Stephens - Puryear Vows Are Heard In Beautiful Ceremony Wednesday

In a beautiful ceremony at the home of the bride's parents Wednesday at twelve o'clock, Miss Emily Stephens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. G. Stephens, was united in marriage to Mr. Francis Montague Puryear, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Puryear of Clarksville, Virginia.

Before an improvised altar in the music room, Rev. M. W. Lawrence, pastor of the bride, and Rev. Mr. Puryear, brother of the groom and a Baptist minister of Arlington, Va. heard the nuptial vows, with the ring ceremony of the Methodist Church being used. The altar was in white, with a background of green ferns. Central piece was candelabra, and it was flanked with chrysanthemums and gladioli. Lighted tapers placed throughout the home shed a soft glow over the entire setting.

Prior to the taking of the vows, nuptial music was rendered by Mrs. Emory Winstead, pianist, and Mr. Allyn Norton, vocalist, brother in law of the bride of Washington, D. C. To the strains of the traditional wedding march, the bride, attired in a lovely creation of blue, with matching accessories entered and met the groom at the altar. Miss Stephens was attended by her sister, Miss Rachel Stephens of Durham as maid of honor. She was gowning in a rose creation with matching hat and accessories. The bride wore a shoulder corsage of white roses, and that of the maid of honor was pink. Attending the groom as best man was his brother, Mr. Eugene Puryear, of Wagram, N. C.

Immediately following the ceremony the bride's parents entertained the wedding party and out of town guests at a wedding breakfast. A delightful four course meal was served in the dining room. Central piece of the table was a two-tiered wedding cake, with lilies of the valley, white roses and ferns being used in decorations.

In the afternoon, Mr. and Mrs. Puryear departed on a wedding trip to Florida, and on their return will make their home in an apartment on the residence of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Dunlap on Virginia Avenue. They expect to return here before January 9th.

Mrs. Puryear was educated at Roxboro High School and WCU-NC, Greensboro. Following her graduation there, she joined the faculty of Helena High School, and after teaching for several terms, became secretary to the Superintendent of Education, a position she holds at the present time. Mr. Puryear was educated at V. P. I., and after his graduation accepted a position with the federal government, with whom he is now working. His headquarters are in Halifax, Va.

Among the out of town guests here for the wedding yesterday were: Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Puryear and daughter of Clarksville, Va., Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Puryear and family of Arlington, Va., Mr. Eugene Puryear of Wagram, N. C., Mr. and Mrs. Allyn Norton and Allyn, Jr. of Washington, D. C., and Dr. and Mrs. H. M. Wagstaff of Chapel Hill, N. C.

Boone Oliver Weds Greensboro Girl Saturday

A marriage of much local interest was that of Miss Dale Nicholson of Greensboro and Boone Oliver of Roxboro which took place at College Place Methodist church in Greensboro December 24 at 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

The vows were spoken before Rev. B. C. Reavis of Greensboro. Only a few close friends and relatives of the young couple were present.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. K. H. Nicholson of Clinton, Maryland, while the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Oliver of this city. Both young people hold positions with a drug firm in Greensboro and will make their home at 714 Wesley Place in Greensboro.

Thelma Louise Alderman Weds Preston Satterfield Here Monday

In a ceremony characterized by simple dignity, Miss Thelma Louise Alderman and Preston Satterfield, Jr., were united in marriage at 10 o'clock Monday morning at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. J. J. Woody, on South Main street here.

The Rev. W. F. West, the bride's pastor, officiated, using the impressive ring ceremony.

The bride was becomingly attired in a two-piece suit of dusty rose with black accessories. Her flowers were a corsage of pink Briar Cliff roses and lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Satterfield is the attractive and popular daughter of Mrs. Lucy Brooks Alderman, of Roxboro, and the late Roscoe James Alderman, of Charlotte. She is a graduate of Salem college, class of 1935, and of Av-

Miss Mary Hatchett Weds Yanceyville Man In Impressive Ceremony Monday

A wedding of beauty and simplicity was solemnized Monday morning, December 26, at 10 o'clock, at the home of the bride's mother, in Roxboro, when Miss Mary Hatchett became the bride of Claude Lee Price, with Rev. J. A. Dailey, of Raleigh, N. C., uncle of the bride, performing the ceremony.

Fifteen minutes of piano music was rendered in prelude by Mrs. Edgar Masten, sister of the bride. At the ceremony hour the lovely soprano voice of Mrs. S. M. Bason, of Yanceyville, was heard in "Because" and "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life." As Mrs. Masten sounded the bridal chorus from "Lohengren" the bride and groom entered the living room together unattended, and were met at the improvised altar of evergreens and white candelabra by Rev. J. A. Dailey, of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, who heard their vows, using the impressive ring ceremony. Mendelssohn's Wedding March was played as the recessional.

Only members of the immediate families and intimate friends of the couple were present.

The bride wore her travel ensemble, a handsome two-piece suit of wine hue Julliard wool, trimmed with dyed fitch fur. All accessories were in the same rich color. A corsage of sun glow roses and lilies of the valley completed her costume.

Mrs. Price is the attractive daughter of Mrs. Thomas J. Hatchett and the late Mr. Hatchett of Roxboro, N. C. Since graduating from The Southern Conservatory of Music, of Durham, N. C., she has taught music in public schools of Caswell county. Mr. Price is the son of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Price of Ellerbe, N. C. He is a graduate of Mars Hill, and is now engaged in business in Yanceyville, N. C.

Immediately following the ceremony the couple left for a wedding trip to Florida, and the out-of-town guests for the wedding were entertained by Mrs. Hatchett at a buffet luncheon. Mr. and Mrs. Price will be at home in Yanceyville after January 2.

Eakes - Holton Vows Are Heard

On Friday, December 23, Miss Eulalia Genette Eakes of Roxboro, and Mr. Charles Edward Holton of near Blue Ridge Mountain, Va., were quietly united in marriage. The ceremony was performed by Mr. C. G. Humphries at his home near Moriah.

Mrs. Holton is an attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Eakes of Roxboro.

ritte college. For the past year she has been office manager of the local Gentry-Williams hospital.

Mr. Satterfield is the son of Preston Satterfield, Sr., of Roxboro, and Mrs. J. H. Bass, of Lewisburg, W. Va.

He is a graduate of State college and King's Business school of Raleigh. He is a member of Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity and is the junior member of the Roxboro Lumber company.

Immediately after the wedding the bride and groom left for a wedding trip to Richmond, Washington and New York. For her going-away outfit the bride wore her wedding dress with black fur-trimmed coat with matching sueded accessories.

After January 15 the couple will be at their home in Roxboro.

tired in a dress of Rio rust with matching accessories. Her only ornament was a string of pearls. Her flowers were a corsage of sweetheart roses and lilies of the valley.

Her only attendant was her sister, Miss Lizzie Blalock, maid of honor, who wore a velvet dress of black fashioned on lines similar to the bride's.

The groom was attended by his best man, A. F. King, of Burlington.

Mrs. King is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Blalock, of Prospect Hill. She received her education at Prospect Hill high school and for the past two years has held a position with Collins and Aikman at Roxboro. She has a wide circle of friends here.

Mr. King is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. W. King, of Burlington. He received his education at the Anderson high school. After a brief trip, Mr. and Mrs. King will make their home near Burlington.
