For the girl who wants the sun on her legs, and who, when she wears slacks, invariably rolls them up, Harper's presents these new long shorts of gray Hockanum flannel, cuffed at the knee. With it this model wears a striped Everfast cotton shirt of red, white and blue.

Little Misses Have Birthday Party

Misses Marion Paylor and Janet Mitchell were joint hostesses to a number of their friends Monday night, celebrating their birthdays, at the home of Mrs. R. D. Mitchell on Morgan street.

After the game of Chinese checkers was enjoyed for some time, the guests were served cake and ice cream by the hostesses' mothers, Mrs. Paylor and Mrs. Mitchell.

Baskets of mints were given as favors.

Guests included: Panthea Bullock, Nancy and Mildred Stroud, Betty Gay Masten, Reda Umstead, Arline Hall, Mary Jo Jackson, Betsy Harris, Elizabeth Newell, Edriel Knight, Patsy Beam, Mona Clayton, Kathleen and Peggy Wilkins, Roxana Spencer, Betty Ann Cushwa and Rachel Kirby.

Betty Gay Masten won first prize and Betsy Harris second.

The hostesses received many pretty and useful gifts.

Allensville Club
In April Meeting

By Mrs. Robt. A. Gentry

The Allensville Home Demonstration club met on April 26 with Mrs. S. T. Slaughter hostess.

Mrs. Zadoc Slaughter, president, presided. After a short devotional Mrs. T. B. Davis gave an interesting talk on shrubs. She made an appeal that the work with the 4-H club in landscaping the grounds of our new school building at Allensville. She made an appeal that the churches represented do all that is possible to beautify the ground, beginning now to plan for fall planting. She told us that the love of home is inherent in us and we want beauty around us for this reason.

Mrs. B. G. Crumpton followed this talk with an appeal to landowners to build better and more comfortable homes for their tenants and to encourage them to beautify the homes. This would do much to make our Southland a more beautiful place.

Mrs. Robert Gentry made a short talk on the keeping of Farm Home Records. She spoke of the value of keeping records from year to year urging a time and place for keeping records and sound methods of keeping them.

Miss Elizabeth Williams, Home Furnishing Specialist, supplemented this talk by saying that while many people objected to the keeping of records because it took too much time, it was time and trouble well spent because we gain in the long run by learning to spend money wisely. It is money well spent that is saved. She urged the co-operation of the whole family in this work. There is no more valuable lesson in thrift than we find in the keeping of records. We enjoyed having Miss Williams with us very much.

The main project for April was general sanitation. Miss Beam gave a demonstration on cleaning. She gave directions for making a homemade plastic cleaner, and demonstrated the cleaner at work. She made an interesting talk on cleanliness. This was timely as all housewives are thinking of spring cleaning. She gave each a leaflet with various recipes for homemade cleaners and finishers.

Announcements of the possible opening of the curb market and the meeting at Hillsboro, May 17 were made. All were urged to attend.

After adjournment Mrs. Slaughter invited us into the dining room which was lovely with iris, spirea and weigelia and served iced tea and cake.

James Harris spent Thursday in Raleigh, N. C.

Gordon Hunter will leave Roxboro Tuesday to attend a statewide banker's convention in Pinehurst, N. C.

Walter Murray of Southern Pines, spent last Sunday in Roxboro.

Mrs. E. E. Thomas spent last night in Raleigh with her daughter.

Misses Martha Carter, Marjory Thomas and Nancy Bradsher are spending the day in Roxboro.

Alex Sergeant is reported to be much better. He is still a patient at Watt's hospital, Durham, N. C.

SMART FOR SPRING

This short-sleeved tailored jacket from the personal wardrobe of Jeanette MacDonald is smart for spring. The jacket is fashioned from tweed in a turquoise and brown mixture. The one-piece frock with box pleated skirt is heavy black crepe. Miss MacDonald chooses a linen straw hat with brown band and quill trim.

We then inspected the cabinets Mrs. Slaughter had built with the help of her son, her brooder house with 300 chickens and her lovely yard flowers.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. Ed Gentry on May 22 at 2:30 o'clock. All home makers are cordially welcomed.

LONG MEMORIAL

Jesse H. Lanning, Pastor Sunday School, 9:45 a. m. Devotional conducted by the Intermediates.

Morning Worship, 11:00 o'clock. Sermon by the Pastor on "Some Eternal Verities." Special Music by the Choir.

This Church is joining with the other churches in Roxboro in a combined Annual Graduation Service at the High School at 8:00 o'clock.

We need not be afraid of God's failure to do what He can for us but we do need to be terribly afraid that we will fail to prepare the way for Him to help us. Go to Church this Sunday and give God a better opportunity in your life!

Mrs. E. P. Dunlap Fetes Research
Club; New Officers Named Wednesday

has returned here for the summer. She has as her guest for this weekend, Miss Annetta Burnett of Burgaw.

Mesdames Ola Patterson, T. U. Conner and G. L. Doss and Miss Mary L. Doss of Appomattox, Va., are spending the weekend as guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Puckett.

Mrs. S. R. Whitten underwent a major operation at Watt's hospital in Durham Thursday. She is reported as recuperating nicely.

The final meeting this season of the Research club was held Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. E. P. Dunlap as hostess at Hotel Roxboro.

Members assembled at 3:30 o'clock and held the business session with Mrs. R. L. Wilburn presiding. The nominating committee presented the following new officers for the next year: President, Mrs. B. B. Newell; vice president, Mrs. S. M. Ford, and secretary and treasurer, Mrs. R. H. Shelton. All were unanimously elected.

Continuing the study on "Mysteries," Mrs. W. F. West presented a paper on "Marshal Ney." Mrs. S. G. Winstead conducted a surprise quiz on the year's work. At 5:30 o'clock the hostess invited the guests into the dining room, where a delicious dinner was served. A basket filled with iris and other flowers of pastel shades were used as a center piece.

Attending were Mrs. J. A. Beam, E. E. Bradsher, W. C. Bullock, B. G. Clayton, A. S. deVlaming, J. H. Hughes, Mamie Merritt, B. B. Newell, W. T. Pass, R. H. Shelton, W. F. West, R. L. Wilburn and S. G. Winstead. Special guests for dinner were Mrs. J. H. Lanning and Mrs. R. H. Gates.

S. G. Winstead, Jr. of Washington, D. C. is spending several days in Roxboro visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Winstead.
