DAVIS SPEAKS AT BETHEL HILL

Young Roxboro Attorney Talks To Students At Tuesday Chapel Program.

Fitz Davis, Roxboro attorney, spoke during the Bethel Hill chapel period Tuesday when the Junior class conducted the program under the supervision of A. G. Bullard, who introduced the speaker.

Elsie Whitfield read the Bible lesson.

Mr. Davis addressed the students about the future of young Americans. He stressed the fact that young people of today should realize the responsibilities that will be theirs when youths are called on to shoulder the burdens of their elders.

Recalling Socrates as the originator of the question and answer method of carrying on educational discussions, the young lawyer, showed how, as prominent men die, there are others to step into places of responsibility. Plato replaced Socrates, Hitler replaced Kaiser Wilhelm, and many great statesmen have replaced George Washington.

Mr. Davis concluded with a challenge for the Bethel Hill students to be ready for their responsibilities when they come.

Here's A Tip For Hunting Or Fishing Guides

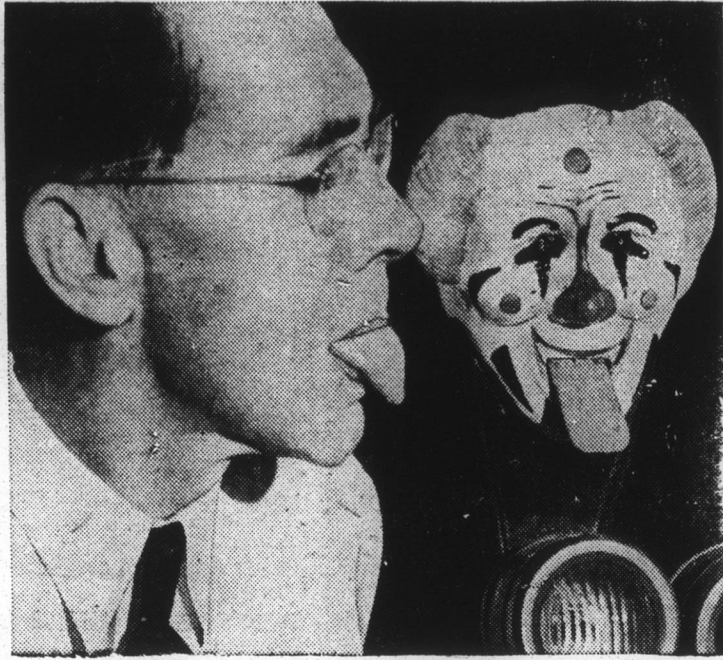

The N. C. State Employment Service is making a State-wide survey to obtain data as to the availability of guides, including both commercial and sport fishing, and also hunting guides.

In order to secure this information for the benefit of the public, all hunting and fishing guides employed, or unemployed, are requested to register at the nearest State Employment office in the community in which they live.

David Wilson, Santa Monica, Calif., true friend of the indignant motorist, recently patented a device which will express his contempt of the motorist who persists in blowing his horn a every available opportunity. Granted the enthusiastic approval of the United States patent office, the gadget is a combination of a light, a horn and a protruding tongue, to be attached to the rear of the automobile. The face resembles a clown mask and is operated from the front seat by means of a button on the dashboard.

GEORGE KANE GETS CONTRACT FOR NEW BULL DURHAM PLANT

George W. Kane, Roxboro and Durham contractor, won the right to build the proposed new Bull Durham factory in Durham on a bid of approximately half a million dollars, Preston L. Fowler of Durham, branch manager of the American Tobacco company, last night said he was informed by the firm's New York office.

In addition, contracts must be let for plumbing, heating, wiring, elevators, and a sprinkling system.

Mr. Kane was awarded the general contract after a bid opening in New York city Tuesday.

The new building will constitute an addition to the Bull Durham smoking tobacco plant. The product was one of the first to be manufactured in Durham. The new structure will be at the corner of Blackwell street and Morehead avenue. It will be 280 feet long and 90 feet wide and will have five stories and a basement. Air conditioning will be installed in the factory. The building will be of concrete, steel and brick.

Several weeks ago the Durham city council gave the American Tobacco company permission to construct another railroad siding to serve the new building.

SCOUT COUNCIL MEETS TUESDAY

Recent Drive For Funds Under Previous Year, Treasurer's Report Shows.

The Boy Scout Drive for 1939 Funds came slightly under that of last year, according to the treasurer's report at Tuesday night's session of the local Scout Council.

Twelve council members and scout masters were on hand for the regular meeting held in the office of Dr. A. F. Nichols. J. S. Merritt, vice-president, presided in the absence of President George W. Kane and the financial report was made by Treasurer O. B. McBroom.

A. P. Patterson, district scout executive, present for the meeting, outlined plans for the improvement of Camp Cherokee, attended by Person county scouts and others of the district during the summer months. The plans outlined by Patterson are tentative pending the approval of a $25,000 project by the Works Progress administration.

Plans for the organization of a Negro troop here were discussed at length and work on the idea is already underway. Several matters of routine business came up for discussion.

Bethel Faculty Presents Famous Play Tomorrow

Amusement lovers will be delighted to know that a play based on the most famous of Mary J. Holmes' novels, "Tempest and Sunshine," is to be presented at Bethel Hill High School tomorrow night at 8 o'clock by the Bethel Hill faculty directed by Mrs. J. A. Beam.

"Very few novelists have endured through the years as Mary J. Holmes has," Ned Albert, the distinguished dramatist told a reporter recently when interviewed in his apartment in New York City. "Mrs. Holmes had a long and illustrious career, and while her novels are old they are still fresh in viewpoint and plot. Last year I conceived the idea of making a play out of this great novelist's immortal 'Lena Rivers'."

It was published by Samuel French, international play publishers, and was an instantaneous success. Whenever the play was presented it brought forth repeated demands for another of Mrs. Holmes' splendid stories, and since "Tempest and Sunshine" was her most popular work and lent itself so admirably to the theatre, I decided to turn it into a modern play. Mrs. Holmes started going to school at the tender age of three. Born in Brookfield,

4-H COUNCIL ORGANIZED HERE

20 Per Cent Range Allowed For Adjustment of Quota Upward or Downward.

A provision that the quota for any tobacco farm may be adjusted upward or downward from the 1938 quota by not more than 20 percent featured a statement on procedure for establishing 1939 five-cured tobacco quotas issued Tuesday by the Department of Agriculture.

The statement also announced that poundage quotas under the compulsory quota law and acreage allotments under the voluntary soil conservation act would be made "comparable." Disparity between the two gave rise to many complaints in 1938.

It had been expected that Secretary Wallace would issue his proclamation establishing the national quota for flu-cured tobacco in 1939. However, it was stated that this will not be done until the last part of this week. It generally is understood that the quota will be approximately 750 million pounds, substantially the same as this year.

Before the referendum on the quota this year, which will be held on December 10, the individual quotas will be made public. This was one of the suggestions made at a conference of growers here on October 25 and 26.

Adjustments Provided

The announcement made by the department follows:

"The procedure provides that upon the recommendations of the community and county committee the 1938 quota for any farm

Representatives Of All Clubs Met At Court House; Miss Brewer Is Leader.
