The Fuehrer is wildly cheered by the populace as he motors through the streets of medieval Nuremburg. It was here that 1,500,000 Germans rallied to hear their leader demand the right of self-determination for Sudeten Germans in Czechoslovakia.

MEBANE EDITOR INJURED IN WRECK AT LOCH LILY

Car Plunges Over Embankment At Chub Lake Bridge Friday Morning.

Suffering injuries received about 4 o'clock Friday morning in an automobile accident at Loch Lily, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Parnell, of Mebane, were taken to Watts Hospital Friday morning at 8:30 o'clock.

The accident occurred about five miles west of Roxboro, when Mr. and Mrs. Parnell, traveling in a Lincoln Zephyr automobile, were returning to Durham. They became lost, and took the wrong road out of Roxboro. Details of the accident reveal the car failed to make a turn at Loch Lily lake bridge, and left the road, plunging down a 20-foot embankment.

Mr. Parnell was knocked unconscious for a short time, but Mrs. Parnell was only stunned. She made her way to the residence of W. E. Rudder, merchant, who resides near the scene of the accident, and obtained aid in getting Mr. Parnell out of the car. Both received first aid treatment at the Rudder home. Then Charles Parnell, a son, was called in Mebane and journeyed to the scene of the accident with T. L. Jeffry, automobile man of Mebane.

Reports from the hospital last night were that Mr. Parnell had suffered a cut on the head, with possible fracture of three ribs. First X-ray pictures failed to reveal the fractures, but hospital attaches said others would be made later. Pending these pictures they said it was impossible to tell the extent of his injuries.

Mrs. Parnell was injured only slightly. She had a cut on the forehead and minor lacerations. She was said to be suffering from shock.

The younger Parnell took his parents to the Durham hospital and then returned to help in getting the car out of the embankment, which was accomplished at a late hour Friday night.

Mr. Parnell is well known in the state, being editor of the Mebane Enterprise and secretary of the North Carolina Fair association. He is also secretary of the Mebane six-county fair.

Along The Way With the Editor

Here's a picture of Coy E. Day. Mr. Day now has gray hairs, many of them, but this picture was taken before he married and settled down. Coy says that it is a waste of money to advertise and this little skit is just to prove to him that people read the newspapers. He may get mad at this, but not too mad. We knew him when he didn't even own a service station and worked for Duck Legs Thompson.

Young Democrat Jack Strum attended the convention in Durham about two weeks ago. After the formal meeting Jack and the other boys dropped by the Washington Duke Tavern for a bite to eat. Jack wanted a country style sandwich and the waitress said she thought she knew just what he meant. After a short wait, the waitress returned but no sandwich adorned the platter placed before "Y. D." Strum. A pitcher of molasses and a biscuit was the food and the instructions from the waitress were "to sop." Jack promptly made a hole in the top of the biscuit with his finger, poured in the molasses and went to work. Every crumb was consumed before he left.

R. L. "Bob" Wilburn made a rat trap of his own last week. Strange to say the thing worked and Mr. Wilburn caught a rat about the size of a squirrel. After he caught the rat he was afraid to kill it and secured some help. Then the slaughter started. The rat managed to get out of the trap and ran up Mr. Wilburn's back under his coat. Neighbors say, that Mr. Wilburn let out a yell that would have shamed Tarzan. He came out of his coat in nothing flat and put on a war dance such as has not been seen since the days of Pocahontas. We really do not know whether the rat was ever killed or not. He probably died of fright.

The Times has ordered a new cut for Melvin Burke, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce. Burke went to the photographer last week and "watched for the birdie." The result is that we have a new picture of Burke, but somehow the new one fails to register. Burke poses the best he can, but the results are always the same. Dr. W. R. Hambrick has returned to Roxboro after spending some time in Hickory and in Durham. While in Durham he was a patient at Duke Hospital. Dr. Hambrick says that the doctors told him they were going to operate Monday so he left the hospital Saturday. Anyway, he is feeling fine and looks like a million dollars. We wouldn't be surprised to see him start jerking soda again.

Evangeline Fox Leaves To Enter Westminster Choir

Daughter Of Mr. And Mrs. W. M. Fox To Enter Famous Choir School.

Miss Evangeline Fox, talented young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Fox, will leave tomorrow to enter Westminster Choir college in Princeton, N. J.

This appointment to the Westminster Choir school comes as quite an honor to Miss Fox, who has made an exceptional record under local music teachers. She is the first student from Person County to enter this famous school and it is expected that she will soon become a member of the choir that makes extensive tours throughout this country and Europe.

Miss Fox has studied under two of Roxboro's most accomplished musicians, taking piano under Mrs. W. H. Newell for 10 years and pipe organ under Mrs. Mary H. Long during the past year. She has also studied under W. P. Twaddell of Durham. "She has worlds of talent and an unusual voice," Mr. Twaddell said in speaking of Miss Fox.

The Westminster choir came into existence in 1926 in answer to the demand of churches for able young choir members and leaders. Founded by Dr. John F. Williamson, then director of music in Westminster Presbyterian church in Dayton, Ohio, the school began its first year with 60 young people enrolled.

Local Tenant Loan Group Begins Applications Study

Bushy Fork To Organize Home Makers Club

Meeting Will Be Held Wednesday At Bullock Home On Highway 144.

A meeting for the purpose of organizing a Home Demonstration Club in the Bushy Fork township will be held Wednesday at 3:30 o'clock in the home of Mrs. B. B. Bullock on Highway No. 144, Miss Velma Beam, home demonstration agent for Person county, announced yesterday.

All homemakers in this vicinity who are interested in doing some interesting projects under the supervision of the Extension Service are urged to be present for this meeting.

During the month of October, Miss Beam will organize Home Demonstration clubs in all communities requesting her services, if possible. These clubs will work on practically the same projects during the year, so that the program will in reality be county-wide in its scope. However, in certain communities where the needs differ from their neighboring communities, the program will be fitted to the individual needs.

"Much real work can be done for the betterment of community life in particular and the county in general by the cooperative efforts on the part of Home Demonstration club members," Miss Beam stated, "so it is hoped that many of the homemakers will show an active interest in the organization of these clubs." Announcements of the meeting times of these clubs in other communities will be announced later in this paper.

Person Sanitary Officer Writes On Milk

By T. J. FOWLER

Nature did not intend for milk to be moved from place to place, but our complex mode of living has made that necessary. So, that it becomes the duty of the Health Department to see that it is protected and produced in the safest place and the most sanitary methods used.

Milk to be clean and safe must be produced by healthy cows and healthy milk handlers. Since it is produced in barns it is not too much to ask that the barn be as clean as the kitchen where other foods are prepared, it is not too much to ask that the cows be free from dirt and that the milk handlers wear clean clothes and have clean hands, it is not too much to expect to have a good water supply under pressure and to have all milk utensils washed and sterilized after each usage and stored in a place free from flies and other forms of contamination, and it is drawn from the cow and put into bottles, by bottling and capping machines, and kept below 50 degrees F. until it reaches the final consumer. This is not the theory of how milk should be produced and handled, but it is actually being done here in Person County by producers of Grade "A" Milk.

The health department is interested solely in the milk being safe and wholesome for human consumption. The producers of Grade D milk do not meet any of the above requirements; and for this reason, this department does not consider Grade D milk safe or a wholesome supply.

The milk consumption for Person county is low compared with the consumption of other counties in the state. We know that children and adults are not getting the proper diet when they are leaving milk out of it. Milk is the cheapest and best food on earth and it contains vitamins, calories, and minerals necessary for health and vigor. Children need milk to supply these minerals for normal growth and the best development, but, before buying always look for the Grade label on the bottle cap.

If you are not within reach of a Grade A dairy drink milk from your family cow, it is wonderful food. Let's drink more milk.

Just Imagine

Can you imagine Mr. Ferebee as a dignified college professor? Can you imagine Mr. Liles as a sissy, feminine college student who is nothing less than a "walking encyclopedia"? Can you imagine Miss Noell as a rollicking, rimp-roaring tomboy? Can you imagine how funny it would be to see the baseball team turned into "burlesque queens"? Can you imagine how the class of 1890 looked? Can you imagine Merritt Chambers in a funnier black-faced part than he had in his senior play?

If you have a big imagination you know what to expect Friday night! But if you don't have, you'll have to come and find out.

Lock up the doors, put out the cat, roll up the streets and see the "Cool Knights" performed!

Don't forget the Baby Popularity Contest. Help your favorite baby to win a large silver loving cup and the title, "Little Miss or Little Mr. Helena High School of 1938." Each vote costs one cent. Admission will be 15c and 25c.
