on simultaneously with similar drives in Danville, Winston-Salem and other members of the Old Belt.

A petition carrying the signatures of 30,000 farmers over the belt has already been circulated and this will be used to supplement the petition of merchants and business men in the various towns.

Additional efforts for an earlier opening were begun yesterday in behalf of Person County farmers. S. G. Winstead, in a letter to Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace, attempted to solicit the government's aid in securing relief for this county with an earlier opening.

Person County's tobacco crop, it is estimated, is at least a month ahead of schedule and this county stands to lose considerable by being forced to wait until September 27 before opening.

The opinion was expressed by tobacco men in this morning's session that more tobacco remained in the hill in both Durham and Granville counties now than in Person.

Mr. Winstead estimated that the Roxboro market stood to lose approximately one third by being forced to wait for the Old Belt opening.

The committee which drew up resolutions for the local market included S. G. Winstead, Melvin H. Burke, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, and George Walker, secretary of the Roxboro Tobacco Board of Trade.

Kitchen Is On Parade At New-Type Cooking School

Motion Picture Dramatizes Every-Day Problems Of Home-Making.

Join the parade of home-makers.

The Times is making elaborate plans to entertain local women at its 1938 Motion Picture Cooking School September 13 and 14 in the Palace and Dolly Madison Theatres.

"Star in My Kitchen" is a dramatic presentation of cooking and home-making instruction. Each step in the preparation of many delicious recipes to make up an entire meal will literally parade across the screen to give every person in the audience a close-up view of the whole process.

Other problems of the home-laundry, refrigeration, child feeding and even beauty secrets—will be treated in the same original manner to provide truly profitable instruction.

But "Star in My Kitchen" is more than a modern course in home economics. It's a clever screen story produced in Hollywood and directed and filmed by the same men who turn out many leading motion pictures each year. The romantic plot is spiced with humor, pathos, and hospitality and is thrilling to the very end.

It is a real experience to follow the attractive, eager young heroine as she learns the art of home-making from washing dishes to charming entertainment. Local women who are wife and mother, "chief cook and bottle washer", will learn much from the labor-saving suggestions which Dedee Abot receives from the older home-makers who help her along on her career.

Husbands are bound to give this practical entertainment a five-star vote of approval, for the audience will learn from nationally-known authorities in home economics that pie is digestible when made the right way with the right ingredients.

Bad food means a bad disposition, and it is the responsibility of a modern home manager to plan and cook expertly and correctly so her family may enjoy their home life to the fullest. In the Motion Picture Cooking
