Miss Shotwell Marries Local Man Thursday

A wedding characterized by beauty and simplicity was solemnized Thursday afternoon, Oct. 5, at two o'clock when Miss Alma Shotwell became the bride of Wallace Ira Tingen at her home.

The vows were spoken before the Rev. J. L. Cojey, pastor of the North Roxboro Baptist church.

For the occasion the living room in which the ceremony was performed was decorated with an effective arrangement of lilies, dahlias, roses, smilax and ferns.

The bride and groom entered the room together. There were no attendants. Only close friends and relatives were present.

The bride was attired in an advanced autumn costume of Moss-Leaf green, with fur bolero, and accessories of brown. A shoulder corsage of pink rosebuds completed her costume.

The bride is the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Shotwell of Roxboro, route 2. She is a graduate of the Bethel Hill high school class of 1937. Mr. Tingen is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Tingen and is also a graduate of Bethel Hill high school class of 1936. He holds a position at Collins and Aikman.

The couple left immediately after the ceremony for a short wedding trip. On their return they will reside at the home of the bride's parents.

Miss Gentry Is Honored By Her Sister-In-Law

Honoring Miss Edna Gentry, who is her sister-in-law, Mrs. Fred Gentry entertained at a Bingo party at her home on Morgan street Tuesday night. The game was played at four tables and high score award for the evening went to Miss Mary Jones, who received bath powder.

The honoree, who is to be married to John Harkey on Saturday, October 21, also received a gift from the hostess, silver flatware in her chosen pattern. Miss Gentry, a popular bride-elect has had several parties given for her and another is planned for Saturday of this week when Mesdames Bert Dark and Clinton Pleasants will be joint hostesses for Miss Gentry.

Present at Tuesday evening's affair were the honoree and Misses Ella Gentry, Anna Katherine Moore, Ethel Moore, Huldo Gentry, Mildred Bass, Marion Buchanan, Dorothy Riley, Dorothy Warren, Annette Cushwa, Mary Jones, and Evelyn Umstead and Mesdames Bert Dark, Sam Oliver, Jr., Preston Satterfield, Jr., Clinton Pleasants and Elvin Gunn.

After the games Mrs. Gentry served a delicious salad course and coffee.

Socialite Waitress

Carol Woodman, foster daughter of Dr. James Angell, president emeritus of Yale university, is working as a waitress in a Krumville, Pa., restaurant—and likes the job. She left Smith college recently, informing her parents of the move, and intends to stay on the job and earn her own way. Dr. and Mrs. Angell talked things over with Carol with the result that they gave their consent to her keeping the job until September 1.

ers running attack, now a defense for passes must be built. Duke has looked good and bad in defensive skirmishes against the freshmen this week. The Pitt aerials have connected all too well.

It will be the Blue Devils first invasion of Pittsburgh. The other three games have been played at Durham, Pitt winning 52-7 in the stadium dedication game at Durham in 1929, by 10-0 in 1937 and Duke won 7-0 last year. All past games have been in Duke stadium.

many veterans carried over from the 1938 season, and the local Ramblers are looking for good game with some fight in it.

Members of the Roxboro team are anxious to continue their present unscored on record and judging from past performances it is thought they stand a good chance to keep the record clean. A goodly number of Roxboro high school students and older followers of the game will go with the team.

in a 0-0 deadlock. So even the law of average favors the Deacons.

Drastic measures have been in order in the State gridiron camp this week as the mentors strove to build a defense that could stop the smashing onslaughts of the mighty Wake backfield, which has played havoc with enemy lines all season.

Coach Peahead Walker's forward wall probably will be much improved Saturday with the return of Louis Trunzo, powerful guard, who was injured in the Carolina game.

The Deacons aren't the only team which sports all-star material. State's Ty Coon, ranked as one of the outstanding tackles in the nation, will hold a portion of the spotlight. Coon rose to great heights last week against the Clemson Tigers, on many occasions breaking through to throw the Bengal backs for losses.
