The Race Is On . . . . .

The 1939 baseball season, the centennial of the great national pastime, made its debut in Cincinnati Monday, in several other major league towns Tuesday and in the Piedmont yesterday.

What Happened Here . . . . .

This writer was recently asked what became of the medals and trophies which were to have been presented following the county high school basketball tournament here last winter.

as lack of finances, etc. which would have warranted the withdrawing of prizes.

Tar Heels Need Pitching . . . . .

Surprise team in college circles this year is Coach Bunn Hearn's Carolina nine, who with Duke and Wake Forest appear to be the class of both state and conference.

The Tar Heels, I believe, have the best balanced infield as well as the best catcher in the league.

Bud Hudson, the Tar Heel's No. 1, pitches his heart out but has little on the ball except control.

Might Have Sum'pin Here . . . . .

Dr. Hugh Beam and a number of others who are taking their golf game pretty serious around here these days think it would be a good idea to organize the "duffers" or those golfers whose game runs around the 100 mark or above in order that they can get together to play each other as well as secure dual meets with "the century boys" in Louisville, South Boston, Mebane or some of the other neighboring towns.
