Six Townships Are Represented At Demonstration

By H. K. Sanders - J. B. Snipes

One of the most enthusiastic gatherings of farmers and farm women was held Friday afternoon on the farm of Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Crumpton, in the Allensville community.

Thirty-five people, representing six townships of the county, were present, showing the interest in a water supply in farm homes is widespread in Person County.

Mr. and Mrs. Crumpton graciously invited all their guests to make an inspection of the fixtures recently installed. They have enclosed a porch adjoining the kitchen and dining room. This has been divided into a bathroom and a dressing room. In the kitchen a sink and drain board have been installed.

While women are most interested in the household conveniences, the men paid particular attention to the tank just outside the house, the supports holding the tank, and the method of preventing the pipes from freezing.

At the spring, about 650 ft. from the residence, everybody wanted to see how the new cement enclosure, and the pipes which carry 7 1-2 gallons of water per minute to the tank, which has

3 Epidemics Strike County During Month, Allen Reports

Health Officer Estimates 500 Cases Of Flu During February; Mumps, Pink-Eye Numerous.

In contrast to records of low disease prevalence for each month during several years in Person County, February was characterized by three small epidemics of mild disorders, Dr. Albert L. Allen, head of the Person County health department said yesterday.

Probably not less than 500 cases of influenza occurred, resulting in the temporary closing of three schools. Mumps and pink-eye (Koch-Weeks Bacillus infection) appeared in epidemic form in a few localities in the county, although an exact estimate of the incidence of these disease cannot be made inasmuch as neither is reportable, Allen revealed in his monthly report.

Other diseases reported were as follows: chicken pox 12, syphilis 9, scarlet fever, measles and whooping cough, 5 each, and gonorrhea 1.

The health department during the month continued its work in the schools where 224 children were examined by the health officer and 36 inspected for skin and scalp diseases. The health dentist during the month inspected 153 children, cleaned the teeth of 144 and made a total of 939 dental operations, all under the auspices of the health department.

Eighteen women were examined for maternal care by the physician and two crippled children were examined at a clinic. Four were admitted to nursing service.

Demonstration Planned Tuesday At Wagstaff Farm

A terracing and row running demonstration will be held at Mrs. K. C. Wagstaff's farm at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning, the county agent's office announced yesterday.

At this time of the year, it was pointed out, the farmers will be building terraces and breaking land when the weather permits. Therefore a demonstration on these problems is believed valuable.

H. M. Ellis, agricultural engineer of the Extension Service, State college, will conduct the demonstration and will show how to properly re-plot a terrace, plow the land between terraces in order to prevent low places, and run rows so that each row will carry its own water.

The meeting is open to the public and H. K. Sanders, agricultural agent and J. B. Snipes, assistant, urged all farmers who are interested to attend the demonstration.

Along The Way With the Editor

Some people have funny ideas. Now there's Wheeler Newell. All his life he has been saving money and piling it up in stocks and bonds. Gordon Hunter knew about this hobby of Wheelers and finally prevailed upon him to go see the moving picture entitled "You Can't Take It With You." Immediately after seeing this show Wheeler left for California to see the Rose Bowl Football game. The trip cost over $100.00 and we know that Wheeler can't take that $100 with him.

I met Sam Oliver, police chief, the other day. He was eating peanuts and asked me to have some. He had just bought a half pound. I took the bag as he said—"You eat the rest. I can't do so well with them they hurt my teeth." With that he walked away and as he left I counted the peanuts. Eleven small nuts remained. It may be that they hurt his teeth, but not so much because one-half pound had been devoured before he decided to call it quits.

Coy Day and Coleman King have returned to this city from Atlanta, Georgia. Where they got the money to go to Atlanta is more than their creditors can figure out. It's probably more than King and Day could figure, too. They just up and left.

Income tax time finds electric light bills jumping in Roxboro. O. Y. Clayton, R. M. Spencer, Phil Thomas, Lester Clayton, Theo Clayton and others are using an adding machine for all that they are worth. Then they subtract just as hard. Even with all their figures it looks like Uncle Sam is going to get a big cut out of their reserve.

Alex Sergeant likes to make big speeches about people like Thomas Jefferson and George Washington and he is a real speaker too. When Alex takes the floor you just naturally revert right back to the period that he is talking about and if you don't watch out he will sway you like the wind blowing a tree. For the benefit of a few who have asked we hereby issue a statement—Jim Walker does not write his speeches.

Hours Lost On This Extra Offer Almost Certain To Bring Disappointment.

Counting the hours that remain of the big "Cash Offer" campaign and making every hour mean results, members seeking to share in the gigantic gift distribution are rushing through the home stretch at a furious pace. Votes are piling up in substantial numbers and for so many members that the outcome is as much of a mystery as ever each succeeding day.

The vote battle goes on throughout the wide territory served by The Person County Times and the members and their friends are in a turmoil of excitement as the race is nearing the final stage.

Those that assume the attitude of having enough votes, had better step lively as the late starters are coming to the front in an amazing manner. Taking a rest is all right in its place but it is very dangerous at this critical stage of the "Cash Offer" campaign, and the most certain thing of all is, that the value of the awards offered warrant such keen competition, and great effort put forth to win them. Each member must be on the alert to protect such good work as has been done up to this time.

Those who think they can win an award of such great value without supreme effort will awaken to the fact that they were under-estimating the full pulling power of the awards, the more energetic ones were at work getting subscriptions and when the votes are counted, the workers will be the winners.

This is the last week in which subscriptions may be secured to apply on the $50 Extra Cash Prize Offer. To the candidate who turns in the largest amount of money for subscriptions from Monday, February 27th., through Saturday, March 11th., will be awarded an extra cash prize of $50 in cash. This offer ends Saturday, March 11th.
